REVENUE BOARD ON A HUNT FOR SCHOOL WASTE

Two Officials Get Long Quizzing.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

Gov. Emmerson's revenue committee indicated clearly, by its questioning last night of Mrs. W. E. Hefferan, school trustee, and School Auditor Harry H. Brackett, that it believes the board of education is wasting millions of dollars.

"I have been told that the board is wasting an average of $16,000 a year per building in operation of its buildings," said Samuel Insull at a high point in the questioning. "How many buildings have you?"

"Four hundred," replied Mrs. Hefferan.

"That makes $4,000,000 a year, about half of your total expenditures on operation of buildings," commented Mr. Insull.

High Pay of Custodians.

"Your engineer-custodians get higher compensation than like service in any private business of the country that I know of," said Fred W. Sargent after reading the salary schedule. "The responsibility of these engineer-custodians has been emphasized. For responsibility the locomotive engineer surpasses, I think, your engineer-custodians and the locomotive engineers do not get the salaries you pay."

"I know of nothing comparable to it in private business," interposed Mr. Insull.

"Now, what do these assistant engineers do, whom you also employ?" asked Mr. Sargent.

"I do not know," answered Mrs. Hefferan, who had previously made a speech in which she referred to her eight years of service on the board. She had said that the plant operation of the Chicago schools was the largest in the country.

Refers to Investigation.

"Did not the building managers' association make an investigation of the cost of operating school buildings, and show that perhaps one-third was waste?" asked George F. Nixon.

"When we made our investigation" [between 1927 and 1930], said Harris Keeler of the bureau of public efficiency, "some of these engineer-custodians were just supervisors or overlords who did no work."

"Isn't the business end of your board of education overorganized?" asked Joseph K. Brittain, chairman of the revenue committee. Auditor Brackett hesitated to criticize other departments, and Mrs. Hefferan made a noncommittal comment.

Quotes Myers on Saving.

J. Louis Jacobs, efficiency expert for Mayor Cermak, stepped into the questioning by saying:

"President Myers has said that $10,000,000 a year could be saved on the school expenditures."

"That was at the Mid-Day club meeting, wasn't it?" asked Corporation Counsel William H. Sexton, a member of the revenue committee. Mr. Myers had written a note saying that he could not attend last night's session of the committee at the Union League club but that Mr. Brackett would answer all questions.

Mr. Myers in private conversation has said that if he could run the schools as he does his private business he could save $10,000,000 a year. What was said at the Mid-Day club meeting—a closed affair—may have been without the above qualifications.

The $10,000,000 Discussed.

"Where can that saving be made?" asked Mr. Sargent.

"I do not know what Mr. Myers

THE WALL FLOWERS

Crowds View 'Miraculous' Image on Wall

At 1105 South Ashland avenue stands a three story brick building. Its side wall, covered with age darkened cement, extends along Elburn avenue.

Last night a keen eyed passerby, glancing up at this wall, blank and bleak for years, stopped in wonderment. He spoke to another passerby and pointed. A woman joined the group, then another and another. Each saw what the first passerby had seen. One of the women spoke.

"A miracle has come," she said in an awed tone. "It is the Blessed Virgin Mary."

Figures Dimly Seen on Wall.

On the wall, in actual truth, there loomed out in dim light from the darkness a figure perhaps fifteen feet high. It resembled; even in the view of the most skeptical, a woman holding a baby in her arms. In the view of the pious it was a miraculous likeness to the statues they had seen in their churches.

Through the evening crowds came. Some in the throngs fell on their knees and prayed in the streets. Others only came to look. But when the number grew to 500 or more traffic was blocked. A fire alarm was sounded from the corner and truck company 5 of the 7th battalion responded.

Chief Anderson examined the outline on the wall.

"It is a reflection," he said. "Where it comes from I don't know. But it is not for a fire department to tamper with."

20 Police Sent to Scene.

A little later the Maxwell street police station was notified that the street was completely congested. Twenty policemen were sent to the scene. They, too, looked and wondered. They were told of the firemen's opinion.

They tested it. The detail scattered through the neighborhood and at their requests all the lights in nearby buildings were extinguished. Still the faint, luminous outline remained. It disappeared when a flashlight was turned on it; it reappeared with darkness.

So the police, certain like the firemen that the figure was a reflection of light from somewhere, but not knowing where, contented themselves with ordering the crowd, devotees and curiosity seekers alike, to disperse.

ARMY PIGEON, SHOT, WALKS OR FLIES 700 MILES BACK TO DUTY

Fort Monmouth, N. J., July 14.—[Special.]—Florence Nightingale is a stout hearted member of the defense forces of the United States.

She is only one year old, and her normal weight is 15 ounces, but she belongs to the regular army and her duty is to "carry on."

She and the others were loosed on the top of Lookout Mountain in Tennessee. Nothing was heard of her until this morning when she was found feebly pecking at grains of corn in the lofts here.

One wing had been almost torn away by three gunshot wounds, there was another wound in her breast and the other wing was lacking half its feathers. Her feet were bruised and worn.

Sergt. John Marr, in charge of the lofts, said the wounds were about three weeks old.

"That means Florence was nailed by some hunter after the race started," he said. "She couldn't have flown more than a short distance at a time."

The bird was unable to ascend again after fluttering to earth at the lofts and the experts said she must have made the long journey in flights of perhaps a half mile each. It is possible, he said, that she half walked and half flew a considerable part of the distance.

It is 720 miles from Lookout Mountain so the bird possibly walked 300 miles.

She weighed 15 ounces when she started and less than six ounces today.

Family Is Held for Five Hours by Bandit Pair

Two robbers tied up a family of five with bed sheets and held them prisoners for nearly five hours last night and early this morning until another member of the family returned and routed the intruders in a battle of fists and pistol butts. The bandits took jewelry valued at $2,500 in their flight.

The robbers appeared at the home of Mrs. Emily Mraz, 60 years old, 9322 Prairie avenue, at 10 p. m. She admitted them when they said they had an appointment with her son, Edward, a cafe owner. Once inside, the two men drew pistols and herded Mrs. Mraz, her daughter and son in law, Lillian and John Edwards, and the Edwards' two daughters, Edna, 16 years old, and Eleanor, 14, into a bedroom.

There all five were bound with sheets and pillow covers. Then the bandits ransacked the rooms, taking rings, watches, pins and other pieces of jewelry. This done, they sat down to wait, apparently for the return of Mraz, who, the police were informed, wears costly jewelry and carries a sizable sum of money.

At 2 a. m. Mraz arrived. Hearing his approach, the bandits untied Mrs. Mraz and ordered her at the point of their guns to open the door. She did so and Mraz entered. He said he saw one of the robbers lurking behind his mother and kicked out at him, knocking the gun from his hand.

The other robber came to his companion's aid. In the brief free for all that followed, Mraz had the best of it, and the bandits fled.

WIDOW SHOOTS SELF AND FALLS ON MATE'S GRAVE

Mrs. Selma Gordon, 26 years old, 2321 Washington boulevard, widow of Dr. David Gordon, a physician, went to Waldheim cemetery, near Forest Park, yesterday afternoon, fired a shot into her left side, and fell on her husband's grave.

Caretakers at the cemetery heard the shot and found Mrs. Gordon unconscious. At the Oak Park hospital physicians said she will recover.

Bomb Explosion Damages Drug Store on West Side

A bomb early this morning shattered the front of the drug store of Mandel Salafsky at 939 South Paulina street and broke windows in nearby buildings. Salafsky was summoned by the police from his home at 3146 Franklin boulevard, but he told them he knew of no reason for the attack. The damage was estimated at $1,000.

Stanton Pal Taken for Ride on South Side

The body of a gangster identified by police as Edgar A. Smith, pal of Danny Stanton, Capone lieutenant, and with Stanton facing extradition to Wisconsin to stand trial for the murder of Jack Zuta, was found shortly after 6 o'clock this morning in a small sedan at the rear of 5424 South Park avenue. He had been shot several times through the head.

The identification was made by Sergt. Barney Corcoran of the Woodlawn police, who said Smith apparently had been taken for a ride. On a finger of the dead man was a signet ring bearing the initials "E. A. S." and in his pocket was part of a letter which gave his name.

The license number of the automobile was issued to Hazel Sims, 6311 Greenwood avenue, and police were seeking her to learn what she knows of the murder. Stanton also was sought.

The slaying is believed by the police to have occurred in the neighborhood of 63d street and Champlain avenue where a hat torn by three bullet holes was found about 1 a. m. Shortly before that time, Milton Winfield, colored, 6330 Champlain avenue, heard three shots fired. Looking out, he saw a small car stop. From it ran two men who disappeared in an alley.

A short distance behind was a second automobile containing two men. One of them leaped out and into the first car. According to Winfield, this man seemed to shove an inert body to one side as he took the wheel and drove away.

Smith, with Stanton, was at liberty on $40,000 bond pending the outcome of their appeal against extradition before the Illinois Supreme court. They had lost their fight to escape extradition before both Judge Philip Finnegan and Gov. Emmerson, and on March 20 filed their appeal in the Supreme court.

Boy Slayer's Fate in Hands of the Judge

BY KATHLEEN McLAUGHLIN.

Varner Corry, the impassive, red-haired youth of 15 who on Memorial day shot and killed Policeman Edward Smith in the John Marshall High school, will remain two more weeks in the county jail before learning his fate. Judge Joseph Sabath, after listening yesterday morning to the arguments of attorneys in the case, announced that he would not give his decision until July 28.

DR. ALEX S. HERSHFIELD.

Mute and motionless, the youthful defendant sat behind his attorneys all during the proceeding without a flicker of expression ever crossing his face. He listened without seeming to hear, and looked without seeming to see.

Fired in Fright, Alienist Says.

He did not even raise his eyes when Dr. Alex S. Hershfield, former state alienist, called to the stand by Judge Sabath as a court's witness, treated the defense attorneys to a gratifying surprise by declaring that, in his opinion, it was a panic of fright and not malice that inspired the boy to fire at Smith when the policeman came upon him and two companions in the swimming pool on a day when the school was closed.

Dr. Hershfield's testimony was expected to weigh heavily in consideration of the case by Judge Sabath. There was no jury, this having been waived by the defense.

Some trepidation was shown by Corry's lawyers as Dr. Hershfield took the stand. Samuel Antonow, of defense counsel, took the precaution of insisting that Dr. Hershfield state his qualifications. He did so, citing his medical education at Northwestern university, his twenty-five years of experience as a physician specializing in mental and nervous diseases, his supervision of 25,000 mental cases as state alienist from 1927 to 1929, and his present position on the staffs of various hospitals. He had put young Corry through physical and mental tests at the jail last week, he explained.

Dr. Hershfield Questioned.

Q.—What did you find with respect to his mental condition? A.—That he has an underdeveloped sense of moral values. I do not believe he realizes his present plight or is concerned about his future. But he has normal intelligence. He is neither insane, nor a mental defective.

Q.—Would the present stage of adolescence through which he is passing have any effect on him mentally? A.—It might. Adolescence produces an instability of the emotions, where glandular changes are producing

GERMAN CRISIS SPREADS OVER ALL OF EUROPE

France Stands Pat on Demands.

Europe Refuses Marks

The German financial crisis yesterday began to react throughout the rest of Europe. In nearly all the capitals banks, hotels and railways refused to accept German marks.

All banks in Hungary were closed for three days by a government decree. Several banks suspended operations in Austria, Latvia and Rumania.

Thousands of Germans crossed the Belgian border with German marks, but were unable to convert them into foreign currencies. Other thousands of German tourists were stranded in various parts of Europe.

Foreign Secretary Henderson of Great Britain arrived in Paris to plead with France to ease political terms for loan to Germany.

BY HENRY WALES.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, July 14. — Dr. Hans Luther, president of the German Reichsbank, having obtained from the world bank a three months' extension of the $100,000,000 credit granted by that bank, the American federal reserve bank, the Bank of England, and the Bank of France, returned to Berlin this evening after a record breaking three and one-half hour flight from Basel, Switzerland—a journey of 335 miles.

Dr. Luther rushed to a meeting of the cabinet, at which the Reichsbank's board of trustees was present, and outlined to them the situation resulting from his fruitless conference with the world bank directors, who told him the European powers alone could grant Germany the long term loan asked.

German Crisis Spreads.

Meanwhile dispatches being received here indicated that the German crisis was spreading to all parts of Europe. Hungary has ordered all its banks closed for three days. Closing of various banks was reported from Austria, Latvia, and Rumania, while in many other countries German currency dropped sharply in value or was absolutely refused.

The cabinet session lasted three hours and at 7 o'clock recessed for dinner. At 10 o'clock the meeting was resumed. It continued an hour, when a statement was issued which merely stated that "guiding lines were discussed for decisions to be taken Wednesday afternoon, by which time the present bank holidays shall be ended and normal conditions reëstablished."

Gives Pessimistic Report.

Although close secrecy veiled the discussions it was reliably reported that Dr. Luther confided to the government that France's political demands in return for a loan bring to a deadlock any hope of reaching any agreement with Paris, thereby preventing concerted financial aid from the other interested powers.

Following Dr. Luther's exposé the discussion swung to examination of the possibilities of Germany alone and independently saving itself from bankruptcy and reviving public confidence in the mark.

May Issue More Currency.

The advisability of establishing a complete internal moratorium for an indefinite duration, with the application of strict control over the transfer of capital abroad and the issuance of additional currency to alleviate the shortage of paper money, came up for examination.

While insisting on determination not to resort to inflation, which wrecked the country after the war and during the Ruhr occupation, Reichsbank officials and cabinet members discussed a camouflage scheme to utilize all or part of the billion rentenmarks which are now lying in vaults of the state banks.

The rentenmark was Germany's first currency after the mark was stabilized in 1923 following the world inflation days which wiped out the old mark. More than two billion of these rentenmarks were put into circulation for about a year. Then the Reichsbank absorbed them and issued Reichsmarks, which were, backed by gold and foreign exchange. The rentenmark was backed by five per cent bonds, guaranteed by German agriculture and industry.

The issuance of special emergency currency, called reichsbank geld—a sort of semi-private tender—and also of instituting a so-called LomBardy bank, or glorified national pawnshop entitled to issue currency against goods or property deposited as security, was also discussed.

Although the government communique hinted otherwise, rumors persist that the banks will not reopen on Thursday, but will remain closed until the end of the week, at least as long as the bourse is darkened.

The Reichsbank announced that preparations are under way to insure the payment of semi-monthly salaries which are due July 16 to prevent hardship on workers as far as possible.

Public Calm Over Closing.

Placards bearing the government's decree closing all banks for two days were posted today on the tightly sealed doors of all financial institutions. They created little commotion. Most employes had read in the papers that the institutions had suspended operations, but those who showed up for work were informed by minor officials to report back on Thursday morning, "unless they heard something to the contrary."

It was noon before the government's control over the flight of capital had begun operating at the post-office, and during the morning hours exchange profiteers did a rushing business. They bought sterling at 30.85 marks. This they sold in London, where the pound had climbed to more than 35 marks. At midday, however, all foreign telegraph and money order business ceased and postal savings banks were closed.

Races Called Off.

The first repercussion to the shortage of money was the calling off of the trotting races this afternoon and the Jockey club's cancellation of international races scheduled to begin on Thursday.

Numerous foreign thoroughbreds had arrived for the classics, but the authorities decided that it was useless to hold the races if the public lacked money to bet.

Americans and other tourists are looking out of Germany on every train, fearful of complications over funds. The money stringency is tightening and already there is difficulty in obtaining change for large bills and getting silver money for paper.

German Tourists Stranded.

From Switzerland, Italy, France, and Holland there are loud cries from stranded German tourists, who are unable to get money or are asked extortionate exchange rates to convert marks into lire, francs, and florins.

Already the "hyenas," as the illicit money changers were called in the dread days of the black bourse during the postwar inflation period, are beginning to reappear in hotel lobbies frequented by foreigners and along Unter den Linden, offering as high as five marks for a dollar—a premium of 25 per cent.

Food supplies in the capital have thus far not been interrupted, although middlemen representing the farmers grumbled this morning over not getting cash.

Cattle Dealers Balk.

Cattle dealers even refused to surrender their steers, hogs, and sheep at the slaughter houses until the minister of finance had received a delegation and persuaded them to accept checks or drafts on the promise that they would eventually be paid.

Big butter and egg men from Riga, Latvia, and Tallinn, Estonia, are feeling the crisis since Germany is canceling contracts for dairy produce. Danish and Dutch dealers betrayed extreme reluctance to accept marks in payment, demanding florins and crowns, in view of a probable depreciation of the German money.

President Loebe of the reichstag tonight summoned the council of elders to meet on Friday for a discussion of the advisability of summoning an extraordinary session of the reichstag, but it is learned that most parties prefer leaving the crisis in the cabinet's hands.

Hitler Offers to Step In.

Adolph Hitler, leader of the powerful Fascist party, whose unexpected strength at the polls last September surprised the world, announced tonight that he is willing to assume the responsibility of forming a government alone or with representatives of other leading political factions to save the situation. Hitler's statement reads:

"The Fascists are not surprised at the crisis. It is the unavoidable result of the peace treaties, which are not only disastrous from a political viewpoint but are aimed to destroy Germany economically. Unless the strictest measures are taken the country will inevitably be driven to bolshevism.

"European nations must unite in a common anti-bolshevik combine to avert general catastrophe. At any time my party is ready to take over the constitution of a government strong enough to reorganize the country and avoid the Red chaos which is threatening us. We are willing to take over the job alone or with the others."

This is the first time Hitler has indicated his willingness to work with any other political group. Heretofore he has always stood pat on forming a cabinet alone, if occasion eventually arose.

What France Demands.

France insists on incorporating five political considerations into any agreement, direct or indirect, toward aiding Germany financially, authoritative sources report. These conditions are:

ONE—Abandon the customs truce with Austria.

TWO—Renounce the construction of the second pocket battleship, Lorraine.

THREE—Conclude an eastern Locarno treaty, guaranteeing Poland's frontier the same as the Rhine is safeguarded.

FOUR—Expel Adolf Hitler from the country and dissolve the Fascist party, by force if necessary.

Says Germans Favor Soviets.

It is learned that Premier Laval brought up the last point during his recent conversations with Dr. Luther in Paris, when the French premier pointed out that German industrialists, although claiming to be on the verge of collapse, offered the soviets more advantageous terms to capture contracts than French, British, and other foreign operations could meet, and that the German government, although confessing itself facing bankruptcy, underwrote and guaranteed these contracts, amounting to more than $70,000,000, and allocated the industrialists heavy subsidies to enable them to execute their bids.

Encouraged by American and British support, German government officials tonight reiterated their former pledge to reject any intrusion by the French into the state's sovereignty and to refuse to accede to any political demands from Paris.

Hitler Demand Sugar Coated.

It is said that the French sugar coated the Hitler proposal under the guise that the Bruening government must take measures to prevent accession to power by any firebrands or aggressive factions in order to protect such financial help as might be forthcoming.

Trains from Karlsbad, Marienbad and other Czecho-Slovakian resorts were jammed today with returning Germans, who were forced to terminate vacations when exchange rates dropped from 7.60 Czech crowns to the mark to 4 crowns per mark.

"It meant doubling the price of beer as well as the general cost of living," a stout old Prussian said.

Von Hindenburg to Return.

President von Hindenburg today suddenly changed his mind and announced he would return to Berlin immediately. He is due here tomorrow from his summer home in East Prussia. Yesterday the president said he would remain at Neudeck until the week-end, when Prime Minister MacDonald and Foreign Secretary Henderson are due here.

Ordinary life in Berlin does not reflect the acute situation which the nation faces, except that there is less business activity in the downtown section and fewer people in the streets, and a decrease in the number of purchasers in the larger shops.

The crisis chiefly hits the large element which was about to start on vacation and was suddenly unable to leave the city because of a lack of funds and inability to draw money from banks, obtain advances from employers or borrow from friends, as every one is hanging on to his money.

Movies, theaters, cabarets and dance halls are running regularly, although with a smaller clientele. The Komiker kabaret tonight advertised:

WALL STREET DAZED BY GERMAN CRISIS; MARK TRADING SLOW

New York, July 14.—(AP)—Wall street seemed spellbound today by the phenomenon of all but complete financial paralysis in Germany. As expected, the federal reserve bank announced its willingness to renew its participation in the $100,000,000 loan to the Reichsbank which falls due on Thursday, but there was no indication in high banking circles that a further credit, for which Germany so desperately hopes, will be immediately forthcoming.

New York banks doing extensive business in foreign exchange, unlike many European banks, were not completely refusing to accept German marks, but trading was greatly restricted. Although there was little facts, the affirmations contained in uniformity in quotations, the mark was generally quoted around 21½ cents at the end of the day, off about ½ cent from the average price late yesterday.

HEAVY THINKING BY COP BRINGS MERMAID ASHORE

At 9 o'clock last night Lincoln Park Policeman Philip Jeffers notified all the bathers at the Belmont harbor beach that the bathing curfew had rung.

Everybody left the water but one young woman. Instead of obeying Jeffers, she swam farther out. Treading water she called out:

"If you want me, policeman, you'll have to come and get me."

Policeman Jeffers pondered. If he went into the lake he would get his new blue uniform wet and most of the dignity would drip off him. On the other hand, if one bather could defy the law then hundreds more could do the same. And then it occurred to him that if he simply sat and pondered long enough he would win. So he pondered some more.

At the end of forty-five minutes the curfew scofflaw grew cold and came ashore and made a dash for freedom, but was caught. A man friend stepped in and upbraided Policeman Jeffers. He took them both to the Town Hall police station, charged them with disorderly conduct, and locked them in cells. They are Miss Helena Dana, 23 years old, 6110 Ingleside avenue, and John H. Bennett, 30 years old, 2318 Sheridan road.

THREE PRISONERS DISAPPEAR UNDER EYES OF BAILIFF

Three youths who were ordered into detective bureau cells on Monday were at liberty last night, thereby placing Deputy Bailiff Elmer Gentzel of the Boys' court in a position of embarrassment.

On Monday Bailiff Gentzel, who is a brother of Municipal Judge Robert Gentzel, had marched ten prisoners out of Boys' court on the tenth floor of the police building, intending to deliver them to Martin Mulligan, keeper of the lockup on the floor above.

Arrived on that floor, Bailiff Gentzel counted the prisoners. There were only seven. He searched the building in vain. The three prisoners had gone. Last night the police were hunting them.

The fugitives are Charles Brown, 21 years old, 508 East 74th street; Arthur Fox, 21, of 5549 South Union avenue, and Carl Walther, 17, of 7466 South Chicago avenue. Brown and Fox were accused of a radio burglary and Walther of stealing an automobile.

AUTO WASHER DIES OF BURNS.

Russie Foster, colored, 4406 Prairie avenue, was fatally burned last night when an automobile he was washing in a garage at 3066 North Kedzie avenue caught fire and his clothing was ignited.

HUNGARY CLOSES ALL BANKS; CRISIS PERILS AUSTRIA

Big Vienna House Shuts Without Explanation.

BY EMIL MAASS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

VIENNA, July 14.—The financial crisis in Germany is spreading to Austria and Hungary, and as a result the Hungarian government early this morning ordered all banks closed today, tomorrow, and Thursday. The Austrian Mercurbank today closed its doors of its own accord. It merely issued a statement saying that the bank will remain shut until further notice.

The Hungarian government took its decision at 3 o'clock this morning after a long conference with Ferenz Popovitch, president of the Hungarian National bank. The government later issued a communique declaring that it is not the situation itself in Hungary that caused this action but the fear which is spreading in Hungary as a result of the crisis in Germany. The measure is explained as a sort of quarantine against a similar crisis in Hungary.

Salaries Are Guaranteed.

The Hungarian National bank has guaranteed the Hungarian industrialists money to pay salaries to the workers.

The Austrian Mercurbank has paid out to depositors since the crash of the Darmstaedter und National bank in Germany more than $500,000. The board of directors appeared before Chancellor Buresch and informed him that while the bank is willing to pay all debts, it is necessary to ask a six months' moratorium.

The Austrian National bank today declared its willingness to give the Mercurbank an extraordinary credit of $1,000,000 as an advance on a $3,000,000 credit. A plan for the reconstruction of the bank has been worked out by Finance Minister Redlich, which will be presented tomorrow to the cabinet. It is reported the bank will get a three months' moratorium. However, it will open its counters on Friday to pay small depositors.

The Mercurbank is a sister bank to the Darmstaedter und National bank. It was founded in 1862 to aid in the financing of the Austrian timber industry. Gov. Bodenheimer of the Mercurbank was also a vice president of the Darmstaedter und National bank. No Mercurbank stocks were handled on the stock exchange today.

Rumanian Bank Crashes.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BUCHAREST, Rumania, July 14.—The Banca Dacia of Jassy declared itself bankrupt this afternoon after closing its counters at noon. The board of directors issued a statement, according to which the bank will not be able to pay to its depositors $1,000,000.

Danzig Limits Withdrawals.

DANZIG, July 14.—(AP)—Danzig banks today paid only 10 per cent on checks offered at their windows, and only 10 per cent of deposits were permitted to be withdrawn.

The situation created a serious handicap upon shipments, especially of coal. A number of steamers were held up here and at Gdynia, Poland, because they were unable to cash checks on Danzig banks to meet payments on port dues.

Pomerania and Upper Silesia were considerably embarrassed by the German banking situation.

Two Go Under in Latvia.

RIGA, Latvia, July 14.—(AP)—The Riga International bank and the Bank of Libau suspended payments today as a result of the collapse of the Darmstaedter und National Bank of Berlin. The Latvian cabinet decided to guarantee deposits in Latvian currency, but asserted it could not extend any assistance to depositors whose accounts are in foreign currency.

Thousands of Tourists Stranded.

COPENHAGEN, Denmark, July 14.—(AP)—Several thousand German tourists were stranded in hotels today because chauffeurs and shopkeepers refused to accept marks.

Switzerland Refuses Marks.

BASEL, Switzerland, July 14.—(AP)—A number of visitors from Germany were embarrassed today by the refusal of exchange shops to buy their marks. The mark dropped yesterday from a normal rate of 123.50 in Swiss francs to 112 and railroad exchange offices closed their wickets.

TRAINS TO GERMANY JAMMED AS NATIVES RUSH FOR HOMELAND

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PRAGUE, Czecho-Slovakia, July 14.—Germans, Austrians, Hungarians and other nationals stormed the railroad stations at the Czecho-Slovakian summer resorts today in an effort to get home as quickly as possible. It was reminiscent of the days of June, 1914, after the assassination of the Austro-Hungarian Crown Prince Ferdinand at Sarajevo, and a few days before the ultimatum was sent to Serbia.

Profiteering in railroad tickets is going on on a broad scale. Thousands of persons are standing in front of the railway ticket offices, battling to get ahead and to get into the packed trains. Trains coming into the Czecho-Slovakian spas are practically empty. All exchange offices refuse to accept German marks and Hungarian pengos, but they accepted Austrian schillings.

The rush for home was the cause of a tragedy to Franz Werner Schuette, well known Berlin engineer, who, with his wife, started for home by automobile when alarming reports arrived from Berlin. He was in a nervous and sick condition, and near the village of Krajn, Jugo-Slavia, he lost control of the car, which plunged down a slope. Both he and his wife are in a dying condition.

GERMANS PAWN AUTOS AND GEMS FOR BELGIAN CASH

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BRUSSELS, July 14.—Panic broke out today among German summer guests along the Belgian season, especially at Ostend and Blakenberghe. Long lines of German men and women stood at the foreign exchange windows of banks trying to get Belgian currency for German bank notes. They were politely but firmly refused. Literally thousands of Germans today poured out of hotel suites, leaving their bills unpaid. They pawned jewelry, motor cars, luxurious wraps and gowns and even pet dogs to raise enough money to get back to Germany.

LIGHTNING KILLS GIRL DRIVING CATTLE

Spearfish, S. D., July 14.—(AP)—Lightning caused the death of Miss Doris Marx, 14, of Strool, while she and a boy companion were driving cattle in a rainstorm yesterday. The horse she was riding was killed and her companion was slightly stunned.

ELECTRICAL GROUP FOR 1933 WORLD'S FAIR

CASTLE TELLS HOW PRESIDENT HELPED REICH

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 14.—[Special.]—From out of the critical situation in Europe, Washington today plucked several optimistic factors.

WILLIAM R. CASTLE JR.

Acting Secretary of State William R. Castle Jr., announced the receipt today of a telegram from Ambassador Edge in Paris, relaying the opinion of the French government that conditions in Germany had somewhat eased up.

Instead of being required to make a regular monthly payment tomorrow of 236,700,000 marks, press dispatches stated that an agreement had been reached whereby Germany would have to pay only some 61,000,000 reichsmarks into the Bank of International Settlements and would have 36,000,000 of these immediately released to her.

Some Crumbs of Comfort.

And, throughout, comfort was found in the thought that, even though things had not gone as first planned, they would have been much worse today had the United States, through the President's debt holiday plan, not gone to the rescue.

Secretary Castle enunciated this feeling today. He pointed out that Germany would undoubtedly have been unable to meet her payments, due tomorrow, of an amount equivalent to $31,000,000.

Germany's default, Mr. Castle declared, would have spelled the breakdown of the Young plan and would have precipitated an international crisis, with no one knows how far reaching reactions on the part of creditor countries.

Though the Hoover plan did not have the full effect that was originally hoped for it, it is felt here in Washington that at least it has changed what might have been a dangerous political situation involving all Europe into a banking situation pretty well isolated in Germany.

Blame Laid on French.

That the President's proposal did not fully succeed is being blamed first of all on the psychology of uncertainty which superseded the first favorable reaction and for which the French reluctance to fall in with the proposal is held responsible.

The overextension of credit on the part of many German banks, the practice of Germany of conducting foreign trade on long credits and through the issue of bills of acceptance, and the distrust of Germans in the stability of the mark, inherited from eight years ago, which led to large purchases of foreign exchanges within Germany, are three of the factors which brought on the critical situation, it is explained.

Contract Signed

The general contract for erection of the fifth group of buildings for the World's Fair was signed yesterday. The buildings, to be erected by W. B. O'Neill, will constitute the electrical group. They will be located on Northerly island, south of 16th street, and will be of modernistic design. The group will consist of three units, one devoted to radio, one to communications, and the third to power generation, distribution and utilization.

JUDGE SENTENCES 3 SLAYERS TO 199 YEARS IN PRISON

Sentences of 199 years each were imposed by Judge Joseph B. David yesterday in the Criminal court on three Negroes charged with the murder of Newton Pirtle, garage foreman at 4944 Harrison street.

The men sentenced were Henry Davis, 19 years old; David Allen, 21 years old, and Howard Hunter, 26 years old. Hunter and Davis had been employed by Pirtle. The murder, done with a sledge hammer, followed the discharge of Davis.

The men waived a jury trial and pleaded not guilty. Assistant State's Attorney George Lavin asked for the death penalty, but Judge David declared he would take into consideration that the defendants, by waiving a jury trial, had expedited justice.

"But I'll make sure that these cold blooded murderers are never returned to society," the judge declared and pronounced the 199 year sentences, which are believed to be a record for length in the Criminal court.

U. S. MAY TAKE LEVIATHAN FROM PRIVATE HANDS

New York, July 14—(AP)—The Leviathan, the world's largest ship, may be repossessed temporarily by the government, which acquired it from Germany when the United States entered the world war.

Paul W. Chapman, president of the United States lines, was reported today to be ready to ask that the government take such action to help his company out of temporary financial difficulties.

It was reported, however, that the International Mercantile Marine company may make an offer to take over the lines.

STIMSON LEAVES DUCE WITH SMILE AND A SALUTE

Rides Out of Italy with Royal Honors.

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ROME, July 14.—In Premier Mussolini's special salon and sleeping coaches, which were placed at his disposal by the Italian government, Secretary of State and Mrs. Stimson and their suite left Rome at 3 o'clock this afternoon for Paris, with a final burst of lyric farewells and red roses.

"Good-by," smiled the secretary, raising his arm in Mussolini's Roman salute to Foreign Minister Dino Grandi, while Mrs. Stimson blew kisses to the Eternal City at the end of their week's visit.

Mussolini Sends Orchids.

As a final gift, Il Duce sent Mrs. Stimson a huge basket of orchids and to Secretary Stimson he sent a large autographed photograph of himself as a memento of their "cordial and satisfactory interviews."

Mr. Stimson left Rome with something of a Roman triumph in cordiality and attention. He was ushered into the station, not through the ordinary entrance, but through the red plush and gilt upholstered royal hallway and entrance especially reserved for blue-blooded guests of Rome.

Foreign Minister Grandi; his aid, Minister Taliani, many other foreign officials, Ambassador and Mrs. John W. Garrett, and the entire staffs of the American embassy and consular were at the station to see him off.

In Beaming Humor.

Secretary Stimson was in beaming humor. At the station he had another final chat with Sig. Grandi, at which, the foreign minister's spokesman said, the last touch of complete harmony of views between the two statesmen was established.

The two coaches which were reserved for the secretary by Italian forethought were profusely decorated with red roses. The crowds at the station set up a round of cheers as the train pulled out.

Something like a entente cordiale between the United States and Italy has been established by the secretary's visit here, according to the press tonight, which hails the secretary in enthusiastic and flattering terms as a great diplomat and an amiable friend of Italy.

Stimson Issues Statement.

Mr. Stimson spent all morning at the American embassy sending and receiving piles of code messages. Just before he left he issued the following statement:

"I have had conversations with both the chief of the government and Foreign Minister Grandi, at which matters which concern our two countries have been discussed fully and frankly with the utmost friendliness. I shall return to America with a far better understanding of the viewpoint of the government of Italy than I could have acquired in any other way.

"From the moment when we set foot on Italian soil, Mrs. Stimson and I have been treated with the utmost kindness and hospitality, and beauties of nature and art which have been shown to us remain indelibly impressed upon our memories. The vision of the illuminated Forum and the capitol will never be forgotten.

"Memory of Kindness."

"But beyond even these, we shall bear away with us the memory of kindness expressed to us not only by the Italian government but by her people everywhere which had convinced us of the essential sympathy which exists between the people of Italy and America. This common understanding augurs well for the future relations of the two countries."

For this praise of Italy and the linking up of the ideals and aims of Fascist Italy and those of America, Secretary Stimson was given a full and flowery return tonight.

The newspaper Giornale d'Italia says Mr. Stimson has had such amiable sentiments for Italy and the Italian government as to justify the pride and satisfaction of all Italians who find in Mr. Stimson's words an incentive to hope for the success of the work which the American minister has undertaken.

"Mr. Stimson has that clearness of vision, honesty in dealing and rapidity of execution which characterize modern Italy," the paper concludes, "and so, we are just like the Americans."

VILLAGE VIGILANTES SHOOT ROBBERS OF BANK; GANG SEIZED

Fleeing from the First State Bank of Millington, Ill., yesterday with $1,300, three Chicago bank robbers ran into a pair of quick shooting vigilantes at Newark, the next village south on the Starved Rock trail. The three were captured and the loot was recovered.

With automatic rifles procured from the Farmers State bank of Newark, the vigilantes, Thor Vogen, general store keeper, and Dr. F. C. Henninger, the village physician, poured a hail of lead into the bandit car as it swept past. Jack Sullivan, 40 years old, was stunned by a scalp wound and Thomas Harper, 30, was shot in the back. Jerry Fitzgerald, 32, the driver, escaped injury when the car left the road and overturned in a field.

A posse of seventy villagers surrounded the field while Sheriff Martin Hexell advanced with gun drawn on Sullivan and Harper, who were helpless. Fitzgerald was found skulking in the shrubbery beside the Lutheran church. A sack containing the loot was found in the field. Photographs and finger prints of the three prisoners were forwarded to Chicago police by air mail last night.

Shortly before midnight a detective bureau squad arrested Mrs. Helen Fitzgerald, 555 Surf street, described as the wife of one of the robbers, and Mrs. Anna Imms, 543 Arlington place, alleged to be the sweetheart of Harper. They also took Patrick Corbett, his wife, and Miss Ruby Cosmo, 525 Fullerton parkway, into custody.

PARK RIDGE MAN ENDS LIFE.

James A. Wilson, 55 years old, 806 South Crescent avenue, Park Ridge, committed suicide in the basement of his home last night by shooting himself in the head. He had been despondent over financial difficulties, according to the police.

BOY SLAYER'S FATE IN HANDS OF THE JUDGE

Decision Is Postponed Until July 28.

marked differences as an individual passes from boyhood to manhood.

An anxious wrinkle eased out from between Antonow's eyes. He leaned against the rail of the witness box and put a long, hypothetical question covering the facts in the case, asking what emotion probably would animate an unnamed boy suddenly surprised in the act of trespassing by a policeman.

The Instinct of Fear.

"In such a situation," answered Dr. Hershfield, "with a boy of the history of Varner Corry (that is, of good reputation and with no history of previous unlawful acts), I would say that the sudden appearance of the policeman would so paralyze the judgment of this hypothetical boy that he would act on the primitive instinct of fear in shooting the man.

"To nearly all boys, a policeman in uniform is not a protective, but an evil force—some one who may arrest him. In this case, with this boy, it was either fight or flight. He was naked, just coming out of the pool. He couldn't run. Therefore, he snatched up the gun, the only weapon at hand, as a rat, cornered, would use his teeth. If the revolver hadn't been there, he would probably have submitted to arrest."

"Would the fact that he carried the weapon in with him when he went to swim in the pool influence your opinion?" Judge Sabath asked.

"No," was the reply, "because Varner tells me he was in the habit of going hunting with his father, and had used firearms before. No malicious purpose appears here in connection with the gun."

Summing up the case, Defense Attorney Ransom Walker argued no intent either of murder or of manslaughter had been proved by the state. Attorney Antonow emphasized the unblemished record of Varner before the shooting, winding up in a burst of drama that reduced both himself and Mrs. Corry to tears.

"I am glad that we are to leave this case in your honor's hands," he concluded, his voice breaking with emotion. "That we are to have a sane consideration of the matter involved. Are we to be humans, or are we to be like beasts of old, and still demand our pound of flesh?"

"This is not a pleasant duty for the state's attorney nor for his representatives," Prosecutor Harry J. Busch asserted in winding up the case for the state. "But we represent society. The eyes of the entire nation are focused on this little court room, where this matter is being decided."

Attorney Walker was on his feet at this, shouting objections. Judge Sabath admonished both defense lawyers not to interrupt the assistant state's attorneys, and said he would see that the record was kept clear of prejudicial matter.

"Counsel has told us," continued Busch, "that this was a childish prank, when Varner Corry stole this revolver. I suppose it was also a childish prank, when he purchased from a store deadly bullets to fill it. And another childish prank when he indulged in target practice with tin cans in the basement of his home. Probably tin cans were used because there weren't any human targets handy."

There was another outburst from the Corry lawyers. Varner sat like a graven image. His mother was weeping.

"It is not so much a matter of guilt or innocence in this case," went on Busch, indicating that the state did not desire the death penalty. "It is a question of what is best for society. Counsel has asked that you send this boy back to his home. Yes! To the home where his own father permits him to play around with this beautiful toy, state's exhibit No. 1 [snatching up the revolver that killed Smith].

"The state does not recommend any particular penalty in this case. The state merely seeks the example to society that your honor can give. I have but one request to make: that your honor be not swayed by sympathy for this boy, nor even for the widow of the dead man. That you do not give us a pound of flesh, as it has been called, but that you only enforce the law to the extent that society will be benefited."

Yesterday was the second day of the trial. All evidence in the case was received in a little more than three hours on Monday. Judge Sabath adjourned court at that time to await the report of Dr. Hershfield, whom he had appointed, and the closing arguments.

WINS DIVORCE

GINGER ROGERS.

Dallas, Tex., July 14.—(AP)—The Dallas Times-Herald says Ginger Rogers, movie actress, was granted a divorce here Saturday from E. J. Culpepper, Dallas vaudeville actor.

On the witness stand the actress testified she was married at the age of 17 without her mother's consent. "I married the defendant relying on his representations that he was a sober, hard working man, with theatrical connections and that he could make a great actress out of me," she testified. They married in New Orleans March 25, 1929, and lived together three months, she told the court. During the time they lived together, Miss Rogers complained, her husband often became intoxicated and would take her money and gamble with it.

LEST THE WORLD FORGET, FRANCE SHOWS HER ARMY

Parade on Bastille Day Depicts Nation's Glory.

BY EDMOND TAYLOR.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, July 14.—Just in case anybody had forgotten that France had an army, or was an empire, the government today put on the gaudiest exhibition of military pageantry and imperial pomp seen since the war.

It was the annual Bastille day parade up the Champs Elysees. This generally is just a formal review but this year, on account of the Colonial exposition, it was an impressive evocation of the history of France's expansion beyond the seas.

Soldiers, who during the last 200 years have been carved out bit by bit from the far flung fragments of the second largest empire in the world, marched past the cheering thousands, depicting in their uniforms successive epochs of France's colonial epic.

Grim Blue Coated Poilus.

And behind them, and above them, marched or flew the soldiers who are going to preserve that empire—grim blue coated poilus, with their bayonets and gas masks, sinister rumbling tanks, speedy motorized machine gun squads, heavy artillery drawn by the most efficient means modern ingenuity can devise, and squadron after squadron of rocket swift bombing planes.

In the reviewing stand, under the greatest monument to the glory of French arms—Napoleon's Arc de Triomphe—was mustered all the gold braid of the army. Gen. Maxime Weygand, whose victory over the soviets in Poland won for France her strongest ally; Gen. Henri E. Gouraud, the one armed war hero; Marshal Henri Petain, the last of the war time marshals, and Marshal Lyautey, who saved France's African empire. At their head was President Doumer, who gave five sons to the fatherland, and at their feet were the remains of an unidentified young man who gave the only life he had and who did not see much gold braid this side of the war before his death.

Like Goose Stepping Germans.

Despite a drizzling rain, the crowd was perhaps the largest since the famous victory parade in 1919. Peace and rumors of peace, disarmament, and depression apparently had not cooled the enthusiasm of the man in the street for a good old fashioned military show. A show it certainly was—suggestive of the great goose stepping revues of the German imperial army before the war, but colored by French genius for historical pageantry.

First the red trousered zouaves of 1914, who fought so heroically at Charleroi and the Marne. Then the Tonkinese riflemen, the Madagascar infantry, the Tonkinese marines in their straw helmets, the black troops from Senegal, the fierce Spahis with their flowing bournouses, the Algerian grenadiers, the 1330 royal artillerymen of Louis XVI., in their cocked hats and white leggings, and a regiment in the uniforms of the French troops who served in Canada in 1730. After them followed representatives of the various branches of the French army and navy of today, and the flags of the disbanded war regiments.

Every new appearance was greeted with wild shouts and cheers.

FACTOR BEATEN IN FIRST FIGHT ON EXTRADITION

John [Jake the Barber] Factor yesterday lost his preliminary fight against extradition to England where he is accused of defrauding British investors of $7,000,000 when U. S. Commissioner Edwin K. Walker overruled a motion to quash the charge on a legal technicality.

E. K. WALKER.

Factor's counsel, Senator Otis F. Glenn and Attorney David D. Stansbury, contended that the former Halsted street barber should be released because it is no crime in Illinois to receive money knowing it has been fraudulently obtained, which is the charge on which England is seeking extradition.

The treaty between United States and Great Britain, the lawyers argued, provides that an offense is not extraditable unless the crime charged is a crime in both countries. In the absence of a law in Illinois against the offense with which Factor is charged in England, he should be discharged, his lawyers told the commissioner.

Commissioner Walker overruled the motion, however. Senator Glenn declared that he was "greatly surprised at the ruling."

Factor's petition to be admitted to bail will be argued next Monday. The government has indicated that the alleged swindler will probably be released on bail. He has been in the custody of a deputy marshal and has been allowed comparative freedom to go and come as he pleases.

The hearing of the evidence against Factor will probably be delayed for some time, it was indicated.

ETERS MAKE GREETER OF 'GREETER' GAW

Applaud His Plans to [illegible] City's Guests.

[illegible] Gaw, official back slapper and hand artist for a busy [illegible] last night divulged [illegible] formula for greeting visitors, spoken of in hushed [illegible] for everything.

[illegible] when the visitor, be [illegible] chemical of the King of [illegible] Greeter of the Third Truth [illegible], the traveling salesman, [illegible] on the 10 o'clock local from [illegible] station red cap will be his [illegible].

[illegible]ster! It sure is great to [illegible] visit this great midwestern [illegible] municipal emissary will say. [illegible] he will find it difficult to [illegible] the Kentucky accent of Mr. [illegible]. It will be the heart speak-

Just the Cab Driver.

[illegible] cab driver will greet [illegible]. His greeting will not be [illegible] and ready voice of the taxi-[illegible] fact and fiction, but that of [illegible] Gaw's city aids.

"I beg your pardon, but there [illegible] a more perfectly marvelous hos-[illegible] this great city that I cannot [illegible] a ladies or a4vise one. Per-[illegible] drive through our great sys-[illegible] boulevards would aid you in [illegible]."

[illegible] on every person with [illegible] visitor comes in contact, [illegible] perhaps the customers with [illegible] does business, will greet him [illegible] arms. From hotel clerks [illegible] maids and from waitresses [illegible] little bell hop who carries the [illegible] in and gingerals, the greet-[illegible] will be of warm welcome. A [illegible] will be of aid, although Mr. [illegible] over the fact as nonessen-[illegible].

During the next day the process [illegible] be renewed. The glad cry of [illegible] will change to a sorrowing [illegible], and when the bewildered visi-[illegible] on the eastern express the [illegible] will wave a handkerchief and [illegible] contemplate his tip.

Greeters Initiate Gaw.

Initiation of the Gaw formula [illegible] night was like carrying coals to [illegible]. For "Greeter" Gaw was [illegible] the greeters and the greeters [illegible] greeting Gaw. The greeters, [illegible] prefer to be known as the Chi-[illegible] hotel greeters, initiated Mr. Gaw [illegible] their organization and made him [illegible] a guest in fact as well as name. [illegible] included his chief, Mayor [illegible]. The gathering was held in [illegible] Bismarck hotel.

"Greeter" Gaw was their guest at [illegible] monthly meeting and told of the [illegible] of Chicago.

[illegible] entered the meeting room [illegible] conclusion of the Lord's prayer. [illegible] dressed in sports clothes of brown and white, with here and there a touch of color.

About the City's Kiddies.

"Gentlemen," Mr. Caw told the silent greeters, "I love this great city. I wish to tell the world of our kiddies, our schools for our kiddies, and the teachers in the schools for our kiddies. I wish to tell of the 3,000 acres of parks for our kiddies' pleasure and health."

There was repeated applause as Mr. Gaw went on to detail the book of wonders that would be given to each guest. Each book will be autographed personally by Mr. Gaw. Exclamations of "Marvelous" and "Just wonderful!" at appropriate moments permitted Mr. Gaw to wipe his brow and pause for breath.

The plan was presented and approved. The greeters bade adieu to George D. [Greeter] Gaw, and he bustled forth for greeting patuses not for night or sleep.

ROBBER SHOOTS BANKER.

White Bear Lake, Minn., July 14.—(AP)—H. A. Warner Jr., First State bank cashier, was shot in the shoulder today as he grappled with a robber, who fled with between $1,000 and $1,500 in a holdup. He will recover.

DUNES HIGHWAY TO MOVE AUTOS AT 40 MILE CLIP

Indiana Speeds Traffic to Cut Accidents.

BY HAL FOUST.

The Indiana state police on weekends starting next Saturday will enforce a minimum speed limit of forty miles an hour on the Dunes highway, U. S.-12, between Gary and Michigan City. The announcement was made yesterday by Lieut. C. W. Wilson, in command over that section.

"Slow drivers," he said, "are indirectly responsible for dozens of accidents every week-end, some of them causing personal injuries and all too many of them resulting in deaths. Those who want to travel less than forty miles an hour will be directed to use other roads."

Will Keep Cars in Line.

With the enforcement of this minimum speed limit, another drastic regulation will be put into effect in the effort to move traffic with safety. Motorists will be forced to stay in line. Any driver overtaking and passing another machine will be arrested and prosecuted on a charge of reckless driving. This will make forty miles an hour the maximum as well as the minimum speed limit.

According to the Chicago Motor club this experiment in Indiana is the first attempt at such exacting regulations of traffic in the middle west. The closest comparison is the regulation in the Holland tunnel under the Hudson river at New York, where cars are required to go in one lane and maintain designated speed for the under water trip.

Busiest Two Lane Road.

The Dunes highway between Gary and Michigan City is recognized as the busiest two lane rural pavement in the United States. It is the route to Chicago from New York and Detroit, and in the summer is traveled heavily by Chicagoans visiting Michigan resorts. A relief highway, four lanes wide, is under construction, connecting with a forty foot pavement in Michigan, but this will not be finished until late in 1932.

EX-OFFICIAL OF WAUKEGAN FOUND DEAD IN GARAGE

At 9:30 a. m. yesterday James H. Marseilles, former city treasurer of Waukegan, left his home, presumably to hold a conference with Mayor Peter Peterson concerning an alleged shortage of $3,785 in his accounts, which the Waukegan city council had discussed at a meeting the previous night.

At 11 a. m. Mr. Marseilles was found dead in his car behind closed garage doors. The motor was warm.

Members of Mr. Marseilles' family attributed his death to heart disease, but the family physician, Dr. J. E. Walters, expressed belief that carbon monoxide poisoning from motor fumes was the cause. Mr. Marseilles, who was 60 years old, was city clerk of Waukegan for twenty years and held the city treasurer's office for two years, retiring last April.

Ileana and Prince Plan Honeymoon in Germany

BUCHAREST, Rumania, July 14.—(AP)—A dreamy castle in the hills of southern Germany is to shelter the honeymoon of Princess Ileana and Archduke Anton late this month. Castle Achberg, near Munich, has been presented to the betrothed pair by King Carol and Princess Ileana's relative, Prince Friedrich von Hohenzollern, as a wedding present.

Women and 2 Children Die From Automobile Accidents

Chicago's traffic fatalities were increased by four yesterday when two women, one apparently about 75 years old; a girl of 5, and a boy of 14 died as a result of injuries.

Police last evening were attempting to identify the 75 year old woman, who died at the county hospital after suffering a skull fracture from a fall in Douglas boulevard at Sawyer avenue when she attempted to avoid being struck by an automobile.

The driver of the car, John Smuczynski, 357 South Kostner avenue, took her to the hospital and was questioned but not held by the police. No clew to the identity of the woman, who was clad in a black dress, could be discovered.

The other victims of accidents were:

Peggy Jane Trevillian, 2104 South 49th court, Cicero, who died at the Frances Willard hospital from injuries suffered Monday when she was struck by an automobile while playing in the street near her home. Edward Kobart, 1907 South 50th court, Cicero, the driver of the car, was exonerated at the inquest yesterday. He said the child had run directly in front of his car while he was too close to avoid her.

Felix Kasphniwicz, 6425 South Knox avenue, who died last night in the Holy Cross hospital of injuries suffered at 2:45 p. m. when a truck, driven by August Host, 5023 South Loomis street, ran over him at 63d street and Cicero avenue. Host told the Woodlawn police he struck the boy in trying to avoid a street car. He was released.

Mrs. Olga Hein, 23 years old, 4322 North Mason avenue, died at the Belmont hospital of injuries suffered when she was struck by an automobile at Mason and Montrose avenues. The driver, Philip Boons, 4446 North Melvina avenue, was held.

FOUR CAPTAINS BEFORE JURY IN GRAFT INQUIRY

Four captains of the Chicago police force appeared last evening before the special grand jury investigating crime and graft and testified concerning the size of their bank accounts and the sources of their income.

They were Michael Grady of the Kensington station, Thomas Duffy of the Sheffield avenue station, James Allman of the police school of instruction, and Willard Malone, who is assigned temporarily to the detective bureau.

Neither the foreman of the grand jury, A. J. Farmar, nor Assistant State's Attorneys Charles J. Mueller and Charles Lounsbury would discuss the captains' testimony. It is understood, however, that they were asked to detail their financial transactions for a period of five years and that their testimony will be compared with information gathered in other channels.

All the captains, as they left the grand jury room, said they had answered all questions put to them. Commanders of other police districts are to be summoned tonight to give similar information.

REVENUE BOARD BEGINS HUNTING SCHOOL WASTE

Members Hint Millions Are Tossed Away.

had in mind," replied Auditor Brackett.

Mrs. Hefferan suggested several possible ways to save money, before she finally surmised that Mr. Myers probably had chiefly in mind the cost of constructing new school buildings. On that she estimated that the board might save from $3,000,000 to $5,000,000 a year.

Apparently unable to find out where the school trustees thought millions could be saved in the operation of the schools, the commitee pried in here and there. Mr. Keeler supplied some information which appeared to interest the committeemen.

What Keeler Found Out.

"On the cost of operating the school plants, not all of my information is hearsay," he said. "In our investigation in 1927 and extending to the spring of 1928, I personally visited about 50 schools. Some of these had unneeded janitors and repeatedly I was told that the janitors had been sent out with instructions to put them to work. They have an eight hour day, but worked only four hours.

"The overtime system of the engineer-custodians is an expensive arrangement," Mr. Keeler went on. "When they work any overtime, even five minutes, they get $3 an hour and the minimum of overtime is four hours."

"Do you mean that if a load of coal was being shoveled in and it took 10 minutes overtime, the custodian-engineer would get $3 an hour and pay for a minimum of four hours?" asked Mr. Sargent.

"That is the system," Mr. Keeler replied.

Asks About Regulation.

"It is a union rule," explained Mrs. Hefferan.

"It is a contract between the board of education and the engineer-custodians," said Mr. Keeler. "It is a contract which the board made."

"Can such an arrangement be changed?" asked Mr. Sargent.

"Before we had the present system we had the contract system, by which the engineer-custodian hired his own help," said Mrs. Hefferan.

"I recall the engineer-custodian of the Phillips High school," went on Mr. Keeler. "It so happens that church services are held morning, afternoon and night on Sundays at that school. That gives the custodian-engineer $36 a day for opening the building and 52 weeks a year give him a tidy sum yearly in addition to his regular pay for Sundays only."

Warns of Tax Situation.

After the committee had questioned the school officials for two hours, Mr. Sargent said:

"The local taxes for two years are $100,000,000 more than the German reparations. We are in a serious situation. The world is in the worst crisis in the last 50 years. It is necessary that every one shall aid in getting back to normal times. I think that the teachers are underpaid, but every one must make some sacrifices at present. Has the board done anything to economize up to the present?"

"It has made a beginning," responded Mrs. Hefferan.

"Are they starting to do something all along the line from top to bottom?" persisted Mr. Sargent.

Mrs. Hefferan repeated that a beginning has been made and that the board needs more information.

"Every large private business," said Mr. Insull, "has had to save."

President Emmett Whelan of the county board and County Deputy Controller M. J. O'Connor also appeared before the revenue committee to tell what the county is doing to aid the taxpayers. City Controller M. S. Szmczak and his chief deputy, Victor Petterson, were there to answer for the city. But the hour grew late and they did not get the grilling accorded the school representatives.

All three local governments submitted answers to the questionnaire of the committee. These show that the city had $7,686,000 of unpaid bills on July 1, and $371,000 of unpaid payrolls.

The county on the same date had $7,702,120 in unpaid bills, but did not list the amount of its overdue payrolls. The school board was represented as owing about $10,000,000 in salaries and $2,000,000 in bills.

Representatives of all three governments told of the difficulties in borrowing money on tax anticipation warrants.

"Isn't that due to lack of confidence?" asked Mr. Sargent. Several explanations were made as to the cause of the lack of confidence before Chairman Brittain asked:

"Isn't that lack of public faith due to the failure of the local governments to reduce expenses?"

Mr. Sargent added: "What right has the school board to go ahead spending money for new buildings until it pays off the tax warrants for money spent on buildings already erected?"

These two queries followed a statement by Deputy City Controller Petterson that a bank failed in North or South Dakota because the board had not paid $40,000 in 1928 tax warrants. He said that there is only $960,000 of that issue outstanding.

65,000 Pupils in Portables.

"Are the school facilities such that the board can stop building?" asked Mr. Insull.

"We have 65,000 pupils in portable buildings," commented Mrs. Hefferan.

Both the city and the county representatives were told to appear at an early meeting of the revenue committee with suggestions for cutting expenses. So much emphasis was placed upon that subject that the committee gave the impression that the local governments must first reduce expenses before legislative action can, with propriety, be considered. The committee gave no indication that it is satisfied with the proposed savings announced so far.

Plans for the effective enforcement of the new bail bond laws, particularly with respect to professional bondsmen, were discussed yesterday at a meeting of judges and law enforcement officers in the offices of Chief Justice John J. Sonsteby of the Municipal court.

State's Attorney John A. Swanson offered the following suggestions at the close of the conference, which will be submitted to the bail bond committee of the judges and taken up at the next meeting of the judges:

1. That surety company bonds be accepted on the same basis as cash bonds, as surety companies pay losses promptly and are more reputable than the professional bondsmen. Also, if a surety company representative fails in his duty or does anything unethical the state's attorney and the judges can force his discharge.

2. That forms of schedules be drawn up, including questions which will give the court an opportunity to learn whether the proposed bandsman is a professional bondsman or not.

3. That the present bond department in the Criminal Court building handle examination of all felony bonds and the present bond department of the Municipal court handle all misdemeanor bonds and bonds taken in city cases.

4. That the commissioner of police send out a bulletin setting forth the provisions of the new law in regard to the licensing of professional bondsmen to all police officers authorized to take bail, and instruct them to enforce the provisions of the license law by refusing to accept professional bonds as sureties if the bondsman has failed to obtain a license.

Judge Sonsteby presided at the meeting, which was attended by Chief Justice John P. McGoorty, Chief Justice-elect Harry M. Fisher, Acting Commissioner of Police Alcock, State's Attorney Swanson, Assistant State's Attorneys Mozart and Dewitt, Judges Frank M. Padden, Freeman LeRoy Fairbank, Edgar Jonas and Donald McKinlay, Frank Ford, deputy police commissioner, and Thomas Matusek, deputy recorder.

Endorse Payless Week.

The council of the five teacher held a special meeting last night ed a resolution condemning the ion proposal to save by forcing workers to work the first week October without pay. They like- favored the curtailment of the and term as an economy measure. "The responsibility for financing these schools rests with the board of education and the state legisla- ture," the resolution stated in part. "The present crisis was obvious months ago but these bodies took no corrective action.

"Many economies have been sug- ested that would not cripple the edu- ational program and the board of education should put them into immedi- ate effect in order to show good faith with the children, the commu- nity and the teachers who are now being asked to accept a 2½ per cent salary cut as their contribution."

Two Reasons for Objections.

The teachers objected to the pro- posal to cut the first week's salary for two reasons: they will have re- ceived no salary checks for six weeks when the school term opens, and they contend to start the school term in the resulting frame of mind would ruin the morale of the staff.

The council pointed out that in the breakdown of practically all local governmental agencies, the curtail- ment of industry and the unemploy- ment situation the schools are the one permanent constructive force that has carried on. To halt the educa- tional program would work a vast harm that years would scarcely eradi- cate, the teachers believe.

Teachers Still Hostile.

The teachers' unions did not relax their hostility to the scrip payments. Officers of those organizations pointed to Mayor Cermak's warning, issued when he signed the tax warrants on which the scrip is based, that those who accept the scrip would probably suffer financial loss through inability to dispose of it at par. Downtown banks reiterated their refusal to cash the certificates, but those who ap- plied said in some cases that they had found outlying or out of town banks which would accept it at par.

MAYOR DEPLORES $20,000,000 TAX LEVY INCREASES

Scores Legislature for Pension Fund Move.

Mayor Cermak yesterday issued a detailed statement attacking the legislature for authorizing increased tax levies for various public employés pension funds which, he charged, would more than wipe out the benefit to the taxpayers of any economies he had effected or planned to effect in the city hall.

GEORGE P. MULLIGAN.

The mayor produced figures showing that additional levies totaling $20,908,018 more than the present collections for pension purposes have been authorized for the four years of his administration.

Increases Are Listed.

The increases, based on present assessment totals, will be as follows, he calculated:

	1931.	1932.	1933.	1934.
PENSION FUND.
Firemen—	$2,555,248	$2,555,248	$2,555,248	$2,555,248
Police—	182,512	1,895,196	1,895,196	1,895,196
Municipal—	.....	.....	730,970	1,468,140
Teachers—	.....	847,265	847,265	912,388
Sanitary district—	.....	202,828	202,828	202,828
Totals—	$2,737,760	$4,450,962	$5,905,973	$7,773,249

The largest increase, to the firemen's pension fund, was occasioned by the fact that fund had been in financial straits for years, and at present practically is bankrupt. It is borrowing from the police pension fund to pay current pensions.

It is mandatory upon the city council to pass a supplementary and additional tax levy for the firemen's pension fund for 1931, the council finance committee was informed in an opinion by George T. Mulligan, assistant corporation counsel, transmitted to it by Corporation Counsel Sexton.

Patrick Dwyer, secretary of the police pension board, and various aldermen expressed the opinion that passage of increased tax levies for the police fund and other pension funds would also be mandatory on the council when the increases granted by the legislature become effective. Mayor Cermak pointed out that the increase in the firemen's pension levy, $2,555,248, would more than wipe out any benefit to taxpayers as a result of the $2,408,000 saving recently accomplished by docking city employés two weeks' wages.

"I have earnestly tried to reduce the cost of government by payless vacations and reduction in the number of city employés," the mayor said. "After all this the legislature comes along and without any conference with the city adds more than $20,000,000 to our taxes for the next four years.

Sees No Peril in Suits.

Corporation Counsel Sexton yesterday denied that there was any possibility of successful legal action by city employés in opposition to the fourteen day pay cut ordered by the city council. It had been pointed out that some time in the future a group of employés might band together and sue the city for the two weeks' wages.

"I don't believe any court would allow the claims after the city council has taken official action on the matter," he said. "As to what future councils may do, no one can say. Of course, with the move to dock the employés two weeks' pay, some politicians are dangling before the employés the hope that future councils will reimburse them for their losses. Such a thing is possible, but not very probable."

CAPT. J. P. ALLMAN PUT IN CHARGE OF NEW POLICE COLLEGE

Capt. James P. Allman yesterday was placed in charge of Chicago's new Police college by Acting Commissioner John H. Alcock. The school is to be modeled on the police college recently inspected by Commissioner Alcock in New York.

Not only rookie policemen but veterans will be required to enter the school which will be sheltered temporarily in the Garfield Elementary school building, an ancient 32 room structure at 14th place and Newberry avenue.

Capt. Allman, who is known as the "iron man" of the department, will have charge of a curriculum including criminal law, the legality of evidence and its proper presentation, detective and traffic work, gunnery and "clubbery."

WORK ON 1931 REASSESSMENT TO BEGIN TODAY

C. E. Fox Succeeds Cutmore as Chief Appraiser.

Work on the 1931 quadrennial reassessment will be started today, it was announced yesterday by the board of assessors following its appointment of Charles E. Fox, president of the Hyde Park Real Estate board, as director of appraisals.

Fox fills the post of Harry S. Cutmore, who as director of appraisals in the 1928 reassessment set up the present scientific appraisal system, and who was discharged last month by the assessors. The advisory committee, of which former Gov. Edward F. Dunne is chairman, recommended the appointment of Fox yesterday, and the board acted immediately upon the recommendation. Fox will receive the same salary as was paid to Cutmore, $10,000 a year.

Plan New Appraisal Rules.

The first step in the reassessment process, it was stated, will be the preparation of a new building manual classifying as to type every building in the city, from skyscrapers to woodsheds, for appraisal purposes. The manual will be a revision of the one prepared for the 1928 reassessment by Cutmore and his staff.

The advisory committee which, with members of the Illinois Society of Architects and representative building contractors, recommended the appointment of Fox, will confer with him and the assessors in the preparation of the manual. Revision on the basis of present construction costs, it was predicted, will result in a general lowering of assessments throughout the city.

Director of Banks.

The new appraisal chief is director of a number of south side banks and building and investment companies. He is a Republican in politics, he stated, but has never held public office. Mark Levy, secretary of the advisory committee and president of the Chicago Real Estate board, commended Fox, saying that he has had wide experience as an appraiser of real estate in the Chicago area, and is one of the most able men in that business.

Hearing on Electrification Petition Delayed to Oct. 14

The Illinois Commerce commission yesterday postponed until Oct. 14 the hearing on the petition of THE TRIBUNE to compel railroads in the Chicago area to electrify their suburban lines and modernize their terminal facilities on the request of attorneys for THE TRIBUNE. The postponement was requested in view of the present financial condition of the railroads and their recent petition to increase freight rates.

ALDERMEN O. K. PHONE GRANT IN 9 HOUR DEBATE

Franchise Up to Council Again July 20.

After a debate of nine hours on the proposed franchise grant to the Illinois Bell Telephone company yesterday in which invective, sarcasm and witticisms were invoked, the members of the city council, sitting as the committee of the whole, voted to recommend that the council pass the ordinance.

Convened as the council, the aldermen again will go over the ground covered last night in the meeting of the council set for July 20. Before that time more than 30 amendments, which were not submitted last night, will be published by the city clerk to give the aldermen an opportunity to consider them before the final vote is taken.

Foes in Bitter Attack.

As the proposed ordinance was read section by section it was bitterly attacked by its opponents. Their amendments to the franchise, which were announced as additional safeguards to the city, were voted down regularly with machinelike precision during the long session as a majority of the aldermen fought for passage of the ordinance.

Roll calls are not permitted in the committee of the whole, and on most of the amendments and on approval of sections of the ordinance the strength of each side was apparent only in the loudness of the ayes and nays. On two occasions, however, where it was possible to take a count it was shown that only 12 aldermen were in the opposition while 30 voted approval of the ordinance as drafted.

There was one exception when Ald. Thomas J. O'Grady [14th] produced an amendment to force the phone company to pay compensation for the period between the expiration of the old ordinance and the adoption of the new on the basis of the former's provisions, which would give the city more money. He obtained 14 votes, two more than were summoned on other amendments.

Nelson Soothes Tension.

A humorous injection by Ald. Oscar Nelson [46th] soothed the tension late in the evening when Ald. John Toman [23d] and Ald. John A. Massen [48th] engaged in a wordy dispute. Massen had asked a question relative to the compensation to be collected by the city in the event the company developed television.

"Read the section; read the section," shouted Toman as he paced beside his desk.

"O, shut up," retorted Massen, and then, after a pause: "Read it for me."

"You're a lawyer," countered Toman. "I only went to the third grade in school, but I've seen lawyers come and go and expect to see more go before I leave here."

"That will be enough," Ald. Nelson interjected, "the Municipal Voters' league will take two points off the record of each for those remarks."

As approved in the committee of the whole the ordinance gives the company the right to maintain and operate its equipment in the streets of Chicago for 33 years from the expiration of the old ordinance in January, 1929, or until 1962. After that it can be terminated only by a six months' written notice by either the city or the company.

Television Is Included.

Included in the company's grant to use its property for the transmission of sounds and signals is the authority to communicate by means of television.

"By including television," stated Ald. Nelson, "the company may be able in future years to point to this contract ordinance as proof that it has a property right in television in Chicago. It is creating a monopoly for the company for the dissemination of public information or public entertainment by television. It may put Chicago theaters out of business and put all Chicago radio broadcasting in the hands of the company.

In the matter of paying the cost of relocating its equipment in the event of the construction of subways, a cost estimated at $500,000 a mile, the company is required to pay no more than the proportionate part. Other utilities are to bear their shares of that cost. In the old ordinance the cost was definitely fixed upon the company.

"I think it desirable to have this relocation cost definitely fixed," said Ald. James B. Waller [43d], "inasmuch as one of the other utilities might meet with a disaster which would prevent it from paying. We wouldn't want to give the telephone company the privilege some other company might get because of inability to pay."

Waller Amendment Loses.

His amendment, which would have inserted language similar to the provision in the old ordinance, was defeated. Among the amendments coming up next Monday, however, are some relating to this same section and to the same end as Waller's.

Compensation features of the proposed ordinance aroused a longer discussion than the relocation costs. By having the ordinance read that the city will get 3 per cent of the gross "revenues" instead of gross "receipts" the city will lose over the period of the franchise more than $2,000,000, according to Ald. Irving J. Schreiber [5th].

Ald. John S. Clark [30th], chairman of the finance committee, produced further figures to show that the city, by having to pay for its telephone service, which was free under the old ordinance, through loss of compensation because of items of receipts on which the company does not have to pay compensation, and because the company under the new ordinance will not pay for the upkeep of the city's telephone complaint bureau, will lose $2,221,749 during the period of the ordinance.

Board Informs Cermak of Unpaid Bills.

Another heritage of Mayor Cermak from the previous city hall administration came to light yesterday when it was shown in figures compiled by the board of local improvements that the city has $2,651,478 in public benefits due for payment next year, but no funds with which to meet these payments.

Public benefits compose the share that the city pays in making public improvements, the remainder being contributed by property owners in special assessments. The public benefits on the Chicago plan improvements in the past have been paid by bond issue, but for other improvements are paid out of the city's corporate fund.

Leave Job for Cermak.

Each year appropriations in the neighborhood of $1,000,000 are made to pay these other public benefits. But the previous administration, the mayor has found, left him the task of scraping up funds to pay remaining public benefits on 13 street improvements. The former administration, by not appropriating for them, had that much more money to appropriate for salaries.

"In addition to the $2,651,478 the city is obligated to pay its share of the cost of the construction of the 103d street viaduct over the Nickel Plate and Western Indiana railroad tracks," the mayor said. "This is estimated at $375,000.

Cites Added Obligations.

"And, also, besides that amount falling due in 1932 on public benefits I find that the amount which will become due up to 1935 for which no special funds exist is $3,211,146. All of these amounts will have to be included before any method of financing the city is finally adopted."

Speaking of the public benefits remaining to be paid on the 13th street improvements, which he listed, the mayor said:

"These public benefits are unprovided for either on account of such public benefits exceeding the original estimates or because no bond issues were provided for them."

Lincoln Park Revenue Drops.

The board of Lincoln park commissioners is operating on a limited budget because of reduced revenues, President Warren Wright announced yesterday.

"Despite the fact our expenses are constantly increasing due to the extension of the system, we will be forced to operate on $1,500,000 instead of the usual $2,500,000 in tax moneys," he said. "We must have more money instead of less to operate to the standard needed."

RETIRED POLICEMAN DIES.

OPPOSES PAYLESS VACATIONS FOR FOREST WORKERS

A resolution decreasing payless vacations for forest preserve employés was returned to the forest preserve finance committee yesterday on a motion by County Commissioner George A. Miller who pointed out that the district has money for the salaries and that financial leaders throughout the country are opposing as unsound any unnecessary reduction of wages.

The county board at a meeting yesterday approved the payment of 50 per cent of the disputed printing bills for city ballots pending the ruling of the Illinois Supreme court on whether the city or county is liable for the bills and whether the county board has the right to audit printing bills incurred by the election commissioners for city ballots which the board hitherto has paid.

The printing company declared that if the court ruled against it the money would be refunded. Commissioners Amelia Sears and Mrs. Edward J. Fleming voiced disapproval of the board's action, pointing out that in case an audit was allowed the county had no way of getting its money back if the bills proved excessive by more than 50 per cent.

BANDITS ROB MERCHANT.

Max Bodoch was robbed of $56 by three colored bandits who invaded his grocery at 1810 West 14th street yesterday morning.

FALL TO SERVE YEAR OF PRISON IN NEW MEXICO

Add Day to Sentence to Allow Transfer.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 14.—[Special.]—The final chapter in the oil lease scandals of the Harding administration was written today, when the department of justice ordered Albert B. Fall, former secretary of the interior, committed to the New Mexico penitentiary to serve out the term to which he was sentenced on his conviction in the Elk Hills bribery case.

A. B. FALL. (Acme Photo.)

In order that Fall, because of incipient tuberculosis, might serve his term in the southwest, his sentence of a year in jail was changed to a year and a day by Justice Jennings Bailey of the District of Columbia Supreme court. The order was entered on motion of Fall's attorney, Frank Hogan. The government made no objection.

Fall is expected to begin serving his term as soon as a warrant of the District court here can be sent to the federal marshal in New Mexico.

United States District Attorney Rover announced today that the government's next step would be to ascertain whether Fall has any property which can be attached, in order to collect the $100,000 fine which Fall was sentenced to pay in addition to the jail term. Under the federal penal code, Fall may escape the payment of the fine by serving an extra thirty days and taking the pauper's oath. Once wealthy, Fall is now regarded as almost penniless.

Lorado Taft Reported Improving in Illness

Lorado Taft, one of the foremost American sculptors who became seriously ill in Muncie, Ind., last week, was reported last night to be improving at his home, 5801 Dorchester avenue. Mr. Taft, accompanied by his wife and physician, came to Chicago Monday.

WOMAN JAILED FOR CONTEMPT

MRS. JUSTINA URBEK AND GUARDS.

MOTHER OF FOUR JAILED FOR PLEA TO SAVE ROBBER

A mother of four children was placed in the county jail yesterday on orders of Judge Joseph B. David of the Criminal court. The judge imposed a six months' sentence upon her for contempt of court because she had attempted to influence a juror in his court.

JUDGE DAVID.

Mrs. Justina Urbek, 32 years old, 5146 South California avenue, the mother, was shown to have asked a juror to "go easy" on John Bartz, found guilty Monday of habitual criminal to life imprisonment. Louis Kaspar was also found guilty with Bartz and given the same sentence.

Mrs. Urbek was an alibi witness for Bartz at his trial. She testified that he had been at her home at the time he was accused of robbing a bank. The jury disregarded her testimony.

Juror Harry Levy, 6656 Woodlawn avenue, a candy salesman, who was an acquaintance of Mrs. Urbek, who is a restaurant proprietor, told Judge David that on the night of July 11, before the Bartz case had gone to the jury, Mrs. Urbek called him on the telephone.

Levy testified that Mrs. Urbek said: "I'm interested in Bartz. I'd like to have you make it easy for him. I don't know Kaspar and don't care what happens to him."

Judge David immediately sentenced Mrs. Urbek upon hearing this testimony. He allowed her attorney to appeal, but ruled that she must start serving her sentence at once.

Bartz, 34 years old, and Kaspar, 31 years old, were tried for the robbery Jan. 17 of the Oak Lawn Trust and Savings bank, from which they obtained $3,485. Bartz had been at liberty for five years since his last penitentiary term.

GANG CAUGHT; 50 ROBBERIES AND KILLING SOLVED

The solution of more than fifty robberies and a shooting in Chicago, as well as a fatal gun battle in St. Louis, was announced by Capt. Joseph Goldberg of the Albany Park police following the arrest yesterday of the tenth member of a gang of confessed robbers. Complaints against the gang have been signed by twenty-five robbery victims.

In addition to the robberies, the gang confessed shooting Dr. Albert H. Montgomery, 6241 Kenmore avenue, when he resisted a holdup at a drug store at 6624 North Clark street, on April 7.

Koopsheck, Berdniek, and Borkowski admitted participation in a robbery which resulted in a gun battle with St. Louis police on April 29, during which one man was slain and three persons were wounded.

The roundup of the gang began on Friday night with the capture of Koopsheck, Cook, and Kroll by Sergt. Andrew Kruezer and his detective squad after the trio had tried to rob a drug store at 3658 North Crawford avenue. Borowcyk, the last to be captured, was taken in Gary yesterday.

Koopsheck, Borkowski, and Berdniek may be turned over to the Missouri authorities, according to assistant states attorneys.

CORTES STARTS REBUILDING SPAIN AS A REPUBLIC

470 Deputies Will Draft Constitution.

BY JAY ALLEN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MADRID, July 14.—Spain began her great adventure in democracy today.

ALCALA ZAMORA.

Three months to a day and almost to an hour from the April night when the Bourbon king went out by the back way, Provisional President Alcala Zamora passed the buck to the constituent cortes.

"You are the sculptor of the Spanish people," he told the 470 deputies, "the hope of the nation, on behalf of the government revolutionaries. "You sculp not in sand or clay, but carve into living rock with the chisel of complete sovereignty. Our prize will be the gratitude of the fatherland."

Exult in Handing Over State.

Zamora exulted in handing over the republic spotless, intact, mistress of herself, indestructable and without fear of restoration or perturbation, he said.

There was exultation within and without the parliament house that knew the hollow comedy of democracy under the monarchy and saw one republic talk itself to death.

Flags were out. Bells pealed and cannon roared from the Pyrenees to the Straits of Gibraltar. The light hearted ecstasy of April 14 and 15 may be gone, but Spain today certainly was prey to exultation that was both grave and fierce.

Will Get Vote of Confidence.

To all practical purposes the provisional government which administered the new liberty thus far, resigned its mandate to the nation today. Actually, it will do it when the cortes checks its membership, which will take about a week. It will be given a vote of confidence and rule subject to the will of the deputies until a constitution is granted and a president elected, which will take three months.

Spain now is in the hands of 470 men, among whom are the best she has.

"For me and for the government, this revolution," said Zamora, "is the last political evolution and the first, and we are sure it will be the last, social revolution."

The lid is off. How far the revolution is to go and what vengeance will be taken, it is up to these men. The provisional government will hand over the republic to the cortes tomorrow with its sovereignty neither impaired nor menaced.

Cannon thundered and even church bells pealed when the provisional government left the prime minister's palace in automobiles and drove between lines of troops past the statue of Columbus down the Prado to the Hall of Congress.

They were met on the steps by 12 deputies and ushered into the hall of dreary memory. From it in 1873 the parliament of the first republic, unripe like the country then for freedom, was driven by Gen. Pavia.

Cheering Is Delirious.

The troops filed by in snappy Spanish quickstep. They were in plain khaki and not the narrow caps, blue jackets and red panties of the gala days under the monarchy. As they passed the steps of parliament they raised quite unmilitary "vivas" for the deputies.

The cheering was delirious, and only when the civil guard marched past was the idyll marred. Shrill whistles of disapproval rose from the mob that remembered those gentry with the patent leather bonnet and ever ready rifle as servants of the king. Almost at that very spot last November they killed several in a mob.

The deputies looked to be a quiet lot. A surprising number of them are in their thirties. There are five priests. There also are two women. There is a handful of old politicals of the monarchy like Sanchez Guerra and Santiago Alba. The only Alfonsist, if he is one, Count Romanones, will not appear until the republic is voted in. There are old rebels and traditional republicans and Socialists.

SHEDS HIS SHOES, BUT PANTS GIVE FAT BANDIT AWAY

Madison St. Thrilled by Police Pursuit.

Two policemen toiled up the back stairs of a building at 3220 W. Madison street yesterday afternoon on the trail of a bandit. They halted on the third floor porch, where a fat man was sprawling his bulk in a chair with his shoes off.

"A robber just ran into this building," said Policeman Michael Mulhivill. "Have you seen him?"

The corpulent one shook his head and Mulhivill and his partner, George Weber, were about to move on when they noticed the man was breathing hard.

Betrayed by His Pants.

"Your shoes are off, but you are breathing in short pants," observed Mulhivill. "Have you been in a foot race?" Then he instructed Weber, "Go and get that witness."

In five minutes Weber was back with Mrs. Sam Berlines, 4727 Maypole avenue, who had just been held up in her haberdashery at 3230 W. Madison street.

"That's one of them," she said when she saw the fat man, who said he was Edward Swanson, 67 years old.

The woman, in describing the holdup, said Swanson had taken a $50 wrist watch from her, $65 in cash, and a pair of men's sport shoes from her store. She phoned the police and ran to the street, where she found Patrolman Weber. She told the policeman of the robbery and as Weber listened he noticed three men running out of the Superior Investment company offices at 3224 West Madison street.

The Pursuit Begins.

A moment later a hue and cry arose from that place of business and Samuel Mayer, 1221 Independence boulevard, the vice president, ran out with the word that he and two employes had been robbed of jewels and cash to a total of $250.

Weber started in pursuit of the three robbers. He was joined at the next corner by Mulhivill. At Madison and Kedzie two of the pursued went one way and the stout one—Swanson—leaped on a passing laundry truck. He pushed a gun in the ribs of the driver, Mussy Survetio, 3139 West Congress street, employed by the Rainbow Laundry company.

"Get off," he shouted, "you're so fat you're funny," and he pushed Swanson into the gutter.

The fat one, by this time almost winded, ducked into the first building handy, the one where he was caught, which almost adjoins his own home at 3214 West Madison street.

BREAKS RECORD AS HE PREACHES FOR 58½ HOURS

Cotton Valley, La., July 14.—(AP)—The Rev. E. A. Sandifer, 40 year old pastor of the Cotton Valley Baptist church, stepped down from his pulpit tonight after preaching continuously for 58½ hours.

The preacher began his marathon sermon Sunday morning at 11 o'clock and started expounding the gospel on the subject of "What's Wrong with the Church?" He stopped tonight at 9:30 o'clock quite hoarse but "feeling fine."

About 700 persons occupied pews in the little brick church when Mr. Sandifer concluded his long talk.

During the first two days and nights he preached from texts of the book of Paul. This afternoon he swung into a discussion of modern conditions and their approach to the millennium.

The recently enlarged salesroom of the West Side Auto Exchange, 4631-43 W. Madison St.

HERE is a letter from the West Side Auto Exchange, 4631-43 West Madison Street.

It tells how advertising in the Chicago Tribune Want Ad Section for the last twelve years has done the job alone for this company.

Note particularly one paragraph of this letter: "While others have felt the stress of the times, we have forged ahead and have increased not only our sales and advertising appropriation but have also doubled our salesroom."

Here is evidence of the fact that, regardless of conditions, business can be had if you go after it in the right way. In Chicago the right way is the low-cost, profitable way—through the columns of the newspaper that reaches more than 820,000 families on week-days and more than 990,000 on Sunday!

Att'n Mr. Chester W. Campbell, -
Classified Adv. Manager.

Dear Sir,

I feel that it will be of interest to you to note that the West Side Auto Exchange has had a noticeable increase in the sale of almost new and slightly used automobiles, during the first six months of 1931.

We attribute our excellent showing to the steady concentrated volume of Classified advertising which we have placed in the Tribune. The response and confidence shown us by Tribune readers has been very gratifying - in fact was the motivating cause of this letter.

For the past twelve years West Side Auto Exchange has placed its advertising exclusively in the Tribune, since I feel that Tribune readers have come to know our exceptional values and look for them in your paper.

While others have felt the stress of the times we have forged ahead and have increased not only our sales and advertising appropriation but have also doubled our sales room. We have just recently acquired another salesroom adjacent to our own building and are now in a position to show the public any make or model of automobile that they may desire at a price that they can pay.

Very truly yours,

SAM WEINMAN

LAY FAILURE OF BANKS TO LACK OF CARE BY U. S.

Hoover Receives Protests Against System.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 14.—[Special.]—As a result of the large number of bank failures recently the federal reserve board and the controller of the currency are under fire.

CARTER GLASS.

There appears to be a widespread notion that something is wrong with the safeguards of depositors supposed to have been provided by the national banking laws and the federal reserve act or with the administration of the law by the officials in question or with both.

The White House has received numerous complaints, including some from senators and congressmen, to the effect that the federal authorities are lacking in that vigilance that would prevent the suspension of banks and the consequent losses of depositors. An investigation of the conditions and a study of remedies therefor is already being made by the senate committee, of which Senator Carter Glass [Dem., Va.] is chairman.

Investigate Illinois Closings.

It also transpired today that the affairs of one or more of the national banks in Illinois that have failed recently are threatened with criminal prosecution. John W. Pole, comptroller of the currency, has transmitted to the department of justice a report calling attention to apparent violations of the national banking laws involved in a number of suspensions of national banks, including at least one in Illinois.

Among the letters addressed to the president on the subject is one from Representative L. W. Schuetz, the new Democratic member from the 7th district of Chicago.

"Referring to previous letter with reference to the banking situation in Chicago, I am enclosing a clipping from THE CHICAGO DAILY TRIBUNE, Friday, July 3, 1931," wrote Congressman Schuetz. "In this article you will note that 200 state banks are in the hands of receivers in the state of Nebraska. It does not state how many national banks went into the hands of the receivers in this state.

"Here in Chicago we have both state and national banks that have closed their doors. This condition, no doubt, prevails throughout the whole United States. There is very little publicity given these closings. No doubt there are fights for receivership appointments for these different banks the same as in the state of Nebraska.

"In Chicago and in the entire state of Illinois practically every state bank had a notation on their windows that they were members of the federal reserve bank, giving the people the impression that the government was behind these banks and the depositors' money was safe.

"It seems to me that the federal reserve bank is not doing anything to back the depositors as that notation on the window of the bank stated.

Should Save Frozen Assets.

"I implore you, my dear Mr. President, for the good of this country and for the good of the citizens who have placed faith in that notation on the bank's window, 'We are members of the federal reserve bank,' to use your great office to force the federal reserve bank officials to get busy and prevent the sacrifice of the so-called 'frozen assets' which really are the actual wealth of this country, from being thrown on the open market to enrich those who have plenty."

Mr. Hoover referred the letter to the federal reserve board for reply.

According to officials at the federal reserve board, the complaint of Congressman Schuetz is not well founded. They say that few of the banks that have failed in Chicago recently were members of the federal reserve system. They cite the figures for the period from Jan. 1 to May 31 last, in which, of 53 banks failing in Illinois, only six were members of the system, while 47 were nonmembers.

Of the six member banks five were national banks and one a state bank. The federal reserve board examines all banks when they become members and admit them only if they are solvent. Thereafter the board examines the state member banks only, leaving the subsequent examination of national banks to the controller of the currency.

No Guarantee of Deposits.

Membership in the federal reserve system implies certain safeguards of depositors, but the guarantee of deposits by the government is not one of them. That these safeguards are effective to a considerable degree is indicated by the fact that of the 516 suspensions from January to May, inclusive, 111 were member and 405 nonmember banks. Of the 111 member banks, only 17 were state banks, subject to examination by the reserve board. This, however, is about the ratio of state member banks to national member banks.

Notwithstanding the defense of its administration of the law there is evidence that the reserve board has been lax in some instances in the protection of depositors. J. Herbert Case, chairman of the federal reserve bank of New York, testified that the federal reserve authorities had repeatedly admonished the Bank of United States regarding some of its practices, but to no avail. This bank was the largest bank in the country ever to have failed.

The reserve board could have expelled this bank from the reserve system for failure to comply with its requirements, but it took no steps in that direction.

Controller of the Currency Pole asserts that there is nothing wrong with national bank examinations, but complains of lack of power to enforce compliance by bank officers with requirements laid down to prevent insolvencies. He has recommended legislation conferring authority to remove recalcitrant bank officers.

COAST GUARDS SINK LIQUOR BOAT AFTER WILD CHASE; SEIZE 5

Providence, R. I., July 14.—(AP)—Taken from the bullet riddled rum runner Yvette June early today while she was afire and sinking in the Sakonett river after a pursuit by coast guard patrol boats, five men were held here tonight by U. S. authorities.

The captain of the June, Rico De Nadal, and his crew of five pleaded not guilty. They will be tried July 24.

A sixth member of the crew was reported to have leaped overboard and to have swam ashore.

Federal authorities and Rico De Nadal told conflicting stories of the chase. Owen P. McKenna, special customs investigator, of Boston, said the CG-400 and the CG-284 brought machine guns into play when the June threw out a smoke screen. Finally when the June was about to be overtaken she rammed the CG-400 in a final effort to escape. Then the June caught fire and began to sink, he said.

De Nadal declared the June was pursued by three boats, two of which subjected her to a crossfire while the third raked her stern. He said the CG-400 rammed and sank the June.

In charge of the CG-400 was Boatswain Alexander C. Cornell, who a year and a half ago commanded the boat which fired upon the rum runner Black Duck in Narragansett bay, killing three of her crew.

KEEP ALL WAGE SCALES INTACT, GREEN URGES

Declares Social Unrest Menaces Nation.

New York, July 14.—[Special.]—Picturing a condition of social unrest, "more serious than it appears on the surface as the country now faces its third winter of unemployment," William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, in an address here today descried the failure to provide a remedy and pleaded for a maintenance of present wage scales and standards of living, as well as constructive measures for the unemployed.

WILLIAM GREEN.

Mr. Green spoke at the convention of the International Longshoremen's association, with United States Senator Robert F. Wagner, who expressed his impatience with "the smug belief that we do not need and cannot find the remedies," declaring r o that an employer could be guilty of "no more violent act of industrial sabotage than by instituting a policy of wage deflation."

"We have reached a point where unemployment has brought on a serious condition of social unrest and industrial discontent; we find it in the coal fields and textile centers; it is not good for a republic when its citizens clash with the police and armed forces of the nation," Mr. Green said.

"We are facing the third winter of unemployment. Our nation has never been put to that test before, while we wait and refuse to grapple with the problem, men go hungry and social unrest develops. The history of the world shows that hunger lies at the basis of world revolution."

Mr. Green recalled that the economic difficulties in 1893 were the most serious of any up to that time, and declared that the present depression was worse. He said no comparison could be made between the two periods because "the country, while agricultural then, was an industrial nation now.

"What are we going to do about it? 55 he continued. "There are those who think that a reduction of wages is necessary, and that it is time to lower the standard of living among working men and women.

"Well, the American Federation of Labor has challenged that sort of economic philosophy. Is there any reason why the millions of working men and women should make an additional sacrifice which would be required by a reduction in their earnings? Have we not suffered enough? Shall we cut the wages of those few of us left who have work?

"Where are the social minds of the employers of the nation? Are they going to drag down the standards of living built up by the workers?

"The American Federation of Labor will not stand a reduction of wages, and we are going to oppose it with all our might and vigor."

Mr. Green reminded that he had suggested that President Hoover call a representative industrial conference which would study present economic conditions and plan a solution of the difficulties.

FOREST FIRES RAGE ON IN NORTHWEST, FANNED BY WIND

Spokane, Wash., July 14.—(AP)—The smoke pall over the intermountain country deepened today as forest fires in Montana, Idaho, and Wyoming roard on, out of control.

Expected rains did not come, and winds continued, hampering efforts of more than 2,000 fighters. Some of the blazes destroyed merchantable timber, but most of them were cutting through young trees over old burns.

The Memlock creek fire in north Idaho's Clearwater forest had reached about 12,000 acres, airplane observers reported, and more than 1,000 men were attemping to trench it.

East of Hemlock creek, on Quartz creek, two new fires in commercial timber were out of control. In central Idaho two more large fires were eating through the Challis forest. Three thousand acres have been seared.

Two fires in western Montana in the Bitter Root and Lolo national forests were defying 300 fighters and had swept over nearly 2,000 acres. The Rock creek fire in the Bitter Root valley had covered 2,000 acres.

Wyoming regional forest officials said the fires had grown to such an extent in the state that emeregency closing orders will be issued for any forest deemed necessary. A closing order was issued for the Medicine Bow forest in Wyoming.

Four small fires near Allen's Park, 10 miles northwest of Denver in Colorado, were believed under control.

$100,000 FIRE HITS LINCOLN, ILL.

Tries to Rob Policeman; Flees in Storm of Lead

A robber halted Sergt. Lawrence McCarthy of the Central police in front of the sergeant's home at 2722 Pratt boulevard early this morning. Instead of money, however, McCarthy pulled out his own pistol and fired five shots at the bandit as he turned and fled. The bullets did not stop him.

CALUMET HARBOR JOB RIPE FOR U. S. ACTION: ROWAN

Alderman Urges Federal Development Here.

Ald. W. A. Rowan [10th], chairman of the city council committee on harbors, declared yesterday that, by taking up the development of Calumet harbor the United States has an opportunity to recompense, in part, the taxpayers of the Chicago area for the millions of their money spent on federal projects elsewhere.

WILLIAM A. ROWAN.

"We helped to pay for the Panama canal and we are helping to pay for Boulder dam to furnish Los Angeles a water supply," Rowan said. "Why shouldn't Uncle Sam do something for us? The Lake Calumet harbor project would be a good job on which to start."

His Ward Favors Plan.

Ald. Rowan, who represents the ward in which Lake Calumet is located, said that the interests in his district favored the recent recommendation of the Chicago Association of Commerce to the regional port commission that the government take jurisdiction of that part of the lake lying south of 122d street with an agreement to develop a harbor within five years.

"The city has title to 1,450 acres in and around the lake," he pointed out. "It now is proposed that the government take over 400 acres at the south end of the lake. I believe the city should make the government a present of this land. The city has no money to build a harbor and neither has the railroads. Yet, a harbor must be built as a terminal for the lakes to gulf waterway. The ideal plan would be development by the federal government."

Waits Railroads' Reply.

Ald. Rowan's committee on July 6 served notice on the Nickel Plate railroad that unless the railroad was ready in thirty days to reopen negotiations for the construction of Lake Calumet harbor that negotiations would be made in other directions. Rowan said yesterday he believed the reply of the railroad would bring the subject to a head and possibly open the way for negotiations with the government.

A hearing on three major proposals related to the Calumet harbor plan will be held on July 21 in the office of the resident war department engineer. The proposals are that the government should construct the harbor proper, dredge the Calumet river to a depth of 25 feet, and straighten the river by the elimination of some of its curves.

WINS DIVORCE

MRS. CLARA MACPHERSON.

Hugh S. MacPherson, a traveling salesman, forgot to remove powder compacts and lipsticks from his coat pockets when he returned from his trips, Mrs. Clara M. MacPherson, 1612 East 83d street, complained to Judge John J. Sullivan yesterday. Further, she charged MacPherson struck her when she asked about them. Judge Sullivan indicated that he would grant her a divorce, with $14 a week support for her children, Hugh Jr., 7 years old, and Shirley Ann, 3 years old. She also received a property settlement out of court.

U.S. HOPES POLICE WILL HELP JAIL CAPONE'S CREW

Learn That Fusco, Beer Gangster, Is Wanted.

Efforts to link Dennis Cooney and Joe Fusco in a conspiracy case were begun by the special prohibition unit yesterday in connection with loud and persistent efforts of those two Capone gangsters to recover a truck load of beer seized by a police sergeant of the South State street station Monday night.

ELIOT NESS. [TRIBUNE Photo.]

Eliot Ness, assistant chief of the unit, which brought about the indictment of Al Capone and 60 of his henchmen in the beer business, also announced officially that Fusco was one of those named in the indictment. He said he would be grateful to the police if they would arrest Fusco the next time he storms into a police station, for United States Marshal Laubenheimer's office holds a warrant for him.

Police Unaware of Charge.

Lieut. Thomas Geary, who was in charge of the station Monday night when Policeman John Coughlin brought in the truck of beer and two prisoners, said he looked in the warrant books and didn't find anything on Fusco and Cooney so he couldn't arrest them. Lieut. Geary and his associates at the station had not been apprised of the search for Fusco by deputy marshals and dry agents.

Two Truckmen Held.

The two prisoners arrested with the truck, who gave the names of John Radia and Joe Bue, were held in bonds of $5,000 each for a hearing on Aug. 3 by United States Commissioner Walker. Questioned by Ness, Radia admitted that his name is really Frank Contie, and that he was arrested in a $50,000 brewery at 3136 South Wabash avenue mentioned in the Capone indictment.

Agent Ness indicated that if he can induce the policemen at the South State street station to testify that Cooney and Fusco came in and begged for the truck of beer, he can develop a conspiracy case against them. So far the government has been unable to act against Cooney, Capone's south side vice monger.

Washington Thieves Raid Diplomats' Liquor Cellar

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 14.—[Special.]—The second recent theft of liquor from foreign diplomats in Washington took place last night or early today when the home of Alexander von Wuthenau, secretary of the German embassy, was broken into and an undetermined amount of whisky taken.

ALEXANDER VON WUTHENAU.

The thieves entered by smashing a pane of glass in a basement door. Once in the basement they were compelled to break a store room window before reaching the compartment in which about a half dozen cases of whisky were stored. Although all of the cases were broken into, only part of the liquor was removed. Police were unable to determine exactly how much had been taken.

The house was not occupied at the time of the robbery as Herr von Wuthenau is said to be en route to Germany. Police were unable to find any evidence that the rest of the house had been entered. A small liquor cabinet on the first floor of the building had not been tampered with.

The police learned of the robbery through an anonymous telephone call, the caller hanging up before they could find out his name. Neighbors said that they had seen no one about the premises during the last few days.

The first robbery of this kind occurred at the Salvadorean legation, where Dr. Don Carlos Leiva, then counsellor of the legation, was severely beaten when he discovered thieves taking wine from the legation vaults.

An investigation of the protection given to diplomats in Washington was ordered by the state department at the time of the El Salvador robbery.

Although not giving out the full results of the investigation, the state department announced that "ample protection was being given representatives of foreign governments here."

FROM the East, South, North and West social leaders, prominent sportsmen and sportswomen, famous jockeys and trainers are flocking to Arlington for the greatest of all races for three-year-olds—THE ARLINGTON CLASSIC—which will be staged here next Saturday. The stables of this famous racing place are filled with America's stoutest thoroughbreds, kings of the sport of kings, pointing to this super-event. This great race has been made possible by Arlington's non-profit policy found nowhere else in racing.

Meet Aristocrats of Breeding

Prominent among those which will start in The Classic are: Twenty Grand, owned by Mrs. Helen Hay Whitney, the possible all-time champion; Albert C. Bostwick's Mate, winner of the American Derby, which had previously beaten Twenty Grand in the Preakness; Mrs. Denemark's Burning Up; Mrs. Katherine Elkins Hitt's Sun Meadow; Spanish Play, victor in the Louisiana and Latonia Derby revivals, and many others.

The Classic is THE racing event of the year. Everybody will be there—no one will want to miss it. There is plenty of room for all in the spacious racing place at Arlington and there will be no increase in prices for this great spectacle. The Classic will be the FOURTH of seven races, the first of which will be at 2:15 p. m. Make your plans to attend. It is a show worth going a thousand miles to see.

You Can Save 20% on Your Automobile Insurance

Automobile insurance is one of the benefits available to members of the Chicago Motor Club. Every year this department returns a cash saving to subscribers.

Last year this return amounted to $798,030.12. The Inter-Insurance Exchange always has returned 20% of the amount paid the "exchange" for insurance coverage.

The "valued form" policy is still another feature that accounts for the growth of the "exchange." In the event of total loss, you are paid the face value of your policy, the amount upon which you have paid insurance. The policy issued covers you anywhere in the United States or Canada.

Other services of the club are: Free mechanical first aid and towing service, home district service, accident prevention work, travel service, and bail bond service.

SLAYER DURKIN ASKS CLEMENCY OF STATE BOARD

Many Others Seek Pardon or Parole.

Springfield, Ill., July 14.—[Special.]—The state division of pardons and paroles today heard a plea for clemency in behalf of Martin J. "Marty" Durkin, serving thirty-five years in Joliet penitentiary for the murder of Edwin Shanahan, a prohibition officer. The case was taken under advisement after opposition was offered by Assistant State's Attorney Paul Hampton, Cook county, who was accompanied to Springfield by representatives of the department of justice.

MARTIN DURKIN.

Attorney William Rochford, Chicago, asked that the sentence of Durkin be commuted or that he be granted a pardon. The attorney declared that the sentence of Durkin would have been lessened if Harlow George had been permitted to testify at the trial. Harlow George appeared before the board several months ago and said that he had been compelled to leave Chicago during the progress of the Durkin trial.

Mrs. Price Asks Freedom.

The board also took under consideration a plea for clemency in behalf of Mrs. Laura B. Price, serving six months in the Cook county jail on a charge of conspiracy to defraud an insurance company by a fake jewelry robbery. Marie Dawes, 40 East Oak street, a sister of Mrs. Price, urged clemency. She said that her sister is ill and should be liberated. Assistant State's Attorney Hampton opposed the plea on the ground that Mrs. Price's condition is no worse than when her case was heard some time ago.

Seek Pardon for Looney.

Mrs. Ursula Hamblin, Forcan, Tex., pleaded for clemency for her father, John P. Looney, who is serving a fourteen year sentence in Joliet penitentiary for murder committed during Rock Island's underworld war. She said that her father is in failing health. H. E. Butters, who said he went to school with Looney, requested the board to "exercise a humane act and let Looney die outside of prison."

Gertrude Phillips, a Chicago school teacher, told the board she had purchased a store as a means of creating a job for her brother, Thomas C. Hogan, who is serving a thirty-five year sentence in Chester penitentiary for murder.

Helped Balk Prison Riot.

Illness of Edward Pinkerton, a former ball player, serving time at Joliet from Cook county on a murder charge, was the reason advanced for leniency in his case.

When the application of Joseph Klinowski, Cook county, serving fourteen years at Joliet for murder, was heard, his attorney contended that Klinowski's aid to authorities during the recent prison riots saved the state thousands of dollars. Klinowski held off the rioters at the prison power house during the turmoil. It was also contended that the man he killed had stolen the affection of Klinowski's wife and that the shooting had been in self-defense, which was not brought out at the trial.

Vote Fraud Trio Ask Freedom.

Three men under prison sentence from Cook county for fraudulently changing ballots in the election of Nov. 18, 1928, stood before the board while an impassioned plea was made for their liberty.

John F. Cashen Jr., their attorney, asserted that the trio, Edward A. Kirsten, Fred Hrdlicka, and Edward Kotek, are victims of Supreme court action meant to correct the law in a former opinion rather than to send the men to the penitentiary.

In this, he referred to the fact that the high court had reversed their conviction in December, 1930, and, on a rehearing, affirmed the conviction this year.

Carlstrom Doubts Guilt.

Cashen read a copy of a letter which Attorney General Oscar E. Carlstrom had sent to the pardon board, in which Carlstrom expressed an opinion the men were not guilty.

During the proceedings, Judge Albert George, member of the board, said: "The practice of having outsiders handle the ballots is customary in Cook county and it will have to stop somewhere, sometime."

"Yes, but don't stop it on three innocent men," Cashen replied.

All three men have been at liberty and will surrender themselves Aug. 1, Cashen said. At present they are neither on supersedeas bond nor Criminal court recognizance.

The board took under advisement an application for parole in the case of William T. Russell, former Chicago policeman, serving 14 years in Joliet for the murder of his wife. The hearing differed from former sessions on Russell's case in that his son, William, who heretofore had opposed clemency, appeared today to advocate commutation for his father.

LUNCHROOM OWNER ROBBED.

Anton Brunka, owner of a lunchroom at 1900 Wolfram street, was robbed by two men yesterday morning of $150, a diamond ring, and his automobile as he was putting the car in a garage at the rear of his home.

JURY DECIDES LEGS DIAMOND IS INNOCENT

And the Court Crowd Cheers Verdict.

Troy, N. Y., July 14.—[Special.]—Jack [Legs] Diamond, "beat the rap" again here tonight a jury, after deliberating one hour and 52 minutes, acquitted him of the charge of having tortured Grover Parks, Cairo farmer, the morning of April 18, in an attempt to force him to disclose the location of a still. The trial started yesterday.

LEGS DIAMOND.

The state attorneys seemed stunned by the verdict, for they were certain they had cracked the gangster's alibi. He had built his defense on the testimony of witnesses that he was in Albany at the time of the assault on Parks.

Diamond, wan and nervous before the jury came in, leaned eagerly forward to catch the pronouncement of E. A. Goyer, the farmer foreman. When the words "not guilty" were heard, the skinny hand of the racketeer gripped the arm of his chief of counsel and beads of perspiration broke out on his brow. He fell forward toward the counsel table, virtually in collapse.

Despite the stern presence of Supreme Court Justice Cropsey, who presided at the trial, a spontaneous cheer echoed in the heavy air of the dingy courtroom. Attendants and deputies tried in vain to restore order. The crowd in the streets caught the sound, heard the verdict and, joined in the cheering.

It was a hard blow at the attorney general's staff. Appointed last April by Gov. Roosevelt to investigate the Diamond gang activities in Greene county, the attorney general and his staff had labored day and night in an attempt to get sufficient evidence to jail the gangster for life.

But Diamond, arrested 15 times in his long career as a racketeer, has beaten all but one of the charges brought against him, charges including homicide, larceny, and other major crimes. If he succeeds in beating the other indictments growing out of the Parks attack, two of kidnaping, one of coercion, and one for violation of the Sullivan law, he still must face a federal charge of violations of the prohibition law.

THE REAL ESTATE OUTLOOK.

The National Association of Real Estate Boards has put together the reports of building and renting conditions received from 381 cities in all sections of the country. While a certain amount of prejudice is to be expected in a report of this kind, the general conclusion that there is no overwhelming surplus of residential accommodations may be taken as substantially correct.

In the last two years residential building in this country has failed by far to keep pace with the growth in urban population. Fairly reliable estimates show that in Chicago, for example, in 1930, new buildings provided scarcely more than a third of the residential space needed to accommodate the known increase of population. This year the new building will probably provide an even smaller proportion of the year's needs.

To be sure, in the decade before 1929 considerably more residential building was completed than was required, but this fact can be given too much weight. The suspension of building during the war years had left a considerable shortage. If the feverish activity of the succeeding decade glutted the market it did not glut it forever. Another year or two of suspended operations will at least restore the balance. Shrewd observers of the real estate market are of the opinion that the demand for housing is rapidly overtaking the supply, particularly if obsolescence is reckoned as a factor.

This is a hopeful portent for holders of real estate securities, giving basis for the belief that the present market does not truly reflect the outlook. Further, there is reason to believe that large scale housing construction undertaken now will yield a profit. The statistics indicate that if there is a temporary excess of apartments the excess is to be found chiefly in the more expensive types. There is no considerable excess of apartments for families whose incomes are $3,500 a year and less, and these families constitute substantially three-fourths of the urban population.

It is a curious fact that plenty of money was available in 1928 and 1929 for so-called investment in securities which yielded as little as 2 per cent while today it is next to impossible to obtain credit for building construction which promises to yield a safe 5 or 6 per cent over a long period. It is said that financial institutions are refusing credit to prospective builders because to do so would serve further to impair loans already in default as a result of overbuilding. This is a shortsighted view. The present depression persists, in large part, because of the absence of long term capital investment. The demand for housing will increase as soon as building operations are commenced and building mechanics and shop laborers are again at work. Families which are now living two to the apartment in the interest of economy will go house hunting as soon as their conditions permit. A well considered building program for that reason seems to offer the best hope of a general business recovery.

THE MOVIES AND DREISER.

Theodore Dreiser's reported price for the picture rights to "An American Tragedy" was something staggeringly near a million dollars, but if Hollywood can pay P. G. Wodehouse a hundred thousand a year as a retainer, and not use him, no prices are incredible in this industry. Dreiser's contract seems to have contained a stipulation that he should have supervision of the making of the picture, and that is bound to be a comedy or tragedy, just as the person wants to take it. The director of "An American Tragedy" says Dreiser is a pain in the foot and Dreiser seeks an injunction to prevent the showing of the picture. Whatever they say of each other, they are probably both right in the circumstances.

The production of pictures, notably since the use of sound, is well over on the side of adult intelligence for the most part. Technically the pictures present the development of an art and they begin to show an instinct for dramatic composition. Incidental detail is treated with fidelity and imagination which bring rich and charming scenes, but the producers will not abandon certain patterns and conventions of behavior derived from what the industry conceives to be controlling factors in human nature. The estimate may be in the main correct, but when it is worked into a picture it is likely to make any Dreiser wild.

The movie theory is that romance is libidinous. Against the frank use of such a theory there are the censors and the conventions of American society. The producers, consequently, are reduced to using what they think will be innocuous suggestions, policeproof, and yet quite within the reach of people preoccupied as Hollywood thinks they are. The suggestions may not be innocuous, but they are inane. They must convey the idea of the prevalence of the flesh by details which destroy all emotional seriousness.

What drove Dreiser wild we don't know, but it might very well have been a bathroom scene, a bedroom costume, the fit of a skirt, or some exhibition of Miss Universe intended to define the tragedy in terms of the Scandals of 1931. The bath sponge and pajamas compose the overtones of any emotional relation of the sexes and speak the prologue of the drama. The behavior which this requires is, for a female, that of a moronic dryad, and, for a male, of a catnip intoxicated tomcat.

Probably most of these theories of life and art are contributed by the big business men who make George Arliss punch a time clock when he arrives at the studio, and who pay Mr. Wodehouse a hundred thousand for doing nothing. Dreiser's ideas of what constituted "An American Tragedy" simply collided with Hollywood's idea of what is worth fifty cents at the ticket office. He should have been paid a million dollars to remain in New York if the picture was made in California and, having counted his money, keep his eyes shut.

LET UNCLE SAM DO IT.

The invasion by the federal government of local rights and responsibilities has not been more offensively illustrated than, as now disclosed to the general public, by the report of the Wickersham commission respecting Uncle Sam's attentions to "child offenders." We have made some comment on one aspect of this federal activity, but we are glad to say that the situation has induced recommendations that "the federal government be empowered to withdraw from the prosecution of juveniles, where such withdrawal will be in the public interest, and to leave the treatment of their cases to the juvenile courts or other welfare agencies." The commission suggests legislation to this effect. During the last six months of 1930, 2,243 boys and girls below the age of 18 were committed for federal offenses.

No better illustration has been given up to this time of the demoralization worked by one-ideaed reform upon the plan of our constitutional system. The federal government was created by very wise statesmen to perform only those services which a central agency is needed to perform, the national defense, the post, the control of the currency, the regulation of interstate and foreign trade and relations. The police power—that is, the regulation of social conditions—was supposed to have been left to the states, to local authority. This division was and is essential to liberty and to efficiency in government, and yet, especially in the last generation, it has been repeatedly ignored under one pretext or another until it has been almost erased.

The Supreme court, the special guardian of the constitution, has permitted this process to go on with no such strict restraint as we have a right to expect. By lenient interpretations it has authorized repeated assumptions by the federal government, or impositions by congress upon the government, of powers and responsibilities properly belonging to state or local government. Congress, susceptible as it is to organized political pressure, has, of course, shown even less respect for constitutional distinctions. Men and women in impassioned zeal for some reform have turned more and more to the central authority, thinking they were taking a short cut to their objective and having no understanding of or regard for the wise principles they were asking congress to override.

The result has been the overloading of the central government with duties it was not intended or fitted to perform, the irresponsible expansion of its powers, the vast growth of bureaucracy and federal expenditure. We have now the federal government in the nursery and at the village lockup. Presently we shall have a federal beadle ringing the curfew in every village under a national nine o'clock retiring hour, shooing the chickens and driving the cows out of the city parks. Are the American people to be dragooned by professional reformers and half baked zealots into the complete destruction of our American system of government?

GOVERNMENT STATISTICS.

Dr. Ray O. Hall was dismissed from the department of commerce, it now appears, after he had protested against certain changes which were made in the manuscript of his report on "The Balance of International Payments of the United States in 1930." In a letter to the secretary of commerce Dr. Hall complains of the omission from the printed report of a statement that merchandise imports held up well in the first half of the 1930 fiscal year because of a desire on the part of importers to avoid higher duties. Another omitted statement attributed much of the great increase in tourist travel to Canada to prohibition. These changes, he says, were made for political reasons.

It is at least questionable whether it is the business of government statisticians to try to interpret their figures, however impartial and disinterested the interpretation may be. There is much to be said for letting the facts speak for themselves. The source of the data and the method of making estimates where precision is impossible should be stated as a matter of course, but a governmental statistical report does not seem the proper place for expressing opinions as contrasted with facts.

The suppression or alteration of figures is an entirely different matter. If Dr. Hall's charge in this respect is true, it reflects gravely upon both the integrity and the good sense of the responsible officials. It suggests at best an unwholesome fear of criticism and at worst a desire to cover up errors of policy.

Editorial of the Day

CHICAGO AND MEXICO.

[The Sun, Baltimore.]

After having one municipal administration in Chicago conducted largely on the platform of having King George of England keep "his snoot" out of the affairs of that metropolis, it is a relief to know that there is currently a disposition on the part of the "Queen City" to yield something to the state department in the conduct of its "foreign affairs," as reflected by a quashing of the contempt of court proceedings against Adolfo Dominguez, the acting Mexican consul.

We have never been clear on the technical details of this case, which led to a six month jail sentence for the acting consul, but its larger import was to involve the United States, via Chicago, in a diplomatic incident with Mexico, and at a time when the Mexican citizenry is sorely disturbed, and rightfully, over the summary acquittal of the Oklahoma officer who shot down two Mexican students, one of them a relative of President Rubio. It would have been in keeping with the Bill Thompson tradition for Chicago to have asserted some kind of sovereignty and ordered out the bands and the firemen's quartet for special renditions of "America, First, Last and Always."

In neglecting this tradition Chicago serves itself and the country well. The country is saved embarrassment in its relations with Mexico, and Chicago has more time for its strictly domestic difficulties, which seem to be manifold.

TO PREVENT MOTTLED TEETH.

In certain places a large part of the population have what is known as "mottled teeth." Among the school children in these places the malady is almost universal. While no great harm results, the condition is at least disfiguring and those who have it are made unhappy. Most of the towns from which the reports of wide prevalence of mottled teeth have come are located in the Mississippi valley and in the Rocky mountain region.

There have been many investigations of and reports on the malady, but none of these have brought happiness or even hope to the afflicted. But now there is a different story to tell. Dr. H. V. Churchill and associated scientists have found the cause to be an excess of fluorine in the drinking water. In order to remove the excess of this element from a water supply Dr. Churchill recommends the following procedures:

Enough lime or other alkali is added to make the water definitely alkaline. Then some ferric sulfate or other cheap iron salt is added. This throws down a precipitate sodium fluoride which, in turn, is removed by filtration or sedimentation.

This may not be the ultimate best method, but it is the best now known. Eventually a better may be worked out.

In an Arkansas town where the people used water from shallow wells there was much typhoid and other water borne disease. This was an industrial community developed by one manufacturing company. The proprietors of the plant decided to put in a water system in which bacteriologically good water had to be piped several miles. The people were happy to be rid of typhoid fever, but their joy turned to sorrow when a large part of the population developed mottled teeth. Investigation showed the bacteriologically pure water of the new supply to be the cause. The people went back to the old shallow wells and the danger of typhoid.

It was in this community that Dr. Churchill, continuing the investigation, found excess of fluorine in the water to be the cause of the tooth trouble. The company can now apply the proposed method for the removal of the excess of fluorine, and the people can resume the use of the public water supply.

That fluorine was in some way related to tooth quality has long been known. Somewhere about a quarter of a century ago Dr. J. N. Hurty, then health officer of Indiana, was using his bulletin to inform the people of the relation of fluorine to the teeth. These later investigations show that Dr. Hurty was wrong in some of his conclusions, and probably in some of his advice, but somehow he had acquired the notion that there was a relation between fluorine in drinking water and the quality of the teeth. He seems to have been right in thinking that the drinking water or the food should contain fluorine, though he failed to recognize the harmfulness of an excess.

PROBABLY RINGWORM.

Mrs. C. E. C. writes: I have a very large and thick toenail on one of my big toes. It has been that way now for nearly five years. When it first started looking funny it went sort of yellow and instead of the nail coming off, as I supposed it was going to do, it just kept getting thicker and thicker until now at times I have to file the top of the nail in order to wear my shoes. I never remember hurting it. What would cause it to go that way? Is it dangerous? Would you recommend having it taken off. If so, is it much of an operation?

REPLY.

You have some disease of the nail, probably ringworm. The trouble scarcely warrants removal. Treatment for ringworm of the nail should improve this condition, at least.

PARESIS.

E. S. writes:

1. Is paresis a form of insanity?
2. How does the affected person act?

REPLY.

1. It is one form.
2. His judgment becomes poor; he is likely to risk and lose his money; to become unexplainably unmoral. He has delusions. These are often delusions of grandeur.

IRRESPONSIBLE FATHER.

Chicago, July 11.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—1. Is a young woman, 24 years old, the oldest child in a family of three, required by law to support her mother when the father is separated from the mother and he is able to support her but will not do so?

2. If the young woman marries is the husband required to contribute to the support of her mother? 3. Or is she compelled to support her? R. P. A.

1. Of course, the obligation primarily rests upon the father. If it is not possible to force him to contribute, then the child could be required to contribute.
2. No.
3. Only to the extent of her independent means.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

CEMETERY DEED.

Chicago, July 11.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—Would it be advisable to have a cemetery deed recorded in the county recorder's office?

2. What would be the benefit?
3. Could any nonsectarian cemetery refuse burial in case the deed to the lot had been recorded? F. J. V.

1. This is technically the correct procedure with respect to real estate, but cemetery lots are ordinarily of comparatively small value and the danger of adverse possession or other trouble with the title is small. Hence, the deeds are not ordinarily recorded.
2. One protection would be against the possibility of the lot being sold to a new purchaser.
3. Depends on the by-laws.

IS A CITIZEN.

Chicago, July 8.—[Friend of the People.]—My father came to this country while I was a baby. He took out his citizenship papers before I was 21. Am I a citizen or must I take out citizenship papers? A. C.

You are a citizen of the United States if you resided in this country before you reached the age of 21 and were under the age of 21 at the time of your father's naturalization. FRED J. SCHLOTFELDT, District Director of Naturalization.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

GERMANY is having so much trouble these last few days that the allied nations who fought her in the great war are beginning to think they were all wet in assailing her with tanks, artillery, bombing planes and millions of soldiers. If they had known what they know now they wouldn't have fired anything at Germany but a moratorium.

CAL COOLIDGE is back in his native haunts in old Vermont. Cal's prose works remind us of that other Vermonter, the poet, Robert Frost, who, although a Vermonter only by adoption, is typical of the hard, rugged, unemotional hills of the Green Mountain state. Here is an epic by Robert Frost on Vermont which sounds strangely like the state papers and column contributions of Cal:

Anything I can say about New Hampshire,
Will serve almost as well about Vermont,
Excepting that they differ in their mountains.
The Vermont mountains stretch extended straight;

Doesn't that sound just like Cal writing a lyrical ode about his boyhood home? No ranting or raving or divine afflatus monkey business about it. Of course Mr. Frost neglected to say that the mountains both in New Hampshire and Vermont are made of dirt and rocks, and Cal never would have neglected that opportunity, but why paint the lily?

AUSTRALIA AND CANADA are going to pay us back some more for soaking 'em with the Smoot-Hawley high tariff law. They've concluded a trade agreement under which they will trade more with each other and less with the U. S. A. All right, just for that we ought to do something to show Australia and Canada they're not so much. We can get even with Australia by hiking up the duty on kangaroos, and scare Canada to death by saying we're going to annex her right away and slap the 18th amendment on 'em. Then they'll be good!

WHITE DEATH.

O tell me not that death is always black,
Or life forever locked within an ancient urn!
For I have seen the withered vine come back
To bleed a rose; and I have seen return
The things that died from winter's blight;
And I have heard above the burying ground
Ah, faith shall surely see where fails the sight
And silence but bespeak some higher sound!

Nor tell me that 'tis sad for youth to die,
While lingers age long after songs are sung,
For music must be mingled in the lonely cry
Of One who on the thorny tree was hung,—
Of lads who fell when Flanders wheat was high:—
I love to think of Him and them among
All youthful dead who turned a swifter page;
Who scorned to limp the graying road to age,
Or cling too long a ladder with a broken rung.

Better with sad Shelley and the lovely Keats
To die at dawn; to pass in golden prime,
Safe folded in the cool of burial sheets,
Than in age to watch the weary hands of time
Turn past sweet May to wild November sleet;
Better a lonely grave where meek sheep bleat,
Near Alan Seeger and his tryst with fate,
Than cling to life so long that death's too late;—
Better with Joyce Kilmer dead in Belgian wheat.

ABORIGINE.

IN RESPONSE to our earnest questing for a nice lonesome sort of place to go during vacation, a Canadian hotel, speaking of its advantages, says: (1) Close proximity to three golf links; (2) nine tennis courts; (3) splendid bass fishing; (4) palatial dance halls and movies in the nearby towns; (5) bridge and tea dances on the veranda. We were just about to throw the circular into the waste basket when our eagle eye caught advantage No. 6—The government liquor stores are located close by. Now why in the world did they name the other five things at all? But reason No. 6—ah, there is a reason!

WE USED TO WONDER what became of the college yell leaders when they graduated. It didn't seem as if there was any place whatever in the world for them. Now we know: they become official greeters.

EVANSTON is having a terrible time passing laws designed to trap Chicago visitors who come up there to swim in the lake and then getting caught in its own trap. The Evanstonians had an idea that they looked different from Chicagoans, bulging brows and a highly cultural expression and a general appearance of superiority. Yet when the cops sally forth to grab Chicagoans who are using the lake and breathing up the Evanston air they always bag more Evanstonians than Chicagoans. This is a terrific shock to the Evanstonians. But they might as well know that they look a good deal like the rest of the human race. What they ought to do up there is require every Evanstonian to have a bright red strawberry mark tattooed on his right hand or, better yet, in the center of the forehead. But if they do that it will be fine for them, but wait until they come to Chicago. We'll make 'em buy admission tickets to Lincoln park and the loop.

THE SAME OLD GAME

FROM THE TRIBUNE'S COLUMNS

16 YEARS AGO TODAY

JULY 15, 1915.

CHICAGO.—The street car men win a big victory in the award that will be handed down by the arbitration commission July 16. They win the two big things they demanded—increases in wages and shortening the term of the graded scale. The term of the contract also is to be two years instead of three.

NEW YORK.—Harry K. Thaw won the first important victory in his nine years of fighting for freedom when a jury which, since three weeks ago, has been listening to testimony regarding his present sanity brought in a verdict that Thaw now is sane. What the jury decided is of value only inasmuch as it may or may not influence Supreme Court Justice Peter A. Hendrick in declaring whether Thaw shall be released from custody or sent back to Matteawan.

CHICAGO.—Construction work on the new $5,000,000 Field Museum of Natural History will begin today after twelve years of planning and negotiations. Stanley Field, president of the museum, yesterday directed the contractors and architects to start work immediately and speed it up as fast as possible. Three years is given as an outside estimate for the completion of the new museum. When completed it will be the largest marble building in the world, and one of the largest museums.

JULY 15, 1901.

CHICAGO.—Negotiations are believed to be under way for the return of Capt. A. C. Anson to the Chicago National league baseball club in a controlling position. The club, so the story goes, is to change hands, with James A. Hart, present head of the team, retiring. C. S. Cox, who has been connected with the Spalding Manufacturing company for several years, came to Chicago and conferred with Mr. Anson. It is declared his visit was for the purpose of seeing whether Anson would consider taking charge of the club. A. G. Spalding and John R. Walsh hold 650 of the 1,000 shares of the Chicago club and Capt. Anson holds 130 shares. It is understood that Walsh is unfriendly to the plan of placing Anson in charge.

DOWAGIAC, Mich.—Horace Peters, the man who murdered Peter Smith last Thursday, today shot and killed himself on the exact spot where the body of his victim fell.

50 YEARS AGO TODAY

JULY 15, 1881.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—It has been a day of increased hopefulness regarding the condition of President Garfield. The official bulletins continue the agreeably monotonous reports: "The President continues to improve." Dr. Bliss now permits himself to be quoted as saying that the President will get well. No recurrence of the great fever which reached its crisis three days ago is expected.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—United State District Attorney Corkhill made public details of the confession of Charles J. Guiteau. It reveals that he had followed the President for six weeks every time Mr. Garfield left the White House and even tried to find means of assassinating him in church. Guiteau said that he purchased the pistol on June 8 for $10 and told of practicing firing at a board. On June 12 he saw the President leave for the Christian church, took his revolver and followed him but found he could not shoot Mr. Garfield without killing somebody else. On June 18 he lay in wait in the Union station when Mr. Garfield and his party were starting for Long Branch, but he said he did not have the heart to shoot the President in Mrs. Garfield's presence because she looked so weak and frail. Guiteau's statement undoubtedly will do much to weaken the insanity theory because it discloses the most careful premeditation.

ROME.—Pope Leo has written to King Humbert complaining bitterly of the conduct of the government in not preventing the disgraceful disturbances during the removal of the remains of Pope Pius IX. from St. Peter's to the Church of San Lorenzo.

ELEVATED FARES.

Chicago, July 10.—Now that most of our salaries have been reduced and rents and the prices of so many commodities have also been lowered, I feel that it would be only just that "L" fares should be brought at least to the level sustained during times of prosperity; that is, three passages for a quarter. It is clearly out of proportion that during a period of depression we should be paying more than ever for the privilege of standing up in stuffy "L" cars, sardine style. Of course, I know it would be too much to ask that we Chicagoans enjoy the New York privilege of rapid transit for a nickel, but I am sure that most of us, employed and unemployed, would be able to use profitably the extra dollar-a-month's economy.

I also wonder if the present dime fare has brought any benefit to the employés of the "L" company. Clearly there has been no improvement in the "L" service, and so it would seem that only the "L" magnates' purses have benefited from the increase.

The reduction in the "L" company's costs through the use of slot machines, as well as the reduction in price of materials used to maintain the service, should only in justice be shared with the public who make the business of the "L" roads possible. JAMES SUTTER.

CRIMINAL JUSTICE.

El Paso, Tex., July 7.—One hundred years for police killer in three and one-third hour trial. Wonderful? Yes, it would have been wonderful if the convicted had been any one of the hundreds of murdering gangsters operating in Chicago under political protection. Coy Thompson, a stranger, alone, broke, and without a pull, gets a record ride to Joliet, and gangland thereby serves notice that they own Chicago and intend to keep it. F. W.

PANTS.

Chicago, July 3.—It is not my nature to kick or complain about fashions or style in dress, but the trousers of the average suit one buys today are too wide. The experience of some of my friends as well as my own experience is that in walking down a flight of stairs my foot will catch into the cuff of my trousers and it is just by sheer luck that I have not fallen headlong down the stairs. If the cuffs were eliminated it would be much better, or leave the cuffs on and make the trousers somewhat narrower. SUBSCRIBER.

SHOWERS ON SUNDAY.

Chicago, July 6.—I go to the Douglas park field track every Sunday morning during the summer months. I have been doing this for the past seven years. It is rather pathetic to see the attendance at the park drop off each summer. There was a time when as many as one hundred athletes, both men and women, would meet regularly every Sunday morning. Now you can barely see ten or twelve at any time.

The locker rooms are almost always shut. The showers cannot and must not be used on Sunday, although the water is always cold. Every effort is made to discourage and dissuade the young folk from coming to the track on Sunday. Instead of making athletics more popular and interesting the park commissioners either don't know their jobs or are downright negligent. PAUL H. DUBIS.

THE CURVATURE OF THE EARTH.

Chicago, July 8.—Of course Volta may be wrong, himself, when he says the world is flat. But still I wish some scientist would tell me how Copernicus' theory could be right. Could somebody explain these two things to me which seem to disprove the world is so very round:

1. The Lindbergh beacon, less than one-fifth of a mile high, can be seen for over 500 miles when the atmosphere permits. Allowing for the generally recognized curvature of the earth, this beam of light at 500 miles would be a great many miles overhead. And yet, not only aviators flying one to two miles above earth can see this light, but even persons on the ground; and they all say it at 500 miles as though it's not tremendously high overhead.

2. Copernicus used as proof of the world's curvature the example of a boat's disappearing beyond the horizon. As one watches it sail out of the harbor and on its course the boat gradually fades from sight. Why is it, then, that a telescope, just a simple telescope, will enable a person standing in the very same place to see the boat again? Anybody with a little time on his hands and any sort of accurate telescope handy can go down to the lake and perform this little experiment. W. A. HUGHES.

TREATED LIKE A WARD HEELER.

Chicago, July 10.—We, the county employés, have suffered another payless pay day and the newspapers are making no great fuss about it. If we worked for the board of education, the city or state governments, our cries would be re-echoed far and wide from radio, press and platform. When the county board found a third of the taxpayers failed to pay their taxes they did not [in the name of those honester ones who did pay] rise up in righteous wrath and force the delinquents to pay. No, they followed the dishonorable line of least resistance by letting their employés go unpaid. They not only did this but they followed the example of the city by announcing that employés would be docked two weeks' salary as a measure of economy. They forgot that, while the city employés suffered no curtailment last year, the county workers were forced to a two months' [no, not weeks, months] vacation without pay, that they had their paid vacations eliminated and were disallowed no payment for days absent through illness.

Most county employés are under civil service and hold their positions as a result of passing strict examination tests and serving several months on probation. To dock their salaries is illegal, dishonest and demoralizing. It is also stupid and illogical, for it places them in the class of ward heelers and appointees who hold sinecures as a reward for electioneering service. It was to defeat this kind of thing the civil service law was passed. COUNTY CIVIL SERVANT.

THE SHERIFF.

Chicago, July 8.—Why not leave Sheriff Meyering alone? He did a good job as alderman of the 8th ward. If he sees fit to spend a measly thousand bucks for stars to build up a good police reserve, why not let him do it? Go after the grafters and let an honest man alone. READER.

SOUTHWEST ASKS MORATORIUM FOR WHEAT GROWERS

Last Chance to Wait for Better Prices.

Kansas City, Mo., July 14.—(AP)—A debt moratorium for wheat farmers is being proposed in the southwest at harvest time—usually the season of plenty—finds farmers in despair over the unprecedented low prices offered for their crops.

Behind of to the government, sponsors of the moratorium are looking to bankers, farm implement companies and merchants to give them a respite from the bill collector.

The hope is that if creditors will wait all even 30 days, or better, 60 or 90 days, wheat prices can be increased by aiding the farmer from the necessity of selling his product at existing prices, which are as low as 25 cents a bushel at some country marketing points.

Want Several Weeks' Credit.

In Enid, Okla., tomorrow night representatives of farm organizations will confer with bankers and implement company officials to ask that loan collections not be pushed for a month or longer. E. N. Puckett, manager of the Union Equity Cooperative exchange, and John Manley, manager of the Oklahoma wheat growers, called the meeting.

A similar movement was under way in Hutchinson, Kas., initiated by the local chamber of commerce. Those in charge of the Enid meeting said business and farm organizations in both Kansas and Texas would be asked to join the moratorium plan.

Representative bankers have announced they are willing to cooperate in any move to relieve the farmer, but are not offering any advice as to withholding the sale of crops.

In response to an inquiry from a banker in Hutchinson, Kas., bankers, Alexander Legge, executive of the International Harvester company and former head of the federal farm board, said several days ago that agents of his company had been instructed not to force farmers to sell on a depressed market to meet payments on farm machinery, but that each case would have to be considered on its merits.

Many farmers have piled at least part of their wheat on the ground for storage, but others have been forced to sell.

Refuse to Harvest Grain.

A report to the Amarillo, Tex., Daily News from Guymon, Okla., said many farmers were refusing to harvest their crops and a few were plowing it under. "In the majority of cases the wheat land is mortgaged, and the farmers have borrowed additional money for seed," the message said. "Some of the farmers have advised mortgage holders to 'come get it out of the ground if you want it.' In other instances, machinery firms have tied up the wheat at elevators."

Reduced freight rates on grain ordered into effect by the interstate commerce commission Aug. 1 are expected to be of aid to farmers who sell after that date.

Wheat was selling at 25 cents in Amarillo today and about the same price over the rest of the Texas Panhandle.

Walter Barlow of the Amarillo grain exchange said farmers were selling only what is necessary to pay harvest expenses, and estimated about 60 per cent of the crop is being stored.

At Enid, Okla., today the price was 28 cents a bushel, and the farmers out in the country were getting several cents less. At Independence, Kas., where 30 cents was offered, elevator operators reported farmers were holding back.

Reports from Larned said bill collectors—each one attempting to get preference—had become so bothersome farm work actually was being impeded.

Doherty Wins First Round in Gas Battle with Kansas

Topeka, Kas., July 14.—(AP)—After the Cities Service company had won today an initial victory in the court battle to enjoin enforcement of the action of the Kansas banking department in withdrawing its approval of certain of the concern's stocks, hearings continued on the company's application for a temporary injunction.

Judges George H. Whitcomb and George A. Kline of the Shawnee county District court held, in effect, that provisions in the 1931 law, under which the department withdrew its approval of Cities Service stocks listed on the New York Curb exchange, except the company's first preferred, were void and unconstitutional.

The judges overruled a motion by Roland Boynton, state's attorney general, to dissolve a temporary restraining order against enforcement of the banking department's action, taken on July 2.

Stocks Called Doubtful.

A sweeping denial of any connection between failure of Gov. Harry H. Woodring's negotiations for a gas rate cut in Kansas and suspension of Cities Service company stocks was made on the stand by Carl Newcomer, assistant state bank commissioner.

Newcomer testified he had arrived at his opinion the stocks were of "doubtful or worthless" value after making a study of financial reports. He said information available to him showed the company had a ratio of $1.50 in assets to $1 in liabilities and that "it should have a ratio of at least $4 to $1."

John D. Dwyer, Chicago, vice president of Pierson-Taft company, Chicago investment dealers, testified the value of Cities Service stocks was "substantially in excess of the current market price."

Under cross-examination Dwyer said the company handled Cities Service securities, but denied his testimony was influenced by that relationship.

Doherty Group Explains.

New York, July 14.—(AP)—An official statement issued at the offices of Cities Service company today said that the decision of the Kansas District court in its case against the Kansas state banking department confirmed Henry L. Doherty's charge that the attempt to bar the sale of Cities Service securities in Kansas was based upon considerations other than the merit of the securities.

"All the evidence points to the fact that the hand of the Kansas City Star, Gov. Woodring, and other politicians it controls, are back of this fight," the statement says. "The president of the Kansas City Star company has openly admitted that his son-in-law is engaged in the gas business."

Charge Answered.

Kansas City, Mo., July 14.—(AP)—George B. Longan, president of the Kansas City Star company, said today "the charge that the Star or any of its executives is directly or indirectly interested in any gas company whatever is preposterous and untrue."

"The fact that my 26 year son-in-law is one of the lawyers for a company that has been looking over the Omaha field, where the Doherty companies are not in business, is the only foundation for the Doherty assertion," Longan said.

WHAT FIGHT'S ABOUT

Kansas City, Mo., July 14.—[Special.]—Gas is delivered in Kansas City, Kas., "at the city's gate" at 40 cents a thousand cubic feet. The distributing company, there known as the Wyandotte County Gas company, sells to consumers on a sliding scale with a minimum charge of $1 for the first 500 feet per month and 80 cents a thousand for all in excess. The ordinary household use of gas for cooking amounts to about 95 cents a thousand. Furnace users get a lower rate.

The Topeka distributing company also pays 40 cents at the city gate. There the gas rate is 90 cents with a reduction for large quantities.

BOARD EXPECTS NATURAL GAS TO BRING PRICE CUT

Downstate Cities Heard by Commerce Body.

The cost to the consumer of natural gas in Chicago and downstate should be "substantially below" that paid for artificial gas if a new mixture of natural and artificial gas—proposed by the People's Gas, Light & Coke Co., is allowed, the Illinois commerce commission indicated yesterday.

This was the position taken in two conferences, one with representatives of the Chicago company and the other at a round table attended by representatives of the following downstate cities: Springfield, Peoria, Pekin, Champaign, Danville, Marseilles and Quincy.

One of the spokesmen for the downstate group, Hugh J. Dobbs, city attorney of Springfield, said the cities want a justification of all rate schedules of pipe line companies, particularly the Panhandle Illinois Pipe Line company and the Illinois Power company and Central Illinois Light company, which would pipe the gas if the mixture is allowed.

Asked to Submit Contract.

If this justification is not submitted in the evidence presented by the Panhandle company, the cities wish to make their own investigation, Dobbs declared. The commission suggested that the Panhandle company submit a form of contract applicable to all purchasers in the state.

The commission also indicated that it would expect the distributing companies to file rate schedules so that they might be considered along with the proposed contracts for sale of gas by the Panhandle company to distributing companies. The People's company probably will have its new schedule ready for submission to the commission within two or three weeks.

Railway Receiver Heard.

Other action before the commission yesterday included the statement of W. G. Bierd, receiver for the Chicago and Alton railroad, who said the road is "ready, able and willing" to operate an airplane passenger line between Chicago, Peoria, Springfield, East St. Louis and St. Louis if the commission decides such a line is necessary."

Mr. Bierd appeared at the hearing of the application of the Century Air Lines, Inc., and the American Airways, Inc., for certificates to operate such a line. Both companies are already operating over a major part of the territory, which parallels, for the most part, the route of the railroad.

Four Ask Jury Trial After Ducking Citizen, 60, in Lake

Four young men who "just for fun" ducked a man in the lake, asked and were granted a jury trial when arraigned before Judge Leon Edelman yesterday on charges of disorderly conduct. The four were captured by Lincoln park police early yesterday after they had doused Ignatz Kulczinski, 60 years old, 309 North State street, in the lake at the Oak street beach. They are Edward Simonds, 24 years old, 918 North Wells street; Walter Lutz, 29, of the same address; Samuel Arnold, 22, of 938 North Wells street, and Anthony Bongiorno, 25, of 451 North Wells street.

ANCIENT MARINER SPINS A TALE OF WAR AND WIVES

When police of the Fillmore street district raided a beer flat at 3217 West 15th street they found an ancient looking colored man as one of the inmates. With Mrs. Ida Packer, arrested as keeper, and several other patrons, he was taken to the station, where Sergt. Sidney Sullivan questioned him.

"My name is John Lopez," said the ancient. "I am a Moor, and I was born in the French Sudan in 1827. That makes me 104 years old. With the French army I fought in the Crimean war in 1854 and 1855. I have been married twenty-two times and there were sixty children, but I don't remember all their names."

"But why," asked Sergt. Sullivan, "are you staying in Chicago?"

"I was an able seaman until five years ago," replied John Lopez, "and I got a little tired of just being a sailor with a sweetheart in every port. So I decided to come to Chicago and settle down, maybe to get another wife. I haven't found one yet, but there is plenty of time."

WILLIAMS OIL-O-MATIC

-lowest priced quality oil burner

HERE . . . announcement means to every owner of a small home—without over-investment, you can now enjoy for the first time every advantage which oil heat brings to larger homes.

You burn low cost fuel oil, instead of the costlier distillate you would have to use with most other types of burners. This difference in the price of fuel will save you hundreds of dollars.

You have Oil Heating designed by the very engineers who pioneered this matchless home comfort in the famous Williams Oil-O-Matic years ago. Every Oil-O-Matic feature, including the Williams Diffusor, is found in this lower priced Model K.

And, in addition, HUSHED HEAT!

HUSHED HEAT is something brand-new. No other oil burner has it, regardless of price. It is the result of a discovery made by Williams' combustion engineering staff. It is unusually quiet . . . and clean . . . and economical.

To produce HUSHED HEAT, an oil burner must deliver a practically perfect mixture of oil and air, never permitting either to vary in amount. This perfect mixture must be burned cleanly in mid-air—every atom of it.

Your nearest Williams Oil-O-Matic dealer will install the new Model K Oil-O-Matic in your home for the lowest price at which quality oil heat has ever been sold. And the Williams Budget Plan makes the buying surprisingly easy. Williams Oil-O-Matic Heating Corp., Bloomington, Ill.

BILLINGS GROUP SUBMITS COUNTY HOSPITAL PLAN

ntrol Will Remain in Regular Staff.

A revised plan for the reorganiza-n of the Cook county hospital has een completed by a committee consisting of Dr. Frank Billings, Dr. Raymond McNealy and Dr. Vernon David and placed in the hands of President Whealan of the county board, according to an announcement last night by Dr. Karl A. Meyer, chief of staff of the hospital.

The plan is a compromise between the proposal for the reorganization of the hospital made by the Chicago Medical society, together with four university medical schools located in Chicago, and a substitute plan submitted by the hospital staff.

Under the new plan submitted yesterday, administration of the hospital will remain in the hands of the county board and the hospital staff. But provision is made for greater correlation of the hospital facilities with those of the medical schools, both as to the care of patients and as to medical research and instruction.

Schools to Have Voice.

Staff posts at the hospital will remain, as in the past, under civil service rules. From the staff members, however, the deans of the medical schools of the Universities of Illinois and Chicago and Northwestern and Loyola universities shall each appoint a physician, who will, under the hospital chief of staff, direct the activities of all staff members who also teach at his university.

Each of the medical schools will also nominate a list of graduates, and from this list the hospital staff will each choose one or more men who will rank as associate physicians at the hospital.

These associate physicians will work in the hospital with the staff physician, and through the associates' connection with the medical schools, the research and laboratory facilities of the universities will be made available in the treatment of hospital patients under the care of the staff physicians. In return, the universities will have the benefit of the observations and research carried on in connection with hospital cases by the associates.

History of the Compromise.

When the two plans for reorganization of the hospital were presented to the county board and controversy developed, President Whealan appointed five physicians who, with four more appointed by the deans of the medical schools, were assigned the task of arranging a compromise plan.

That group turned the task, in turn, over to a committee composed of Drs. Billings, David and McNealy, who prepared the final report.

"The committee had the patients' interests first in mind," said Dr. McNealy, secretary of the committee. "We believe that the patients, in medical and surgical care, will benefit greatly by the supervision of men under the direction of the universities.

"The compromise plan will mean better organized care, with more teamwork. Under the reciprocal arrangement, the universities will study the patients, and the patients will benefit by the vast research funds which are available to the universities."

Prosecutor Probes Affairs of Former Berwyn Officials

At the request of Mayor Frank Novotny of Berwyn, State's Attorney Swanson yesterday instructed Assistant State's Attorney Homer Dodge to investigate alleged irregularities in the former municipal administration of the suburb. Mr. Novotny succeeded former Mayor Byron C. Thorpe after an exciting election on April 2.

Attorney Dodge's first action was to obtain a subpoena duces tecum for the records and books of the A. A. Electric company, which has offices at 3125 South 60th court, Cicero, and at 4012 Ogden avenue. Otto Schlesinger is president of the company.

Charges Electric Monopoly.

The electric company has had a monopoly of the installations of a general electric lighting system in Berwyn at a cost of $1,500,000, Mayor Novotny told the state's attorney. He declared that he has had auditors going over the books of the city for two months.

"The auditors have uncovered a number of interesting checks made out to cash and to former city officials which disclose conditions which must be investigated," Mayor Novotny declared. "In addition to an investigation of the electric light contracts, an investigation should be made into the paving contracts."

Among the checks found in the records of the electric company was one for $17,500 issued to and cashed by a former city official. Other checks for smaller amounts had also been issued to former city officials.

Wants Tax Sale Inquiry.

The mayor told the state's attorney that the sale of 269 lots for taxes should be investigated. Most of the lots were purchased by former city officials for small prices, he declared. He cited as an instance the purchase of 104 lots for a total of $27,000 by former City Controller Emil Straka, now deceased. The sale of a building as a city hall should also be investigated, Mayor Novotny said. The building, appraised at $80,000 by the real estate board, was purchased for $130,000 by former city officials, he declared.

State's Attorney Swanson said that the evidence presented to him by Mayor Novotny was ample to justify an investigation.

OAK PARK GROUP TO FIGHT RETURN OF FERON TO JOB

Attorney Robert E. Cantwell Jr. yesterday filed in the Circuit court an intervening petition on behalf of a group of Oak Park citizens, on the basis of which he will seek to persuade Judge A. W. Summers today to withdraw a recent order which in effect restores James M. Feron to the post of police magistrate in Oak Park.

The Oak Park village board voted to abolish the office of police magistrate after a shortage had been found in the accounts of Feron's office.

ENDS LIFE WITH GAS.

Charles Donaldson, 70 years old, 68 West Superior street, committed suicide by turning on the burner of a gas stove in the kitchen of his home yesterday because of dependency over ill health.

7-Day Cruise to Canada and Niagara Falls

. . . a thrilling week you'll never forget!

Sail on the palatial, oil-burning, White Liners, "NORTH AMERICAN" or "SOUTH AMERICAN" from Navy Pier, Chicago, to the peaceful Georgian Bay country . . Cruise in American and Canadian waters to Parry Sound, Canada . . that's a trip for you.

Three hours at Mackinac Island . . Three hours at Detroit . . stop at Cleveland . . Full day at Buffalo and Niagara Falls . . a seven day cruise — over 2000 miles.

Every stateroom, regardless of location, is outside—with porthole or window. Exclusive on the Lakes with these ships, is the observation garden, high up atop all other decks. Canopied during the day—open to the sky evenings.

This is the only trip from Chicago into beautiful Georgian Bay, Canada, and these two ships are the only exclusively passenger "cruising" ships on the Great Lakes. Bear these important facts in mind in planning your trip. Sail the Luxury Way on oil burners. No smoke — no cinders.

Yes! And the Price is Only $72.50 including meals, transportation and berth in an airy outside stateroom.

Hides Tiny Lines, Wrinkles, Pores

A new French process face powder containing new "Blanc de Neige," hides tiny lines, wrinkles and pores

Beautiful women everywhere simply rave about it. They say it spreads smoothly, leaves a youthful freshness. Stays on longer—prevents large pores—banishes ugly shine, never cakes, never looks flaky, never irritates or smarts—never leaves the skin dry or drawn. All are delighted with its delicate fragrance.

To our knowledge, this powder is the only powder found entirely without lead because we use this new "Blanc de Neige." Made from the finest imported powder base.

Use the new "Blanc de Neige" face powder — MELLO-GLO — to improve your beauty. If your skin is difficult to powder smoothly, ask for the gold box with white edge—if skin is dry, fine or very sensitive, take the gold box with blue edge.

MOTHER-IN-LAW IRKS HER; SHE GOES TO COURT

Her mother-in-law's charge that she had tricked her husband into marriage by the romantic light of a Florida moon is one of the reasons why Mrs. Eleanor W. Morris of Evanston, a bride of seven months, is seeking separate maintenance, she declared yesterday in a bill filed in the Circuit court.

Two months after her marriage to Edward E. Morris in Birmingham, Ala., on Dec. 10, 1930, they moved to Evanston, the bill says. Thereafter her mother-in-law, Mrs. Jennie M. Morris, lived with them, occupying the only bedroom and interposing "sarcastic, critical and slanderous" remarks into the harmony of their home life, the wife charges.

After her mother-in-law told her, she says, that she was "just one of those warm Southern women who gets what she goes after," and added that the "sole stimulus for the marriage was a Florida moon under whose light no man had the right to resist a charming woman," Mrs. Morris left her home on June 28. Her husband forced her to leave by the back door so as to prevent gossip by the neighbors, she charges.

In the bill Mrs. Morris says she is supporting herself as a stenographer, although her husband earns more than $225 a month. She is represented by the law firm of Huff & Jarvis.

GASOLINE ALLEY—HAVE A CARE

UNCLE DOC, I'M COLLECTIN' MATCH FOLDERS. WILL YOU SAVE 'EM FOR ME?
YOU KNOW THAT'S DANGEROUS — FOR A BOY TO HAVE A LOT OF MATCHES. ARE YOU COLLECTING FULL OR EMPTY ONES?
FULL IF I CAN GET THEM.
WELL THERE'S ONLY TWO KINDS THAT AREN'T DANGEROUS— FULL ONES THAT STAY FULL— AND EMPTY ONES.
AND AS YOUR DOCTOR, I'D ADVISE YOU ABOUT MATCHES THE SAME AS ABOUT MOSQUITO BITES.
WHAT HAVE MATCHES GOT TO DO WITH MOSQUITO BITES?
DON'T GET TOO MANY OF EITHER ONE. IF YOU'VE GOT 'EM IT'S HARD TO KEEP FROM SCRATCHING 'EM.

E. B. Stern Adds Mystery Novel to Her Works

Sports with Gay, Bohemian Setting.

BY EDITH WEIGLE.

E. B. STERN, whose "The Matriarch" was so popular that it was put into play form, and whose "Thunderstorm" and "Mademoiselle" were extremely interesting pieces of writing, has turned her hand to a mystery story in "The Shortest Night". [Knopf]. Hugh Walpole did the same thing in "The Man with Red Hair." After years of writing novels it must be a diversion to get off a thriller, just for the fun of it. Like eating ham and eggs after a diet of caviar and truffles. Recently, E. Phillips Oppenheim, with a list of detective stories reads like a telephone directory, recently has written a novel, called "Simple Commonsense," which will be reviewed here in a few days. He, also, apparently found a change.

E. B. STERN, [Photo by Rosalind Fleischmann.]

"The Shortest Night" is full of the gay sophistication, the light banter, the debonair attitude for which Miss Stern is so well known. Her gay dinners and sparkles like the waters of the Mediterranean on which her characters are constantly dining. It is as though she sat down under a huge umbrella on the warm baked sands with a glass of champagne in one hand and her fountain pen in the other and scribbled down all the amusing, clever, and astounding thoughts that came into her head, stringing them together, as beads, on her thread of plot, smiling over her own antics as she did it.

Her people are a happy-go-lucky group of writers, artists, and actors assembled in the bohemian atmosphere of a friend's villa near Cannes. At Liberty hall: Every one does as he or she pleases and dresses as the mood dictates, to the horror of the host's aunt, Lady Humber, who has a formal state near by and an invisible princes, not "riff-raff."

Reading from left to right [and you can fairly see them in their abbreviated swimming togs, lounging on the sands, waiting for the daily post, and making wisecracks] are: Sophia Cunningham, a charmingly unconventional hostess, who keeps open house to all her English friends; Rumford, a writer of heart throbs for a certain paper and a source of mirth to her friends; Prunella and Joe, sister and brother, who illustrate and write, respectively; Paul Slade, junior partner in a firm of chartered accountants; Nancy Rhodes, Sophia's young and attractive secretary, and Reg Poole, an actor and the one square peg in the circle of gayety.

Reg is away at the time the story opens, so every one has a chance to air his opinion of him. They're all agreed it's Fred's inferiority complex that makes him "throw his weight around, perhaps a shade too much."

"He's forever gnawing at his vitals," says Paul. "I've seen Fred mop up more than half a large salmon soufflé, and it all went into the inferiority complex."

However, prompted by their hostess, they decided to throw their dislike of him to the winds, and when Sophia gives him such a "popularity week" as he has never hoped to have in his life. The description of this jolly, nit-wit crowd getting ready to welcome the stupid guest with open arms is one of the funniest moments in the book. Their banter and their antics would wring a smile from the sphinx.

The author now takes the bull by the horns and introduces a murder into this bohemian scene. Although she does it with a great deal of skill, it is shocking. It is as though you were looking up a lovely colored glass ball and when you were admiring it most suddenly blew up with a bang in your hands.

However, it is very nice of Miss Stern to kill off the only member of the house party who is disagreeable. She often works in the opposite manner.

The characters appear, each distinct and well drawn, and the plot thickens page by page. Sophia becomes her own private detective and tries to unravel the tangled skein of events surrounding the mysterious death of her guest. The French police keep a gendarme on the place, and one tries his hand at sleuthing. Also, the French cook, and her husband and baby, is petit Hercule, a lively, gesticulating background to the complicated scene.

The end is another surprise. For the sake of giving it away I'll not say another word to tell you that "The Shortest Night" makes grand summer reading and a happy change from the regulation murder mystery, in which of which we're all too familiar with.

BEG YOUR PARDON!

In an article concerning Lester Tilton, self-styled cancer healer, which was published July 5 under a Clinton, Ia., date line, allusion was made to a case in which Tilton was accused of practicing medicine without being licensed. The assertion was made that L. Sutton was then county attorney and his father, L. F. Sutton, counsel for Tilton. Merritt Tribune declares that the cases cited were brought before the grand jury in the years before he held office, and that the statute of limitations precluded any action by him while he became county attorney.

Adults Learn How Children Regard School

New Methods Are Used at Loyola University.

BY VIRGINIA GARDNER.

Something less than 200 children from 5 years old on up picked as "typical average children" are going to school in Loyola university this summer, apparently unconcerned by the fact that seated in their classroom are nuns and other teachers watching the children "react."

The children are as a matter of fact outnumbered by their observers, who are studying the children as they are being taught by expert teachers. The observers are students in education during the summer term at the university. In the morning from 8:30 to 11:30 o'clock they watch the children at work and at play, and in the afternoon meet in classes to discuss the children and how they have responded to methods of teaching.

"But although we are incorporating progressive educational theories in our teaching," said Joseph C. Thompson, principal of the domonstration school and principal of the Prescott public school in Chicago, "we are not faddists, I believe.

"We are not overthrowing the entire system of education as it stands today. There is a danger in the new, progressive education of going to extreme, of studying Johnnie's complexes and making allowances for them to such an extent that Johnnie becomes aware of it and soon acquires complexes if he didn't have them before.

"But when some of the children were so noisy in the hall that our ordinary university classes were bothered we had to curb them a little. Some extremists would say that that was wrong, we were interfering with the child's freedom. But we try to keep in mind the rules of society. If a child grew up to enjoy his own freedom at the expense of others, some one soon would interfere with it."

Austin G. Schmidt, dean of the graduate school, as well as the demonstration school, outlined the new teaching theories as follows:

"To let the child learn by doing.

"To substitute self-activity and purposeful learning for the old learning by bookish methods.

"No child should fail, barring some physical or mental defect, and if he does it is because he is not interested.

"See that a child is shown a reason for what he must learn."

To persons who were put through the third grade in public schools 20 years ago the methods of Miss Susan S. Ryan, professor of education in the Harris Teachers' college, St. Louis, who teaches third grade in the demonstration school, are pleasantly revolutionary. She may ask her pupils to write an original poem about a robin they see on the lawn outside the window. Or they may troop outside to see what they can see.

On the board yesterday was a painting they had made of what they had seen on one of these outside tours. Billy had made the momentous discovery that the water, at least that of Lake Michigan, and the sky meet. They had put it in the painting, and even had the sky right side up. They decided later that the sky really wasn't quite so blue, nor the grass quite so green. They would rectify matters by mixing paints better the next time.

Cannons' Roar Adds to Noise of Shriners' Camels and Elephants

Cleveland, O., July 14.—(AP)—Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, in convention here from all over North America, made lavish display of their showmanship today with spectacles that began early in the morning.

Today, the crowning day of the convention, was started off with a parade of 10,000 uniformed marchers, with bands, drum corps and a menagerie, including camels, elephants, zebras, and horses. Thirty-three of the 157 temples in North America had their uniformed organizations in line with approximately fifty bands.

Besides this noise, Battery B of the 135th Field Artillery, Ohio National Guard, fired a salute of twenty guns.

10,000 YOUNG PEOPLE PARADE AS VANGUARD OF A RELIGIOUS ARMY

San Francisco, Cal., July 14.—(AP)—To the strains of "Onward Christian Soldiers," 10,000 young people organized today to parade in a spectacular display of the spirit that has brought them from all parts of the world to attend the golden jubilee convention of the International Society of Christian Endeavor.

With half a dozen bands, an honor escort of police, banners, flags and costumes of a dozen countries, the parade offers the single mass display of the convention, which lasts the entire week.

The youth of China was the subject of an address at the session last night by Dr. C. Y. Cheng, moderator of the United Church of Christ in China.

"As long as young people in such numbers," he said, "have this interest in religion, there is no danger to the future of religion here, in China, or anywhere else.

"In the Nanking government there is scarcely a man over 40. Most of them are of the student group, and some are hardly more than boys. At this time there are more Christians in this Nanking government than we have ever had before."

The meeting was interrupted by a discussion on soviet Russia. Col. Raymond Robins, former American Red Cross commissioner to Russia, favored recognition of soviet Russia by the United States.

Protest was made from the audience by Julius Siemens, San Francisco Mennonite.

"I am awfully sorry from a Christian standpoint for some of the things we have heard," Siemens said, as he arose to interrupt Col. Robins, "but this is not the time or place to answer them."

Col. Robins had said of Russia, "I personally believe when this temporary hour has passed Russia will be the greatest opportunity for religious work in modern times."

He said living and labor conditions in Russia would be intolerable in America, but they were much better than these under the czarist régime.

"I am a Mennonite and they have virtually driven my church from Russia," Siemens declared. "Conditions in Russia today are worse than they were during the czarist government. We might just as well recognize an island of cannibals as recognize Russia."

Adoption of a resolution asking the government to take the lead in disarmament in the February conference marked the day's business session. Tonight's program included a talk on world peace by Harry N. Holmes, president of the New York State Christian Endeavor union.

Double Movie Bill for Sally's Gang at Chicago Theater

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

Our day should be well nigh perfect when we meet at the Chicago theater on Thursday, July 23, for our movie party. Not only will the picture, "Politics," with Marie Dressler and Polly Moran be an unusually good one, but the stage show promises to be excellent.

The production called "Parlor Sports" has for its principal Lulu McConnell. Miss McConnell is a well known comedian who is famed for her work on the screen as well as in the legitimate theater. She has been in a number of musical comedies and appeared in one edition of the "Follies."

Then there will be the Dorothea Berke ballet who will do a group of charming numbers. A trio of sailors will provide plenty of entertainment and we'll hear and see Raymond Baird, generally conceded to be the world's greatest solo saxophonist although he boasts of barely sixteen years.

And to enjoy all this with the group of one hundred lucky boys and girls whom I shall invite, you'll have to write your letter today because it must be in my office no later than tomorrow morning.

Invitations have been sent to the young baseball fans who will be with me tomorrow to see the Cubs-Giants game. I am sure they've reached you by this time and they contain all the information you need with directions for meeting.

Mary Garden in Corsica, Rides Mule for Exercise

New York, July 14.—(AP)—Mary Garden takes her exercise on a mule, her father, Robert D. Garden, said today on his arrival on the White Star liner Olympic. Miss Garden, he said, spent a month with him in Aberdeen, Scotland, fishing for trout. She then went to Corsica. There she is riding a mule for exercise and finding pleasure in long naps on the sands of the Corsican beaches. His daughter, he added, will return to the United States in the fall to sing for the radio, her contract with the Chicago Civic Opera company having terminated.

Nahum Sokolow New President for Zionists

Opposed by Germans and Laborites.

BASEL, Switzerland, July 14.—(AP)—Nahum Sokolow, veteran Zionist, leader and chairman of the Zionist executive, was elected president of the world Zionist organization tonight by a vote of 118 to 48.

NAHUM SOKOLOW. [Underwood and Underwood.]

The laborites and the German delegation voted against Sokolow, while the Lipsky group of the American delegation and the British delegation abstained from voting.

He was supported by the revisionists, the Mizrachi [orthodox Zionists] and the American delegates representing the Brandeis group. In this group was included Dr. Stephen S. Wise.

The plenary session voted $1,250,000 as the income for the next year as against an expenditure of $1,800,000, the difference of $450,000 to be made up out of extraordinary income.

The congress also adopted, by a vote of 87 to 74, a minority resolution offered by the revisionists disapproving of the spirit of the renunciation of the national idea by the administration of the Hebrew university in Jerusalem and instructing the Zionist executive to safeguard the national spirit of the university's administrators.

The vote on the resolution was marked by a stormy scene. Eliezer Kaplan, Palestine laborite, presiding when the education commission brought in the minority resolution, rebuked Dr. Chaim Arlosoroff, Palestine laborite, who had shouted across the hall that the vote was a cultural disgrace and a violation of academic freedom.

Kaplan ordered Arlosoroff to withdraw his remarks after his outcry had caused an uproar from various groups of delegates. The views of Dr. Judah L. Magnes, chancellor of the university, have been assailed by various Zionist groups, the Jewish Telegraphic Agency reports.

As an outgrowth of yesterday's disturbance when the Zionist flag was torn down, Abraham Lang, chairman of the Basel revisionist organization, was tried by the congress court and suspended from all Zionist activity until Jan. 1, 1932.

Meanwhile the political commission adopted its resolution on the Palestine development scheme to be submitted to the plenary session.

The resolution declares that "after hearing the executive report on negotiations of the Jewish agency with the mandatory government, the congress declares that contrary to paragraph 15 of Premier MacDonald's letter, which states that the primary purpose of any development scheme was the settlement both of Jews and displaced Arabs upon the land, the tendency became manifest in handling the land development scheme to subordinate the interest of Jewish agricultural settlement in respect to the allocation of the loan.

"The congress, therefore declares that the land development scheme projected by the government can receive the Jewish agency's support only if it is based on the principle of absolute equality of the Jewish and Arab shares in the benefits of this scheme and the principle of simultaneity of its execution."

The world Mizrachi conference closed last night with the election of Rabbi Meyer Berlin of New York as president and Rabbi J. L. Fishman of Brooklyn as chairman of the world executive.

INDIAN RULER PLANS TO RUN RAILWAYS WITHOUT ANY SMOKE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 14.—To build one of the world's largest waterworks is the project of the nizam of Hyderabad. For the last three years special irrigation engineers have been at work investigating the possibilities of hydro-electric irrigation on the Tungabhadra river, and they have just made their first report to the nizam, approving the plan.

The project will cost more than $50,000,000 and will take ten years to complete. It will yield 300,000 horse power and will supply electricity to half the principal cities in Hyderabad, electrify all the state railways, and provide power for several mills.

The irrigation project connected with the hydro-electric power scheme will bring 2,500,000 acres of arid land, now mostly uncultivated, into use and will provide work for at least 1,000,000 of the nizam's subjects.

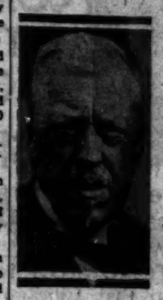
Eckener Plans Arctic Flight to Aid Science

Will Make Climatic Tests in Polar Regions.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, July 14.—With a polar equipment weighing more than 12 tons, including sledges, kayaks, inflatable rubber boats, and ample food supplies, the airship Graf Zeppelin, under the personal command of Dr. Hugo Eckener, will start for Leningrad toward the end of July, on the first part of an 8,000 mile trip to the polar regions. If successful, the trip will soon be followed by other polar flights in an attempt to make a thorough examination of atmospheric and oceanographic conditions in the arctic zone.



DR. ECKENER.

From Leningrad the airship will fly to Nowaja Semlja, and thence to Emperor Francis Joseph country, where a meeting is arranged between the Graf and the Russian icebreaker Malygin. An attempt will be made to exchange mail and passengers.

Heading eastward, the Graf will then fly to Saewernaja Semlja, an island group north of Cape Tcheljuskin, the northermost point of Asia. Buried under eternal ice, these isles were only discovered in 1913. They are as yet unexplored. The airship will attempt to determine the exact location and extent of this island group. At the same time it will try to get in touch by wireless with the four members of the Russian Sedow expedition who are engaged in exploring Kamone island. They volunteered to stay behind when this expedition sailed for home last year.

A possible attempt will be made by the Graf to land on the ice by means of a new method devised by Prof. Dr. Kreil of the Berlin Institute of Technology. An electrically heated plate attached to an electric cable is lowered on the ice. As soon as the ice is sufficiently thawed to allow the plate to sink in, the electric current is switched off, and the plate freezes in. The cable is then hauled in until the airship floats a few hundred feet above the ice anchor. Simultaneously ballast is released to prevent the airship being forced down on the ice.

NEW "IT" GIRL

Movie Gossip from Hollywood

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hollywood, Cal., July 14.—[Special.]—The No. 1 dressing room at Paramount, which first belonged to Pola Negri and then to Clara Bow, has now been turned over to Sylvia Sidney. This means Miss Sidney no longer need worry about a secure film future.

John Stahl, wealthy pioneer film man who has directed, supervised and been part owner at this, that, and the other studio over many years, has capitulated to romance after a long span as one of Hollywood's most eligible bachelors. A series of prenuptial showers is being given for Roxanna McGowan, former Sennett beauty and former wife of Albert Ray (Charlie Ray's brother). When John Stahl says "I do" it will leave the Christie brothers, comedy kings, unchallenged titleholders as the colony's "eligible wealthy bachelors." Miss McGowan has one child by her marriage to Ray, and Stahl likes children, for he put up considerable of the original endowment here for Hollywood Progressive school, an institution like Chicago's Francis Parker school.

Miss McGowan was a member of that original Sennett bathing girls of whom so many, like Phyllis Haver, Marie Prevost, Louise Fazenda, and Virginia Fox (now Mrs. Darryl Zanuck), became noted.

Although the news was not made public, the friends of Quinn Martin have been advised of the sudden death of his wife, Mrs. Katherine Martin, here and have deluged him with condolences. The Martins recently came here from New York, where he was a newspaper columnist, to assume a prominent executive position with the Fox Film company. Mrs. Martin, former member of a vaudeville sister act, had been in a Santa Barbara sanitarium for an illness not regarded as dangerous, but three weeks ago underwent a turn for the worse and death followed when pneumonia set in. Funeral services were held here at Wee Kirk i' the Heather.

Adrian, the artist and connoisseur, who used to supervise art and gown effects for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer films, was commissioned by Mary Pickford to redo the interior decorating of Pickfair. Adrian started by setting a force of workmen tearing out all the movable and some of the immovable furnishings, walls, and whatnots at the Pickford Fairbanks estate, just as though he was tearing down a film set, in order to build up something newer and more lavish.

Artists expect to make "Arrowsmith" as good a film as an expensive cast, story and direction can assure, having borrowed John Ford, ace director of the Fox lot, at one stiff price, and Helen Hayes from M. G. M. as star at another stiff price. Ronald Colman co-features with Miss Hayes.

The film colony flooded a ward of Cedars of Lebanon hospital with flowers today as Mrs. Margaret (Peg) Talmadge, mother of Norma, Constance, and Natalie Talmadge (Mrs. Buster Keaton), recovered from effects of a major operation. Norma is due here Thursday from Honolulu, having cut her island stay short after a few days there immediately upon receipt of a cable announcing her mother's operation. Constance Talmadge (Mrs. Townsend Netcher) is in Italy.

Bishop Warne Recalls Past to Methodists

Links Frontier with the Cities' Pulpits.

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

After 45 years, Bishop William F. Warne has returned to the old Methodist camp meeting at Des Plaines. It was at the camp meeting of 1886 the bishop was called to India as a foreign missionary.

BISHOP WARNE.

Members of the camp meeting now say that Bishop Warne's return links a former Methodism with its modern namesake. These even suggest the bishop — active in mind and body despite his three score and seventeen years—is the last of an heroic line of Methodist bishops whose names spring to the minds of oldtimers with the mention of the name Warne.

The great expansion of central western Methodism during the last half of the nineteenth century was associated with those names, a number of whom, like Bishop Warne, were former Chicagoans. Camp meeting members recalled them—Charles C. McCabe, John H. Vincent, Matthew Simpson, Charles H. Fowler, William A. Quayle and many others. These, they say, were the greatest preaching bishops, and missionaries and evangelists to the vanishing American frontier." Bishop Warne's active career was linked with theirs, observers point out, except that Warne went to India.

With the election of Bishop Thomas Nicholson in 1916, it is recalled by Methodists that a new style bishop was evolved. While all admit Bishop Nicholson is a notable preacher, he is regarded as an abler organizer and administrator.

Administrators, it is pointed out, are now demanded by the electing body of the church, the general conference.

Before Bishop Warne went to India he had been the organizer of several churches near Chicago. He then became the pastor of the Austin Methodist church, Central and Race avenues. He was pastor of the Austin church when his call to India came to him via the Des Plaines camp meeting.

Upon his first arrival in India he was the pastor of a European congregation in Calcutta. But the call of the frontier, it is recalled, came to him as it did to his brethren in this country, and he became a "circuit rider" in the interior of that country. For the most part, however, Bishop Warne relates his work was largely that of instructing native Methodist missionaries. This was necessary because white missionaries were not permitted in the Mohammedan states of India.

When Bishop Warne first arrived in India there were less than 10,000 Methodists among the 325,000,000 people of that country. During his 43 years there he saw the Methodist population grow to more than 5,000,000. In his camp meeting addresses given this week, Bishop Warne is pointing out the influence of the growth of Christianity on the present Gandhi movement in India.

However, Bishop Warne declared the policy of the mahatma in regard to religion would be further to exclude Christianity.

In 1900 Bishop Warne was elected to the Methodist episcopate at a general conference in Chicago. He retired from that field in 1928 just as Gandhi was coming to power. He was personally acquainted with the Indian leader. From 1920 to his retirement, Bishop Warne was the head of all Methodist missionary work throughout the eastern world.

"Although there has always been the same amount of electricity, it remained for Edison and his associates to become acquainted with it," said Bishop Warne as he referred to the religious significance of Gandhi. "Similarly, spiritual values have always been in existence—and our ability to make use of spiritual forces is inborn—yet it will remain for Gandhi and other spiritual geniuses to impress it upon the world."

Mud Turtles Thrilling Boys at Algonquin

BY KATHERINE KELLEY.

Fancy, you La Salle street business men, a boy who never in his life housed a mudturtle in his trousers' pocket.

It is unthinkable, you say, you who have memories of fishing expeditions or visits to the old swimming hole. Nevers to have taken out that hard shelled reptile, to have marveled at the long neck and feet that slid in and out at will! Never to have built a little pond with a sand or gravel bottom as a summer home for Mr. Turtle.

Among the avalanche of boys, ages 6 to 14, who are searching every nook and corner of Camp Algonquin, THE TRIBUNE'S camp on the Fox river for the underprivileged, are hundreds who never before have seen a real live turtle outside a public aquarium's glass pools. The building of a pond for mudturtles was the chief piece of news that reached the Algonquin editor from the camp yesterday.

"The boys are happy about that pond," related Mrs. Astrid Save, the camp superintendent. "They're going to put other things in it, too, as they find them. They built the pond themselves, and you'd think it was the most important piece of engineering in the United States."

What outdoor fun does for poor children was shown at the second weighing of the group of undernourished children.

The United Charities' nurse in the Harlowarden section found yesterday unusually large gains in weight, some of them as much as five pounds. This was a most encouraging sign.

Yesterday's benefit given by children was Jean Webster's "Daddy Long Legs," dramatized by a group of Winnetka girls and directed by Venita Mangel and Kay Johnstone. The play was given last Friday and Saturday at 490 Sunset road. Programs were typewritten and the ambitious cast found time to make some candy to sell between acts.

Those taking part in the production were: Sylvia Martzer, Venita Mangel, Barbara and Betty Ann Fason, Lois and Sue Blair, Kay and Betty Johnstone, Arthur Bryson, Jayne and Doris Maddock and Marcia Nordburg. The tickets at ten cents each brought in seven dollars for THE TRIBUNE free ice fund.

Gifts that arrived yesterday for the camp fund were $10 from C. L. J., and $2.50 from I. and G. Petersen, making a total of $1,092.71 in the fund.

The free ice fund received $10 from Sam and Pearl, $7 from the Winnetka play, and $2.50 from I. and G. Petersen, making a total of $1,477.83 in the fund.

WASHINGTON SOCIETY

Washington, D. C., July 14.—[Special.]—Bastile day was celebrated at the French embassy. Ambassador Paul Claudel entertained the members of the embassy staff and a few other guests at luncheon.

The secretary of commerce and Mrs. R. P. Lamont had a few guests at dinner tonight, informally. Mrs. Lamont will leave early tomorrow for Chicago. She will be the guest there of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore W. Robinson in Lake Forest for a week and will not open "Riggement," the Lamonts' Lake Forest home.

Next week she will go on to Westby Farm, their summer home at Land o' Lakes, Wis., for the remainder of the summer. Secretary Lamont will join her later, and their sons-in-law and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey Belknap and Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Saltzman, all of New York, will visit them late in the summer.

Col. and Mrs. Edward Clifford have sold their fine old place in Georgetown and will move at the end of this week to 3139 P street, which they purchased some time ago and remodeled. Miss Helen Clifford has just returned from visiting in New England.

Plenty of Sunshine Does Away with the Pale, Lisltess Look

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

I feel, on top of what I said recently about the "languishing" look for evening complexion wear, that a word of warning may be needed so that you girls do not take me too literally and become a sun dodger as a result. Better to have the ruddy look than to become one of those pale hothouse plants. What I wanted to show was that you can have the health, garnered from the ultraviolet rays, and such are the advantages of modern cosmetics that you won't have to look too ruddy.

But don't be a sun dodger. Get your quota while you may. Which is during the summertime for the most of us employed sisters, regardless of how the other body may gather theirs while we wham away at typewriter or salesbook.

When you realize that sun rays are the treatment for children afflicted with bone tuberculosis, for adults with all manner of ails as represented in the sanitariums dotting Arizona, New Mexico, Nevada and elsewhere, you begin to recognize that this sunlight therapy is no foolish fad. The rest of the year most of us live under pretty artificial circumstances and the sun we manage to soak up isn't much. With the protective lotions for skin and hair that are so readily available, you can take in a goodly supply of ultraviolet ray.

Anyway, get it. Get enough to carry you well into the winter, if not through the entire cold spell. There is a perfectly good scientific reason why people who are called anemic, who are pale, listless, indoor workers, come back from their vacations transformed with new vigor. The stimulating effect of ultraviolet rays is accounted for in the changes wrought in the blood and in the increased activity they evoke in the ductless glands of the body. The ultraviolet rays act on the central nervous system and cause mental stimulation.

The relaxation of nervous tension that comes with a sun bath you've probably experienced. The whole success of sun bathing, however, is in how you take it. If you're a beginner in the sun cult organization begin with ten minutes daily morning and afternoon.

PATTERNS BY CLOTILDE

[Registered U. S. Patent Office.]

WOMAN'S DRESS.

This dress has points that are kind to the mature woman, and made of brown and white printed voile, it will be lovely. The applied front, extending to the waistline, lengthens the figure, while the dip in the hip seaming at the front gives a lengthened line to the figure. The skirt plaits also help to carry out a vertical line.

The pattern, 3076, comes in sizes 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48, 50, and 52 inches bust measure. Size 38 requires 4¼ yards of 39 inch material with 1 yard of 6 inch wide lace.

Eliminate Harmful Emotion of Shame from Child's Life

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

A friend of mine who has four children made this remark to me the other day. She said:

"There are things in my life which I used to be so ashamed of. Now I'm not ashamed of anything that has ever happened. I've learned so much about myself and children by reading and studying psychology that I understand. When you understand, you stop being ashamed."

When your small daughter tells you a lie are you horrified? And do you try, as a salutary measure, to make her feel ashamed?

When your older boy lies to you or takes money that doesn't belong to him, do you make him feel disgraced?

When your child has developed any of the habits which we call undesirable, do you feel so humiliated and angry that you try to drive into him or her a sense of shame?

We have labored so long under stern ideas of morality—or conventions of conduct—that we consider any deviation from them as wrong doing, even in little children. We are ashamed ourselves for our children's acts and we try to make them ashamed. Some of us do it as a means of cure. Others in helplessness or anger.

But whatever the motive, it is a grave mistake to arouse a feeling of shame in your child for anything he has done. You may explain things to him, you may appeal to his sense of justice, his considerateness, to his understanding of the rights of others—that is, if he is old enough. You may think it wise even for him to be sorry. There are certain means or levers of various kinds to use with older children—different motivations with the little ones.

But shame is not a means, a lever, or a motivation. It is a humiliation—a destructive emotion, not a constructive power.

FLOWER OF THORNS

By Marie Conway Oemler

SYNOPSIS.

Sally Rutherford, the last of a proud old southern family, following the ruin and death of her grandfather, determines to keep the heavily mortgaged Oakleigh plantation from another. A porter's lodge, facing the Dixie highway, gives her the idea of starting a hot dog stand. She arranges with a milkman, who says he is Mr. Forman, one of the Winstead dairies, to deliver milk. He is really Samuel Forman Winstead, Harry Winstead, town banker and holder of the Oakleigh mortgage. Sam, Winstead, of carpetbagging stock, whose estate adjoined Oakleigh. Sally's friends help her get the Shack ready for business. Antiques from Oakleigh are offered for sale. The venture is a huge success.

INSTALLMENT IX.

A MIRACLE.

Sally's old friend, Maud Lucas, came out one afternoon with a gay party of fashionable young people which filled the "Shack" to overflowing. "Sally, old dear," cried Maud herself, dragging up a tall, dark young man, "this is little Lowndes Jennings. Lowndes, at last you behold Sally Rutherford herself!" She added gayly "It's partly on his account we're here this afternoon, Sally darling. He's heard so much about you . . . your waffles . . . and coffee . . . and your hot dogs . . . he just had to come to prove it for himself."

The dark young man had a fine pair of gray eyes under straight black brows, a slight dark mustache which didn't conceal his handsome lips, and a pleasant voice. The dark brows almost met over a nose slightly aquiline, the chin jutted out intriguingly. Sally had been serving motorists of the ordinary beings who gobbled their food and called for more with mouths full, people who inhaled their coffee or their soft drinks. This handsome and aristocratic young man who spoke in a voice like that of the colonel's, who looked at one with beguiling gray eyes, and was one of the true Rutherford world, pleased her.

Miss Rutherford's place in the social sun was secure. She might lose her family wealth—but she couldn't lose the fact that she was Sally Rutherford. Nor did she mean to; grandpapa would certainly expect her to live up to the place to which she had been born. She had never had to think of money till death, but now she felt that she must do so, for his sake. The fact that she was making a success of a business altogether alien to all her traditions—and theirs—made them like and admire her all the more. Lowndes had been hearing the praises sung by many. She interested him. Before the crowd left he had made up his mind to see more of her.

If the winter wore on, she would have been gratified at the way her business was turning out except for that frightful cloud of debt hanging forever over Oakleigh. She could almost see it lowering. No little stand could be it ever so well patronized and its assets materially aided by the help from a century old attic, could hope to meet that interest and support the two of grandmamma and herself, feed and pay the servants—and drive complete disaster. As for paying off the mortgage itself . . . out of the hot dog stand . . . she smiled dryly. As the six months drew to a close and the day of payment loomed ever nearer, her anxiety showed in her face, despite her training and her courage, as Mr. Forman, who now came only in the early morning hours, noted resentfully.

"Damn that infernal mortgage! Yes—praise be that the Winsteads hold it and not somebody else!" he thought. "But what in the Sam Hill am I going to do?" And he took his head in his hands, rumpling his hair.

The day before the interest was due, the mail brought Miss Sally Rutherford a canceled interest note, signed by Rupert A. M. Rutherford and stamped "paid."

The overwrought girl swayed, put her head down on the counter, and sobbed and wept. She couldn't help it. O, God, dear God, kind God! That dreaded Mr. Winstead had been staved off and could not take Oakleigh for another six months! It was a reprieve as from the gallows. God heard her frantic prayers, and grandmamma was safe in her place for another half year! Who knows what can happen in six months?

Then she questioned: Who could have done this beautiful, this gracious thing? Somebody who had known and loved grandpapa, naturally. Perhaps one of the lawyers, maybe, even Mr. Sinclair himself had managed it, finally refraining from writing her, only sending her the canceled note. She prayed for him with tears, for she was almost frenzied in her relief. And in reply to her note of fervent gratitude Mr. Sinclair said he knew nothing about it. Nevertheless, it had been paid, and Oakleigh was hers and grandmamma's for another half year.

"You look positively happy this morning," commented Mr. Forman, looking her from the doorway with approval. His back was to the light, and she thought idly that she had never seen him so tall, so strong, so big. That khaki uniform of his certainly became him vastly. As usual, he was bareheaded, his bright hair a gold helmet. Really, a handsome man. Not so handsome as Lowndes Jennings, perhaps, for this boy belonged to a harder world.

It came to her that she herself was beginning to become acclimatized to it. As a matter of fact, work for your living world that she had changed greatly since she had first entered it—and it wasn't such a bad world, after all. Because there was reality in it. Reality means working alongside other people, understanding them, doing your share, not a mere looker-on.

Perhaps, some day, she might even be glad of this strenuous experience which had set her own place . . . the world in which men like grandpapa . . . and Lowndes Jennings . . . moved.

Mr. Lowndes Jennings, as he had promised himself, had come back several times to see her. He brought her fine candy, a spray of orchids, a book of poems—some evening soon she was going out with him in that fast gray car of his. As soon as she could manage an evening off, she had told him, and he asked her diffidently. He was always a little diffident with her, as though she mattered so much to him! It was intoxicating—after a day of selling out . . . hot dogs and pop and chewing gum!

"Yes," she answered the milkman soberly. "I am happy. Today is different from what I had expected, because yesterday something wonderful and beautiful happened!" And she asked naïvely: "Do you believe in miracles?"

"I don't know," said he, lounging up to the counter. "I suspicioned that one was happening to me, but I never have been quite sure that it was meant for me after all. Miracles usually happen to somebody else, if you notice. Why do you ask? Any miracles been happening to you?"

"Um. The most miraculous thing about a miracle is its beautiful unselfishness, the sheer heavenly surprise of it, don't you think?"

"Again, I don't know. Miracles don't happen to people like me, I'm afraid. But if miracles happen to anybody, why, they ought to happen to folks . . . nice, fat, juicy ones at that."

"This one was," said she, ecstatically, and her face lighted up.

"I'm glad," said he simply. He was. He reflected that any miracle which brought that look to Sally Rutherford was well worth the price, and thanked the Lord! sang his heart.

"Business is pretty good, too, isn't it?" he queried.

"Better than ever. We sell out everything we have."

"You go after all the town trade you can get, too," he advised, after a moment's thought. "There's money in teas and such gimcracks. But don't neglect the road trade. It's steady, there's very little overhead, the nickels and dimes pour in on a steady stream, and that's where the real profit comes in. I was wondering if you wouldn't like to sell sugar cane juice? For 5 cents a glass, using paper cups. Next year, when the cane begins to move, look into the idea. You'd clean up a nice little sum."

"That," said she, alertly, "is a real idea, Mr. Forman."

"The best thing about you is that you're so quick to catch on, once a idea is presented to you," said he. "Underneath that bob of yours you've got some real business brains tucked away."

"Thank you. It occurs to me that I haven't seen you for some time."

"Busy. I suppose you wouldn't notice it in the papers, but Mr. Sam Winstead has had to address the dairyman's convention. He's president of the county union, and it's supposed he's done a good deal for dairying in this state. Introduced new methods. Tried out new machinery. Raised the price, so they wanted to hear what he had to say."

"I'm sorry, but I hadn't noticed. I've been—rather worried lately."

"Until the miracle happened? Was it a personal miracle or a business miracle?"

"All miracles are personal, aren't they? This one touched me to the quick, for it touched Oakleigh. And Oakleigh—" she stopped abruptly. Why did she talk thus intimately—to the foreman of a dairy?

Then, her estimate of him had changed, had risen. He was a college man, highly trained, capable, independent, and there was about him a tameless strength, a breadth, a grasp, which she had to respect when she began to know him. His voice was really delightful—she was always after him to have that natural voice trained.

"Oh, it's trained—I sang in the Glee club, and I've done duty in a church choir," he protested. "Do I sound so untrained?"

"No, you do not. Now, if a little training has had that much effect, you should have real teachers," she told him, earnestly.

"Do you know that song you first heard me singing? The one you like? 'Ave Regina'? I always connect that song with you: 'Flower of Thorns,'" he said unexpectedly. "Because you are, you know."

She said nothing; merely looked at him reprovingly. Would he never learn his place—and hers?

A Friend in Need

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

Deserted Wife Need Help.

"My husband has left me and I don't know where he is. I am expecting a baby soon and haven't the money to buy the things I need. I wonder if you can help me get some clothing for it. MRS. L. M."

To have been deserted at a time like this is certainly a sad plight for Mrs. L. M. Can you relieve her mind a bit by giving the infant's clothing she will need?

Polo and Races Delaying Some Vacations Now

AFTER the international polo matches and their attendant festivities are concluded the ranks of society will be further depleted by the migration of late summer vacationers.

Those who have been postponing holidays in order to see the games will be departing within a fortnight or so, and the stay-at-homes, as soon as the Arlington season closes, will enjoy a peaceful midsummer lull.

Mrs. Howard Linn will be off in early August to some spot (she hasn't yet decided just where) for a much needed rest after her work as chairman of the numerous and complicated entertainment committees for the polo players.

Mrs. Henry Field and Mrs. Philip B. Maher depart on Friday for Ridgely manor, the summer estate of Mrs. Field's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hollister Sturges, at Stone Ridge, N. Y. After a short stay there Mrs. Maher will sail for Europe. Mrs. Field will remain in the east for about two months and Mr. Field will join her later for his vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Dewey Jr. Plan Months in France.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Dewey Jr. will leave in about a fortnight to spend the rest of the summer in France. Mrs. Francis J. Johnson of the Ambassador plans to go away in August, too, although she's still vague about her destination.

Mr. and Mrs. De Forest Hulburd, with their children, Charles and Mary Louise, will go up to their island on Crab lake for a stay during August. The Carter Harrisons will sail on the 24th for Europe to spend a month or so with their daughter, Mrs. Harrison Maniere, at Mentone, France.

Today's calendar is topped, of course, by the second match between the Santa Paula and Old Aiken teams at Onwentsia. Mrs. Howard Linn and Mrs. Joseph Cudahy are giving buffet luncheons before the game, and this evening everybody will be going to the junior committee's dinner dance at Onwentsia.

Mrs. Walter Schuttler will open her residence on Warrenville road in Wheaton from 10 until 5 o'clock today for a sale to benefit the Vocational Society for Shut-Ins. Mrs. Alex Kirk is chairman and the assisting committee includes Mrs. John J. Bryant, Mrs. William B. Brown, Mrs. Arthur Cutten, Mrs. Richard T. Fox, Mrs. Henry Gross, Mrs. Edward N. Hurley, Mrs. R. R. McCormick, Mrs. Joy Morton, Mrs. Leo M. Nicolson, Mrs. Albert J. Pardridge, Mrs. George Plamondon, Mrs. Allen Ripley, Mrs. Harold Scott, and Mrs. Frank O. Wetmore.

Some Newlyweds and Their Present Places of Residence.

Checking up on some of the recent brides and grooms and their whereabouts, we gleaned the following: . . . Mr. and Mrs. Scott Johnathon Dow Jr. are back from their wedding trip and settled at 25 East Walton place, close to the Junior league office, where Mrs. Dow (Louise Badgerow) probably will be spending a lot of time in the fall . . . the Joseph B. Terbells (Phoebe Logan), who returned recently from a lengthy honeymoon in Bermuda and the east, have taken a house in Highland Park for the summer and will move to New York in the fall . . . James Roland Addington and his bride, the former Sarah Wood, are to be at Jasper Park lodge in Alberta, Canada, until Aug. 1 and then, after a month or so with Mrs. Addington's parents, Brig. Gen. and Mrs. Robert E. Wood, in Highland Park, will become established in their own apartment at 220 East Pearson street . . . Mr. and Mrs. Byron S. Harvey Jr. (Kathleen Whitcomb) are in Paris at the moment and will visit Rosemary Baur and other friends in France and England before they return to Chicago in late August . . . The Charles W. Canfields are back from a brief wedding trip to Canada and will be with Mrs. Canfield's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Poor, in Lake Forest until fall. . . .

Mrs. Arthur Bissell and Mrs. Edward L. Hasler are visiting Mr. Hill T. Birch, the late Mrs. Frederic Clay Bartlett's father, at Yellow Springs, O.

Mrs. Walter J. Cummings and her three sons will sail from Quebec on Saturday on the Empress of Britain for two months in Europe. They will be at Le Baule in Brittany for several weeks and later will go to England.

Ravinia Opera Fans Hear Lectures on Themes.

Ravinia fans on the north shore are having a series of lectures similar in purpose to those sponsored by the Junior league last winter in connection with the symphony concerts. Carleton Smith of the University of Chicago is the speaker. His talks are based on future Ravinia programs. Next Monday morning at 11 o'clock he will give an explanatory talk at Mrs. A. Harris Barber's residence in Hubbard Woods on the special Rethberg concert of German music that will precede the fourth act of "Les Huguenots" on Tuesday evening at Ravinia. Mrs. William Sherman Hay will open her Winnetka residence on the following Monday for a discussion of "Peter Ibbetson," to be presented during the first week in August. On Friday, July 31, Mrs. J. Lawrence Houghteling will be hostess at a meeting at her house to hear an analytical comparison of Massenet's "Manon" and Puccini's "Manon Lescaut."

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

An Unshared Opinion.

Did you ever go to a bridge tea given by a very dear friend and do your best to make a good impression on every one—and have everything roll along smoothly, being complimented on your skill—and winning the prize, and then during the tea that followed enter wholeheartedly into a discussion of shades of hair and say frankly that you liked red hair but would hate to have it because one would look like the devil in so many colors, for instance, pink or orchid, and then turn around and see a red haired girl in pink glaring at you?

Well, I did, and it was my most embarrassing moment. R. W.

BRIDE OF NEW ENGLANDER

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

The marriage of Miss Virginia Woodland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Woodland of Kenilworth, to William Thomas Heagney of Havana, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Heagney of Worcester, Mass., was solemnized at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the residence of the bride's parents. A reception followed at Indian Hill Country club. Miss Woodruff wore a gown of d'Alencon lace and a tulle veil and carried a bouquet of gardenias and lilies of the valley. Mrs. Fred Doepke of Milwaukee, the maid of honor, and Miss Virginia Prussing, Miss Letitia Channon, and Mrs. Leland H. Danford, the bridesmaids, were gowned in pale blue mousseline de soie and carried blue delphinium and yellow roses.

Windsor Harlow of Boston was best man for the groom, and the ushers were Kenneth Gilmore of Havana, Thomas Heagney Jr. of New York, and George Woodland, brother of the bride. Mr. Heagney and his bride will reside in Havana, where he is affiliated with the First National Bank of Boston.

Naval Officer and Society Girl Wed, After Changing Plans

San Diego, Cal., July 14.—[Special.]—After five days in which their wedding was alternately off and on, Lieut. William Deutermann, U. S. N., and Miss Edwina Putnam, society girl and daughter of Lieut. Col. Russell B. Putnam, United States army, were safely married today.

Navy Chaplain Alfred Vogler performed the ceremony in his suburban home shortly after the young officer and Miss Putnam appeared at the county clerk's office and secured their marriage license.

The marriage was scheduled as a fashionable church affair last Saturday, with scores of guests invited, when Lieut. Deutermann suddenly canceled the plans. No explanation was given at the time, Col. and Mrs. Putnam merely stating for publication that Deutermann was expected to call at their home and make an explanation. When the explanation was not forthcoming Mrs. Putnam was reported as saying that the Putnam home was thereafter closed to the young officer.

Evidently a telephone explanation smoothed things, for both were beaming when they met today, went to the courthouse together and journeyed from there to the Putnam home.

After the ceremony Col. Putnam said:

"They both are my children now, and we are all happy that what first seemed a tragic happening has turned out all right."

St. Louis Woman Elected Official by Presbyterians

Montreat, N. C., July 14.—(AP)—Miss Rosa Gibbons of St. Louis, Mo., today was elected treasurer of the department of woman's work of the Southern Presbyterian church. She succeeds Mrs. D. A. McMillan, Fulton, Mo., who resigned after 18 years' service.

Beach Pajamas Now a la Dutch Fisher Boy

BY BETTINA BEDWELL.

PARIS.—[Special.]—Stolen from the picturesque apparel of the Dutch fisher boy are the newest Paris beach pajamas. They're made of a new corduroy jersey that has the ribs of the former and the knitted stitch of the latter fabric. Jane Regny, who launches these pajamas, also created the material from which they are made.

If you don't remember just what kind of trousers the fisher boys of Holland do wear you've only to look at the sketch herewith, which shows the new Regny beach pajamas. The trousers of white corduroy jersey are cut very wide from top to bottom, and in the interests of a slim hipline are plaited in two inverted plaits at both sides of front and back. They button under three buttons at both sides of the front. The plaits that hold the trousers close around the hips are released just below, and the trousers have a baggy carreer down to about half the length of the calf, where they are gathered firmly into a jersey cuff that buttons tight around the leg and holds them up in a quaint blouse.

With these trousers Jane Regny places one of her very short sleeveless sweaters, hand knitted in red and white striped wool with ridged knitted borders of red around the armholes, around the waistline, and close around the throat. This is the smart sweater of the season, girls, and it's the youngest sweater Paris has produced in many a day. Fashionable women wear such sweaters over their one piece sports dresses as well as with their Dutch beach trousers.

Sound of Guns to Open Cherry Festival Today

Traverse City, Mich., July 14.—[Special.]—The whirl of circling airplanes, punctuated by the explosion of aerial bombs will awaken Traverse City at dawn tomorrow. At 8 a. m. the national salute of 21 guns will echo over Grand Traverse bay, announcing the arrival of the Great Lakes training squardon, U. S. Naval Reserves.

The National Cherry festival will then be under way, to continue until late Friday night, with the days and nights filled with a variety of events designed to interest, entertain and thrill the thousands of visitors who have been coming into Traverse all day today, by motor along every state highway and on every arriving passenger train, a seemingly endless stream that is taxing the district's hotel accommodation to the utmost.

The first of the three days' activities will be the welcome to the naval reservists, with Mayor Charles Wells acting for this city and Capt. E. A. Evers of the U. S. S. Wilmette responding for the fleet. Stunt flying and a parachute drop at the airport will follow.

At nine o'clock the conducted tours through the orchard districts will leave the Park Place hotel.

At 2:30 will come the dedication of the municipal zoo. John D. Marshall, former mayor of Cleveland, will speak and northern Michigan mayors will take part in the ceremonies.

A parade of 1,000 sailors from the seven ships of the Great Lakes fleet will follow at 4 o'clock. The boys' vocational school band from Lansing and the Benzonia High school band also will march to be reviewed by Capt. Evers and his staff.

The Cherryland jubilee at the Northwestern Michigan Fair grounds will close the first day's celebration. Mayor Frank Murphy of Detroit, will give the principal address. Miss Maxine Weaver, queen of the festival, and her court of fifteen beauties will make thir first formal appearance, and the first day of the festival will end with a burst of fireworks.

NEW YORK SOCIETY

New York, July 14.—[Special.]—Mr. and Mrs. William T. Dewart and Thomas W. Dewart arrived from their summer home at the Thousand Islands.

Mrs. Elbridge Gerry Snow, her mother, Mrs. Walter Jewett Curry, and her daughter have arranged to sail on July 16 on the Berengaria. Berlin will be their objective.

Mrs. Julian Gerard gave a luncheon yesterday in the Japanese garden of the Ritz-Carlton with Countess Ismolsky, Mrs. William Bayard Hawthorne, and Miss Betty Gerard in her party.

Food Talk.

Chocolate cake is a favorite in almost every household. The rich flavor and the reddish brown color of the chocolate appeals to lovers of cake. The terms chocolate cake and Devil's food are often used interchangeably. Many cook books, however, make a distinction. Recipes for the former often call for sweet milk and baking powder while recipes for the latter suggest sour milk and baking soda as the agents to produce a desirable reddish color in the cake.

In the preparation of all chocolate cakes, the one special precaution which we wish to emphasize today is in the preparation of the chocolate itself. Bitter chocolate is the variety used. Some recipes specify a definite measure of grated chocolate to be added to the cake. This method allows for a wide deviation due to the packing of the grated chocolate in the cup. Then, too, any one who has grated chocolate in the summer knows how uncomfortable and unsightly melting chocolate can be. Still another objection to the use of dry grated chocolate is that it does not always mix thoroughly with the batter, resulting in little dark specks in the finished cake.

We find that the best way to add chocolate is to melt it over hot water. Then, add some boiling water and cook until the mixture thickens. A small amount of sugar is added next and the mixture cooked until smooth. When this is done the fat in the chocolate remains in a thoroughly emulsified state and will not separate. This cooled cooked chocolate mixture is then added to the batter.

Chocolate added to a plain cake will give a delightful product. But the something different in the chocolate cake is produced by using such a recipe as we give today.

POTATO CARAMEL CAKE

3 squares chocolate
¼ cup boiling water
½ cup sugar
2-3 cup butter
1½ cups sugar
4 egg yolks
1 cup hot mashed potatoes
½ cup milk
2½ cups flour
2 tablespoons baking powder
1 teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon cloves
½ teaspoon grated nutmeg
1 cup chopped nuts [may be omitted]
4 egg whites

Melt the chocolate over hot water. Add the boiling water and cook until thick and smooth. Add the boiling water and ½ cup sugar and cook until thick and smooth. Remove from stove. Cream the butter until plastic. Add the 1½ cups sugar in several portions, creaming well after each addition. Beat the egg yolks until thick and lemon colored, and then add to the butter-sugar mixture. Add the mashed potatoes mixed with a little of the milk and creamed until there are no lumps. Add the chocolate mixture and stir until well mixed.

Combine and sift the dry ingredients. Add them to the batter alternately with the remainder of the milk. Stir in the nuts with the last few beats. Fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites and stir until well combined. Pour into buttered layer cake tins. Bake in a moderately hot oven [350 degrees F.] for about 30 minutes.

Even Meekest, Most Wormlike Man Takes an Occasional Turn

BY DORIS BLAKE.

A certain wife is a mad example of what chasing the oldest and most uncomfortable of house furnishings, registered in the name antiques, can lead one to. One of these extreme cases, she is, where dates mean more than comfort or anything else in the purchase.

A terrific row developed over the husband's pet chair that he had clung to through thick and thin, which he discovered to be among the missing one evening recently, when he returned home. In its place was a genuine seventeen-something-or-other, but it had no wide side arms to rest the pipe on, no movable back to shift the position, no molded shape into which to fit.

Ordinarily he was a meek man. His protests were faintly mumbled when he saw the good old bed go the way of furniture that is to be replaced. He saw his pet dresser, the dining room set he always liked and dozens of other home pieces for which he had affection, all go the way to oblivion. But that one chair was Custer's last stand. He swore he'd go if it did.

Well, the night it was missing not a word was exchanged between the pair. The lady had chosen that evening to visit a friend and remain there until the news was broken—on sight—and recovered from. The news was broken alright but the recovery wasn't so good. Truth to tell, the wife's recovery isn't complete yet.

His whereabouts, it might be added, are still in doubt. But they're not where they used to be regularly. All of which is not presented as a tale with a moral—but just an incident of what may happen if you de'take away father's last stronghold.

On top of that, an interior decorator of my acquaintance tells of a husband meeting her on the stairway and pleading for the love of you-know-what to leave one spot unmolested where he and his tramp manners, as he calls them, may enjoy a good stretch. "This place is getting so blinkety-blank refined or some blank thing that I feel I'm attending a party every minute," he volunteered. "And I am not having a good time at it, either."

Beware when told "It's just like Kotex"

WHEN a substitute claims to be "just like Kotex," ask where it was made. By whom. How. Is it used by leading hospitals?

Only when these questions are answered to your complete satisfaction, as Kotex answers them, can any substitute justify its claim, "just like Kotex."

After all, why take risks? You know the wonderful safety of Kotex—the world's standard in sanitary protection. Don't give up this assurance . . . even if a few pennies' saving is offered by a nameless substitute, of whose makers you know nothing.

Walter Hagen's 68 on Second Round Wins Golf Playoff

TORONTO, Ont., July 14.—(AP)—Walter Hagen fought an uphill battle to conquer Percy Alliss, British pro at the Wannsee club in Berlin, by a stroke in their 36 hole playoff for the Canadian open golf championship today.

WALTER HAGEN.

Hagen, after trailing by one stroke in the morning round with a 73 to the Briton's 72, shot a brilliant 68, four under par, in the afternoon to win the title with a 36 hole total of 141. Alliss followed his par equalling morning round with a 70 in the afternoon, only to see Hagen slip into the championship with a magnificent display on the last nine holes.

In the final analysis, the battle was decided on the 35th hole. Alliss had squared the match at the 34th by sinking a 35 foot putt for a birdie 3. On the next hole, however, Hagen's second just failed to go down and he sank a short putt for a birdie 2. Alliss' second had rolled to within a yard of the cup, but in this crisis the Briton's putting touch failed and the ball rolled to one side of the cup, giving Hagen the one stroke lead.

As it was, Alliss came within an ace of squaring the match at the 18th, a long putt for a birdie 3 missing by inches. Hagen, with the championship in his grasp, played safely, carefully rolling up his approach putt and sinking the short one he had left to halve the final hole in 4s.

Alliss had held the lead most of the day and then had rallied gamely to deadlock the match after being two strokes to the bad as late as the 31st. He cut Hagen's lead to one stroke at the 33d when Hagen three putted and then deadlocked the match again with his long putt at the 34th.

Tigers Get 16 Hits; Defeat Macks, 12-3

Philadelphia, Pa., July 14.—(AP)—The Detroit Tigers bumped George Earnshaw today to take the first contest of a five game series here with the Athletics, 12 to 3. Detroit scored one run in each of the first two innings and added three in the third to assume a safe lead. Jonathan Stone hit a home run in the fifth for the Tigers.

Herring went the route for the Tigers and was never in serious trouble. Bing Miller hit for the circuit in the sixth. Score:

BY TOM PETTEY.

Old Aiken will meet Santa Paula this afternoon in the second of the international polo matches. The game will be played at Onwentsia Country club beginning at 4:30 o'clock, and another capacity crowd is expected. More than 4,000 persons saw the first game last Saturday, when Old Aiken defeated the South Americans, 14 to 11, in a game filled with thrills.

The first international match introduced high goal polo to many of the spectators, as this series is the first of its class ever to have been played in the central states. If Old Aiken wins this afternoon it will end the series, as the teams are playing the best two out of three games. The Argentine four, however, confidently expects to show better teamwork and even up the count. In event the South Americans are successful the third game will be played at 5 p. m. Saturday in order to give polo enthusiasts a chance to visit nearby Arlington for the Classic before the match.

Visit Stock Yards.

The four horsemen from the pampas rested yesterday and spent only a few minutes inspecting their mounts. The Old Aiken team passed the morning in town and visited the stock yards in the afternoon as the guests of Joseph M. Cudahy. The Argentine players will visit the stock yards Friday with Lester Armour. The South Americans have expressed keen interest in everything connected with cattle raising, as that is their business when not touring the country as polo players.

"We have not seen much of Chicago yet," said Alfredo Harrington, the tall number one of the team, "for we have been too busy. After the next game I hope we can take time away from the practice field to see the interesting places you have here."

The South Americans said they were going into the game to fight from the opening bell. They feel they know their opponents' style of play better than on last Saturday, when they found it difficult to break up the teamwork and passing of the college youths who have been together since they were in short trousers. The Santa Paula players also feel that their practice games have improved their team play and hitting.

Expect Harder Game.

Joseph C. Rathborne, captain of the Old Aiken four, said yesterday afternoon that his team was expecting a tougher game than on last Saturday.

"We were at our peak then, possibly a bit more so than the Santa Paula men. Then, too, we got the breaks, which we may not get in the next game. No team can overestimate Manuel Andrada, the eight goal back of the South American team. He is one of the greatest. Jose Reynal is an eight goal player, too, and he will have to be watched every minute. Our horses are in fine condition and I expect them to do even better than they did in the first game."

The Argentine ponies, some of which have suffered from the long trip to Onwentsia, were rounding into shape better than had been expected by Tommy Nelson, the Santa Paula manager. Yesterday afternoon it was said at the stables that all of the horses would be in condition to be played this afternoon.

Talking It Over

BY ARCH WARD.

Fans who patronized Golden Glove bouts last spring probably were not concerned at the time with the disposition of the profits. They paid to see action in the ring and were satisfied because they got what they wanted.

It may interest them to know that their support has helped make vacation more pleasant for hundreds of boys who through no fault of their own have been deprived of all life's luxuries and many necessities. Included in the $43,500 which THE TRIBUNE already has given away out of this year's Golden Gloves fund was a $25,000 donation to the Chicago council of the Boy Scouts of America. This money is being used to send and maintain poor boys in summer camps.

The following letter disclosing a Scout's heroism and his appreciation for the opportunity of attending the Owasippe camp near Whitehall, Mich., recently was received by Bob Becker, THE TRIBUNE'S outdoor writer:

"I want to try to thank you for the camp scholarship I received. I surely appreciate it, as my dad has been out of work for months and it would have been impossible for me to have come to camp if it had not been for the Golden Glove Camp Scholarship.

"I have heart trouble, so you see what this wonderful camp means to me. Here at camp I am having a lot of fun. I have paddled the big canoe and went row boating but I cannot go swimming I am sorry to say.

"The Fourth of July I burnt my right hand real bad trying to keep several children from being burnt by firecrackers. My mother took care of my hand right away but it will be a long time before it is well. I am not sorry I got burnt because if the other children had been burnt it would have been on the face and maybe their eyes would have been injured.

"I hope to continue with my scout work and be able to help other boys succeed. The clerk here let me use the typewriter to type this because I cannot write.

"Sincerely yours,
"ELLIS J. HALVORSEN."

WHY AMERICA WINS.

The victory of Old Aiken over Santa Paula in the first of the international matches at Onwentsia emphasized the place America has taken in the forefront of world polo.

It is worth mention that the American team is made up of college boys. At least one of the Argentina players was galloping up and down polo fields before the Old Aiken boys were born. That perhaps accounts for the success American teams have enjoyed. They start young.

On Long Island in the summer and at Aiken, N. C., in the winter boys 12 and 14 years are taking lessons in fundamentals. Most of the men who have played on America's international teams—Tommy Hitchcock, Winston Guest, Earl Hopping, Eric Pedley—took up the game in their teens.

Nearly all British polo stars are developed in the army. They are grown men before they start. Frequently they have reached their physical peak before they have mastered the game.

Polo is like all other American sports. For success you must interest the boys.

A TIP TO A CHAMPION.

Twenty Grand, the 3 year old turf champion, may be enjoying his stay in Chicago this week as he awaits in the classic at Arlington on Saturday, which will carry a gross prize of nearly $90,000.

TWENTY GRAND.

But if Twenty Grand has time to look over the papers and see what has happened to some other favorites, in Arlington's series of rich stakes this season he may spend a restless night or two.

For in the Hyde Park, the first big stake race run at Arlington this year, Va Carriendo, a Kentucky colt, was the favorite. He finished fifth. Pair by Pair won it at 19 to 1 in the betting.

In the next of the rich Arlington stakes which was the $30,000 Stars and Stripes on July 4, Gallant Knight was the 4 to 5 favorite. He finished fifth. Plucky Play, at 46 to 1, was the winner.

Finally Top Flight, a favorite, did win the Lassie stakes, but next on the Arlington stake program was the Oaks. Cousin Jo was the favorite. Cousin Jo finished fourth. The winner was Canfi, a Texas filly, at nearly 13 to 1 for those who backed her.

We are not saying that Twenty Grand is going to go the way some of these other Arlington stake race favorites have gone. He looks like a champion from his heels to his ears. But if you were Twenty Grand and knew what happened to Va Carriendo in the Hyde Park, to Gallant Knight in the Stars and Stripes and to Cousin Jo in the Oaks do you think you would enjoy a good sound sleep and rest on Friday night, the night before the running of the Classic?

EYE INJURY FORCES MAX TO REST 3 MONTHS

BERLIN, July 14.—[Special.]—Prospects of a match between Max Schmeling, German title holder, and Primo Carnera, Italian challenger for the heavyweight crown, in September, were dimmed today when an eye specialist informed the German fighter that he must refrain from all ring activity for a period of two or three months owing to eye trouble.

Schmeling said that he had been having trouble with one of his eyes ever since his match with Stribling. The Georgian, he said, hit the eye in the first round and evidently the injury which resulted was more serious than was at first thought.

Cabled accounts of the fight said that Schmeling's eye was swollen almost shut after the fight because of the blow. Stribling at the time insisted that his glove had not struck his opponent's eye at any time during the round, or in fact, during the whole match.

Schmeling, who returned home only yesterday, was in such pain from the injury upon arising this morning that he lost no time in going to his doctor's office. The specialist said after the examination that it might be necessary for the fighter to remain in retirement "for even longer than the time specified."

Freddy Lindstrom to Quit Hospital Tomorrow

Philadelphia, Pa., July 14.—(AP)—Fred Lindstrom, right fielder of the New York Giants, who broke a bone in his left instep in a game with the Phillies here last week, expects to leave the hospital here on Thursday and will go to his home in Chicago. He will be on crutches for some time.

Casey Horses Pay $165 and $267 in Week at Latonia

Latonia, Ky., July 14.—(AP)—M. E. Casey has suddenly developed the habit of putting over the outsiders of outsiders at the Latonia race track. Last Friday it was Drastic Water, which won and paid $165.35 for $2. Today he sent out Drastic Delight, a maiden 3 year old, to win the sixth event and he paid $267.46 for $2—the record for the year.

TWENTY GRAND IN LAST DRILL FOR CLASSIC TODAY

[RACE CHARTS ON FOLLOWING PAGE.]

Long before you have an opportunity to read this piece at the breakfast table this morning, Twenty Grand, the mighty race horse from New York, will have completed the biggest job he ever tackled.

At 6 o'clock Twenty Grand will engage in his final workout for the Arlington Classic, the richest 3 year old race in the world, the event for which he has been pointed since late last February.

In the meantime he has worked for other glory which brought him victories in the Kentucky Derby, the Belmont stakes, and the Dwyer. Subsequently this work rewarded him with time records which may stand for many years. But if Twenty Grand is to stand out as the "horse of the century," he must win the Classic.

All Hands Excited.

Every one in Mrs. Helen Hay Whitney's turf organization will heave a sigh of relief when this morning's drill is over. Even Marshall Lilly, chief exercise boy in Mrs. Whitney's establishment and claimed to be the best in the country, although well in his forties, had lost his customary calm and was plainly nervous last night as the Whitney hands turned in soon after sundown to get a few hours' sleep before the big horse gallops out at dawn.

Lilly will have a leg up on Twenty Grand this morning when he speeds over the Classic course. And this Negro of some 40-odd years will know when the rehearsal ends if Twenty Grand is to carry on to an undisputed championship or whether some of his rivals may lead him home in the $90,000 test Saturday afternoon.

Lil' Marshal has been exercising Whitney horses since he was a pickaninny and it has often been said that he is the best "horse" in the Whitney barn. Perhaps he is, but Twenty Grand seems to be crowding him for honors this season.

Sun Meadow Scratched.

With Twenty Grand and his most dangerous rival, Mate, both preparing for their final Classic drills, Mate also being scheduled to travel the Arlington course today, there were some developments in the Classic situation yesterday.

The Dallas purse at a mile and a furlong, which was expected to bring into action a number of Classic candidates for a final test, developed into a two horse race. Joey Bibb, the game, consistent stretch runner from Kentucky, who may be about 100 to 1 in the Classic, won it by two lengths from Chief John, owned by John Marsch, the Chicago contractor.

Sun Meadow was scratched by Trainer Tommy Robrock, who said he was afraid the extra race might handicap him in the Classic. This was taken to mean that Sun Meadow is a sure starter in the Classic. He had been overworked when he made his disgraceful showing in the American Derby. For the Classic his preparation has been exactly the opposite.

A la Carte Leaves.

Joey Bibb ran nobly as he trimmed Chief John. He took the lead as he pleased going down the back stretch and then galloped fairly slowly the rest of the way. Chief John never had a chance to catch him. But after Joey had beaten Chief John by two lengths he worked out over another eighth of a mile, the full Classic distance. Clockers tabbed him in 2:05 for the mile and a quarter, which was very creditable.

A la Carte, the Ohio Derby winner, became frightened as the Classic neared and, after running two very bad races here, pulled out for New York. He will not go in the Classic. In the Spanish Play camp there was much confidence. Spanish Play has not needed much work since he won the mile and a half Latonia Derby and later trimmed some very good horses at Arlington in a shorter event. He may take a little run today as a final Classic conditioner.

Mullen Ordered to Explain Why He Owes Boxer

The Illinois state athletic commission yesterday ordered James Mullen, who promoted the Ace Hudkins-King Levinsky fight at Mills stadium July 1, to appear before the commission and show cause why his license as a promoter should not be revoked. The action resulted after Clyde Hudkins, who manages his brother's ring affairs, filed protest that he had not received his purse according to contract signed with Mullen.

JIM MULLEN.

Clyde Hudkins' letter to the commission follows:

"Up until the time of this writing I have not been paid for the services of my brother, Ace Hudkins, who boxed King Levinsky here on July 1. I have been unable to locate James C. Mullen, the promoter, and would appreciate any help or assistance your honorable commission may give in collecting this purse. Also the car fare of three round trip tickets from Los Angeles. The amount of the purse is 30 per cent of the net gate receipts.

"I regret I am unable to appear in person and I remain,

"Very respectfully,
"CLYDE HUDKINS."

According to Mullen's report filed with the commission the state tax of $675 was paid on receipts of $6,750.05. Hudkins' 30 per cent would be figured on this sum minus ring expenses. Hudkins' purse is estimated at $1,950 plus the three round trip tickets from Los Angeles to Chicago.

Levinsky received 30 per cent for the bout. Receipts for this expenditure and other items have been filed with the commission.

Gen. John V. Clinnin, chairman; George Getz and Fred Gardner attended the weekly commission meeting yesterday and concurred in the order.

Senators Get Five Hits; Sox Triumph, 9-1

BY EDWARD BURNS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 14.—Old Red Faber and his White Sox juniors this afternoon accorded the aspiring second place Washington Senators a fine blistering, 9 to 1. Old Red pitched seven innings before becoming tired of it all and during that time allowed only five hits, the first four of which were infield scratches, including two bunts that Red couldn't get because those old legs aren't so agile as they were thirty or forty years ago.

During the game the entire Senator cast knocked only seven balls out of the infield, including only one full blown smack, a double by Kuhel in the seventh. In five innings the second placers went out in order. No hits were made off Caraway, but he filled the bases with three walks before he finally got the side out in the ninth.

First Winning Start.

The Sox attack was unusual for reasons other than that it netted the Chicagoans the total of nine runs, for it was concentrated in three innings. In the six nonscoring innings not a batsman reached first base.

Faber made his third start of the year, and it was the first of the three in which he was returned the winner. Fischer, who started for Washington, was after his tenth win, but he was yanked in the fifth and drew his fourth defeat.

The same teams will play the second of their four game series tomorrow, with Tommy Thomas performing against Bob Burke, the pride of Joliet.

The first five batsmen were pretty soft for young Mr. Fischer, but after Fonseca and Fothergill had been retired in the second inning, things began to happen. Kerr singled to center and went to third on Appling's

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

Guy Bush still is a Giant killer of note. He wielded his mystic pitching powers over the New Yorkers yesterday and, while he tottered a bit in the ninth, his lead was so imposing that the Cubs didn't even come close to being nosed out by their traditional enemies. The score was 8 to 4, the Cubs doing all their damage in the early innings and thus ruining prospects for another of those hair raisers that are almost a habit with the two teams.

Bush now has the distinction of whipping the New Yorkers three times this season, and he almost made this the outstanding one of the three. For six innings his skill was so annoying to the visitors that they manufactured only two hits and sent only one fly to the outfield. After eight innings they had added only two more safe clouts, but in the ninth they reached a respectable total for the day by coming up with four more which produced all their runs.

Bush's Bat Useful.

The bronzed Mississippian also batted in a fashion highly satisfactory to 15,000 spectators. He singled to start a two run rally against Morrell in the third. He doubled in the course of another two run rally in the fourth. After that his bat did him no good, but some of his mates carried on, principally in the fifth when they did their most important work by scoring three times and relieving Morrell from further pitching.

Charley Grimm, because of weak legs, an ailment which creeps up on players long in the profession, was forced to confine himself to moral support from the bench, but an able understudy filled the vacancy. Blair was given the job, and as a show of appreciation he hit three singles in four times at bat.

Brooklyn's defeat at St. Louis and the victory over the Giants put the Cubs in third place.

The Cubs will look at a southpaw pitcher in the person of Carl Hubbell this afternoon. Manager Hornsby will treat the Giants to a similar experience. He is going to start Bud Teachout.

Bush Starts Offensive.

Bush's single which put two runs in motion in the third was a line drive to right with one out. Blair hit safely to the same spot. English was mowed down on a fly to Ott, but Cuyler bounced a drive off the left field wall for a double, Bush and Blair scoring. Hack Wilson let the rally die by striking out, but he at least had his swings.

Bush's perfect string of outs, all accomplished by infielders, wasn't broken until two were retired in the fourth. A fluky hit did it. Fullis grounded to Blair and Bush tore over to cover, but he didn't have time to locate the bag with his foot. Fullis stole second, Terry walked, and both moved up on a wild pitch. Bush concluded the easiest way to dispose of Ott would be to walk him. It filled the bases, but the scheme proved successful when Jackson grounded to Jurges at second.

Error Leads to Runs.

The Cubs didn't make a threatening move in their half of the fourth until Verges made a bad throw on Hartnett after two were out. Gabby hiked to second on Jurges' single to left. Both dashed over the plate when Bush made good on a pre-game promise. He announced he would plug a two bagger into left off Morrell. He did, the ball lining low to the corner of the jury box bleacher. Blair followed with a single to right, but Bush was thrown out at the plate. He filed a claim with the umpires that Morrell had blocked him on the line between third and home, but the plea availed nothing.

Verges opened the fifth with a single to left and was promptly swept up in a double play started by Jurges. In celebration of this rapid snuffing out of a possible rally, the Cubs responded with three runs in their portion of the fifth, thereby eliminating Morrell. English opened with a single to right and Cuyler beat out a bunt, which eluded the pitcher. Wilson doubled to center, scoring Hog-

RENAISSANCE NIPS LONG SHOT IN LAST STRIDES

2 to 7 Choice Gives Backers a Scare.

New York, July 14.—[Special.]—The Frivolity claiming stakes, feature today at Empire City, was won by John J. Robinson's Renaissance, 2 to 7 in the betting, but the favorite was led for much of the way by Corn Silk, a 30 to 1 shot that caused the form players no end of worry before she was overtaken just inside the furlong pole.

Once Raymond Workman ranged Renaissance alongside of the speedy daughter of Chicle and Silk Tassle the tussle was over. Renaissance ran on to win as he pleased by two lengths with Corn Silk saving the place by the same distance from Lucky Tom, a stablemate of the winner.

Workman scored a double on the day when he got C. V. Whitney's Clothe out of the maiden class in the fifth race. Clothe was at 7 to 10, but won much more easily than did Renaissance. Workman is the leading rider of the meeting, but he was tied for honors on the day by Apprentice Jockey D. Smith, who scored with George D. Widener's Quorum in the first and then came back with Chief's Challenger, a 10 to 1 shot.

Score on Infield Hits.

In the second inning Harris bounced a single off Appling's name plate, went to second when Bluege got a single to deep short, and reached the plate after two infield outs.

In the fifth the Sox made two runs and had two men speared at the plate. Blue walked, moved to second on Sullivan's sacrifice, then stole third. At this point Fischer was replaced by Brown, who was initiated with a single to left by Reynolds, which scored Blue. Fonseca caromed a single off Brown's shins and Reynolds stopped at second. Fothergill doubled to left, Reynolds scoring and Fonseca stopping at third. Kerr dribbled one in front of the plate and Brown picked up the ball and made a dive to tag Fonseca an instant before he touched home. Kerr and Fothergill attempted a double steal, but Fothergill was out at the plate.

Kuhel Gets Outfield Hit.

Kuhel got the first and only outfield hit off Faber with one out in the seventh. It was a double off the right field signboard. Joe went to third while Hargrave was rolling out to Blue and died there, because Brown also grounded out to Blue.

The Sox made three runs in the ninth on a single by Appling, Caraway's sacrifice, a pass to Blue, a single by Sullivan, and a triple by Reynolds.

Owner Retires William T. for Ankle Injury

Race track folks won't have to moan any more when William T. gets trimmed after he has been made an odds on favorite. They groaned at Arlington on Monday when he finished last in a small field. William E. Caskey, his Kentucky owner, announced he had retired William T. and would turn him out on his farm down in the blue grass country. William T. has a very bad ankle.

Her Grace, rated as a great mare in the east, made a disgraceful showing in her first start at Arlington in the Glencoe purse yesterday when she finished out of the money. Sister Zoe, showing steady improvement here, got up to win in the final strides from Mrs. Helen Hay Whitney's Robin's Egg, which had been in front most of the way. Rocket Glare got third money.

Jockey Willie Frock, who came up from Latonia to ride Burning Blaze for J. B. Partridge in what proved to be a winning race, has signed up with Partridge to pilot the big Blaze colt in the Post and Paddock renewal on Aug. 1. The Post and Paddock is the richest 2 year old race run in the west and should gross close to $50,000.

The Three D stable's French horse, Quatre Bras, son of Teddy and Plucky Liege, and brother of Sir Galahad III., daddy of Gallant Fox, broke down yesterday morning galloping for the Classic.

L. Montefiore Stein, William H. Stratton, Charles Dawes, Sydney Stein, and Harvey Hall were the guests at luncheon of Paul H. Davis, president of the Chicago Stock Exchange.

Lady Broadcast, holder of the Arlington Park record of 1:35 3-5 for one mile, has been shipped to Herbert Woolf's farm in Missouri. This daughter of Messenger fell lame at Washington Park, and it has become evident that she cannot be trained successfully again this season.

Mrs. Katherine Elkins Hitt, who arrived from Washington yesterday, ordered the withdrawal yesterday morning of her colt, Sun Meadow, from the fifth race in order that he might take a workout for the Classic. The big son of Sun Briar and Sweet Clover turned a mile and a quarter in 2:09.

Willis Sharpe Kilmer, the New York turfman who changes trainers almost with the regularity of a shift in the wind, announced yesterday that he had let Andy Schuttinger go and that Jack Whyte would succeed him. Sun Beau is among the Kilmer horses which Whyte took charge of at Arlington yesterday.

LARY, YANKEE SHORTSTOP, WEDS MOVIE ACTRESS

New York, July 14.—[Special.]—Lynford Lary, shortstop of the New York Yankees of the American league, and Miss Mary Lawlor, talking picture and musical comedy star, were married here today in St. Malachy's church by the Rev. Edward F. Leonard.

Their romance began three years ago when Lary was playing on the Oakland team of the Pacific Coast league. At that time Miss Lawlor was in motion pictures at Hollywood.

When Col. Jake Ruppert bought the young Coast league star from Oakland, along with Second Baseman Jimmy Reese, Lary came to New York and made his home at the Knights of Columbus club hotel, of which Frank Lawlor, Mrs. Lary's father, is manager.

Pirogue, breaking well, was always within striking distance of the leaders and, easily taking command in the stretch, won in hand. Dancing Boy improved his position gradually in the last quarter and was going well at the end. Sophist was shuffled back slightly as far turn but raced gamely thereafter. Misty tired. Dispatcher ran away an eighth before the start. Playing could not keep up. Minton raced on the outside all the way. Eleanor's Choice had early speed.

Desert Sun, off well, took a long lead after going a short distance and, much the best, was being eased up at the finish. 1 Say was close to the pace at all stages and, being asked for all it had in the stretch, Black Jewell went fairly well but could not get to the front. Chilhowa gained ground steadily and was going well at the finish. Red Diamond tired. Masola broke poorly. Escobaland raced wide most of the way. Vox Pop closed some ground. Simple Singer tired badly.

THIRD RACE—Six furlongs. Purse $1,500, claiming, 3 year olds and up. Net value to winner, $1,100; second, $225; third, $125; fourth, $50.

Egypt pressed the early leaders for the first half mile, then moved up to take command in the final furlong and held Volta Green at the end. Volta Green was a forward contender and took a short lead in the stretch but was tiring fast at the finish. Beautiful Doll made up ground gradually and was going well at the end. Dick Morris sprinted into a good lead in the early running but tired in the last furlong. Black Comet sulked. Down Pour tired after going a half mile.

FOURTH RACE—Seven furlongs. Purse $1,800, allowances, fillies and mares, 3 year old and up. Net value to winner, $1,500; second, $300; third, $150; fourth, $50.

Time, :23, :46, 1:11, 1:23 4-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Sister Zoe, $14.34 straight, $6.76 place, $4.82 show; Robins Egg, $6.64 place, $5.78 show; Rocket Glare, $3.14 show. Start good from gate. Won driving, place same. Went to post at 3:35. At post 1 minute. Trained by W. Carwood.

Sister Zoe, although a trailer in the early part, was always within striking distance of the leaders and, coming with a rush through the stretch, caught Robins Egg in the last fifteen yards and was drawing away rapidly at the finish. Robins Egg set the pace under slight restraint but tired badly in the last furlong. Rocket Glare was also tiring but was gaining on Robins Egg. Nellie Custis met with slight interference in the first quarter. Her Grace was never dangerous.

FIFTH RACE—One and one-eighth miles. Purse $1,800, allowances, 3 year olds. Net value to winner, $1,300; second, $300; third, $150; fourth, $50.

Time, :25, :48 3-5, 1:13 1-5, 1:38 3-5, 1:51 3-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Joey Bird, $3.58 straight, out for place, out for show; Chief John, out for place, out for show. Start good from gate. Won handily, place driving. Went to post at 4:25. Off at once. Trained by owner.

Joey Bird took command going around the first turn and raced under slight restaint to the last furlong where he was shaken up slightly. He worked out the full one and one-quarter miles. Chief John beat the winner away from the barrier and, racing well, made a game bid in the stretch but was not good enough.

SIXTH RACE—One and one-eighth miles. Purse $1,500 claiming, 3 year olds and up. Net value to winner, $1,100; second, $225; third, $125; fourth, $50.

Bub McFarland, in close quarters around first turn and again on back stretch, came to the outside of the leaders at stretch turn and, wearing them down in the run home, won easily. Grand Prince showed good speed from the start and held on fairly well. Princess Edith was going gamely at the finish. Our Pal also closed well. Washington was blocked repeatedly and had little chance. Ed Lark and Chancellor were in close quarters on first turn. Duelist met with some interference nearing the finish. Evergreen Queen was squeezed out of it at the start.

SEVENTH RACE—One and one-eighth miles. Purse $1,500, claiming, 3 year olds and up. Net value to winner, $1,100; second, $225; third, $125; fourth, $50.

Stone Martin, in a prominent position in the early running, came with a rush when straightened out in the stretch and, catching Dis Dame a sixteenth out, was an easy winner. Dis Dame took a good lead on the back stretch and raced well thereafter but was not good enough to resist the winner. Englewood was prominent from the start. Bubola suffered interference but closed fast. Sweep Past and Laura Negley tired badly in the run home. Brown Hills weakened after looming up dangerous. Atill was shut off soon after the start.

GARY TO SEND STAR TEAM TO TRIBUNE SWIM

Title at Lincoln Park July 26.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Walter Czarnecki of Gary, Ind., has organized a team of swimmers for the Tribune 100 yard championships to be held Sunday at the Lincoln park lagoon. The Gary boys not only have their minds set on winning the gold medals which the ten champions will receive, but they also expect to bid for the team trophy.

John Hendricks, 1321 Madison street, Gary, is the captain of the team. The Gary boys, competing in every division except class A, will represent the Roosevelman Athletic club. The list of entrants:

Girls: Ruth Lewis Brozenak, Mike Pete. Boys: C. Howard Kleber, Pete Gelinoff, John Hlinch, Capt. John Hendricks. Walter Czarnecki. Harold Connely, Phillip Tehanenas.

Whether the Gary boys win a championship or the team trophy, all will receive merit badges if they swim the 100 yard course in the Lincoln park lagoon. Every swimmer who swims Sunday afternoon, July 26, and completes the test will be awarded a pin of these gold buttons.

Champions Only Excepted.

Swimmers in the central states under 21 years of age up are eligible for the Tribune's speed tests. Champions in the A. A. U. and A. A. F. meets are excepted. This number, and twelve, is barred since the meet of the racers is to encourage more competition. A. A. U. and A. A. F. 100 yard free style champions only are excepted. Champions of back stroke and breast stroke, or greater or less distances may compete. Logs of these swimmers are being prepared and they will not be permitted to compete.

Entries close next Monday. All letters postmarked July 20 will be accepted, however. No post entries will be permitted.

To Start at 1:30.

It is planned to start the preliminary races in class A, boys, at 1:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon, July 26. It will be possible for 1,200 to compete in five hours. Last year 900 swam in six hours and a half. If these tentative plans are maintained, all swimmers must report between the hours of 10 a. m. and 12:30 p. m. for their entry numbers.

The score officials will assist in conducting the meet. The course, placing of the barges and securing the time will be in charge of Oscar Knop, chief of small parks and recreation in the Lincoln park district.

The names of all contestants will be published in the July 24 edition of THE TRIBUNE. Tracy also will appear in the program.

LEHMAN DEFENDS WESTERN GOLF CROWN TODAY

Portland, Ore., July 14.—(AP)—Thirty-two golfers led by Eddie Hogan, 21 year old Portland youth, today prepared to defend the western amateur tournament's qualifying medal test.

Danville Junior Legion Beats Kankakee Nine, 5-4

Danville, Ill., July 14.—[Special.]—The Danville American Legion junior baseball club defeated Kankakee, 5 to 4, in a fifteen inning state Legion tournament game today. The victory gave Danville the 13th district championship and the right to meet Decatur in a series of three games. Kankakee scored three runs in the first inning and Danville four in the fifth with Kankakee tying the score in the first of the ninth.

Clubs to Accept Requests for Ladies' Day Tickets

The Chicago Cubs will accept requests today for ladies' day tickets for the game with Boston on Friday, July 24, at Wrigley field. One ticket will be allotted to each applicant until the limit of 20,000 has been exhausted. Requests should be addressed to Ladies' Ticket office, Wrigley field, and must contain a self-addressed stamped envelope.

Jack Westland Wins Hy Jinx Golf Tourney with 147 Gross

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

Jack Westland, the Sunset Ridge star, who held the French amateur championship two years ago, was the chief celebrant as the last echoes of the Hy Jinx, Edgewater Golf club's annual jollification, died away yesterday. Jack finished the 36 holes of play with a gross score of 147, compounded of two rounds of 62 and 75, and a 4 plus handicap.

Three other participants in the Hy Jinx also finished with gross scores of 147. They were Gus Novotny of Edgewood Valley, with 71—74 and a 2 plus handicap; H. D. Fargo Jr. of the home club, who shot a 74 and 73, and E. D. Redormer of Glen View, who turned the morning round in 73, and had a 74 in the afternoon. Westland was awarded the low gross prize because he had a higher number of plus strokes than Novotny, his nearest competitor.

Shoots Two Under Par.

Jack's morning round of 62 was two under par, and included birdies on the 6th, 8th, 10th, 14th and 16th holes. His was over par on only one hole, the 18th. His afternoon effort of 75 wasn't especially startling, but it included one shot from which Jack probably hasn't quite recovered yet. His tee shot from the third was out of bounds, and he hooked his next attempt into the 7th fairway, 150 yards from the green. He stepped up and boosted his approach shot through trees and over traps and into the cup for a birdie 2.

Fargo and Rodormer tied for the 36 hole low net prize with scores of 147—8—139, but the former won when they matched cards and found that in match play he would have triumphed 2 and 1.

Novotny took low gross honors for the best morning round, shooting a 72, which, with his extra stroke added, gave him a 72. Frank Justin of Edgewood Valley had the best afternoon 18 with a 72.

Jager Low in Morning.

The winning low net rounds were compiled by Earl Jager of Ridgemoor in the morning with a 73—3—70 and J. C. McGuinn, competing unattached, with a 70 in the matinée. J. L. Nelson of Edgewater and M. J. O'Meara of Edgewater also had 70s in the afternoon, but McGuinn was declared the victor after matching cards.

Chick Evans of Edgewater shot the best actual gross round of the day, a 69—73—142, but he was handicapped with an additional 3 strokes, which gave him a total of 150.

L. L. Cooke, George Hennesberry, Novotny and Jager won the 36 hole low gross foursome prize with a total of 625. Low net foursome honors went to a quartet composed of C. A. Boyd, E. J. Ryan, and M. B. Veuve of the home club and T. E. Maley of Olympia Fields with a final card of 786—122—658.

Evans, Frank Warden, Midlothian; Robert McDougall, Beverly, and Harry Radix of Ridgemoor took the morning gross foursome prize with 313, while a 323 turned in by D. A. Madison of Edgewater, W. W. McGhee of Bunker Hill, Elmer Rich of Glen View, and Martin Hon of Illinois was best in the afternoon.

273 Wins Low Net.

The morning low net was taken by P. J. Brennan and E. J. Donovan of Edgewater, A. L. Cavanaugh of Briergate, and W. J. Donovan of Illinois with 353—65—273. A. F. Bastien, Edgewater; Dennis Finn and William Devon, Beverly, and E. J. Fallon, Illinois, brought home the best net foursome score in the afternoon, 394—102—292.

A field of 114 competed in the Hy Jinx, as compared to the 193 who went to the starter's tee last year. The leading 36 hole scores:

Sectional Trials to Reduce Field for U. S. Amateur

New York, July 14.—(AP)—For the first time in the tournament's history, sectional qualifying trials will determine the make up of the field for the United States amateur golf championship last of the big events for 1931 in which a successor to Bobby Jones will be named.

The United States Golf association today made public the entry list of 525 golfers who will compete in 29 sectional events, July 23, to fill 150 places for the championship proper, the week of Aug. 31 to Sept. 5, at the Beverly Country club, Chicago.

With the addition of two Britons, exempt from preliminary trial, the total entry list is 527 and the maximum field for Chicago 152. The British contenders are John De Forest and his brother, Alaric. John was runner up to Eric Martin Smith in this year's British amateur championship.

The U. S. G. A. will award a gold medal for low qualifying score in each 36 hole district test. The survivors of these tests will undergo a second trial at 36 holes, over the Beverly course, to cut the field down to 32 for match play competition. This phase of the championship tournament again calls for two 18 hole rounds, with the quarter finals, semi-finals and finals all at 36 holes.

Chicago, as the scene for the title skirmish, attracted by far the biggest entry, with 128 players competing for 24 places, more than 20 per cent of the entire field. The New York district is next with 65 contenders for 19 places.

The list of former titleholders entered includes Robert A. Gardner of Chicago, champion in 1909 and 1915, as well as Jess Sweetser, of New York, Max Marston of Philadelphia, Francis Quimet and Jesse Guilford of Boston, Chick Evans of Chicago, and Harrison R. Johnston of Minneapolis.

Finals of West Park Boat and Airplane Show Friday

Finals of the West park's model boat races and airplane show will be held Friday. The boat races are scheduled for Garfield park fly casting pool at 10 a. m., while the airplane meet will be held at Humboldt park at 2 p. m. Gold, silver, and bronze medals will be awarded the winners.

Lillian Zech's Foursome Is Golf Winner

A team composed of Mrs. Lillian Zech of Tom O'Shanter, Mrs. F. R. Malcolm, Maywood; Mrs. A. J. Moyer, Middlebrook, and J. J. Rink, Illinois, won the second foursome tourney sponsored by the Chicago Women's Golf association yesterday at Hinsdale Country club with a composite card of 363—31—332.

Mrs. Zech led the quartette with 93—8—80. Mrs. Malcolm had 90—6—82, Mrs. Moyer, 92—10—82, and Mrs. Rink, 95—7—88.

They were awarded the low gross prize. They also had low net, but as no team is eligible to two prizes, this award was given to the second low net combination consisting of Mrs. O. C. Bell, Edgewood Valley; Mrs. H. A. Fletcher, Edgewood Valley; Miss Marjorie Russell, La Grange, and Mrs. R. P. Lapham, La Grange, who had 392—53—339.

Miss June Beebe, Olympia Fields; Miss Jane Weller, Vernon Ridge; Mrs. A. E. Stull, Glen Oak, and Mrs. E. T. Bichels Jr., Lincolnshire, were automatically disqualified when Miss Weller played two consecutive shots with Miss Beebe's ball on the second hole.

The prizes for individual low net went to Mrs. Howard Hughes of Edgewood Valley, who had 97—18—79. The fewest putts award went to Mrs. R. A. Gates of Edgewood Valley.

Mrs. Lee Mills, Butterfield, playing from scratch, had the lowest individual score of the day with a brace of 41's for an 84 total.

W. J. Meinhardt, a guest, shot 42—41—83 to capture the low gross prize at the annual Purchasing Agents club's golf tournament at Hickory Hills yesterday. Seventy-five members and their guests competed. The first low gross prize for members was won by George Birkenstein with 43—41—84. Second went to C. M. Oberling with 44——43—87.

C. F. Johnson had 103—32—70 to win the first low net prize for members. P. E. Shaw was second with 101—30—71. First place among the guests went to D. E. Proctor with 35—15—70. Leading scores:

Don Murry	94	23	69
E. E. Bales	106	35	71
Earl Bates	101	30	71
A. Jarman	105	34	71
G. W. Motherwell	104	32	72
M. B. Mervis	86	13	73
A. Rudnicus	108	35	73

W. R. Hallstein	105	30	75
R. Howell	110	33	77
J. J. Higgins	103	24	81

E. Nelson's 76 took first prize in a field of 145 golfers who competed in the second mid-summer tournament of the Chicago Traffic club at Itasca Country club yesterday. The first low gross for members was won by A. G. Anderson with an 82. Second place went to F. J. Wasson with 83. The leading scores:

E. Nelson, 76; A. G. Anderson, 82; F. J. Wasson, 83; J. F. Connelley, 87; Pat Cusack, 88; A. Arnold, 89; F. Purney, 90; C. E. Tennis, 91; E. Rummerschmidt, 97; B. F. Stevens, 98, and H. L. Marshall, 100.

Two holes in one were shot at Wilmette yesterday, Dave Pattullo, club professional, getting his ace on the 200 yard third, and Warren Illick scoring his on the 155 yard sixteenth. Pattullo used a brassie shot into the wind, while Illick employed a spade mashie. Members of Pattullo's foursome were N. Arnel, C. M. Hunt, and C. Reeves. Illick played with H. Harvey, R. Woodan, and F. Parker.

Chicago district amateurs are eligible to compete in the seventh annual best ball championship to be held at Mid-City July 23, 24, and 25. Two flights of eight two-man teams will be picked in the qualifying round the first day. Match play will start on Friday, with the finals Saturday. Many of the city's leading golfers, including Chick Evans and Jack Westland, will compete.

Class B, Dana Willis, 88—28—60; Irv Corbin, 94—34—60; Henry Arneman, 102—45—60; Merl Finch, 99—35—64; Ludwig Wilson, 106—42—64; Charles Garland, 113—47—66; G. Salisbury, 117—49—68; Dr. Zoph, 119—47—70; Steve Speidel, 119—49—70; Dave Wentworth, 99—29—71, and Allen Coleman, 111—40—71.

More than 150 members participated in the annual Electric club tournament at the Antlers' Country club, Wheaton, yesterday. Class A low gross honors were won by Harry Johnson with 41—42—83.

M. J. Belson was low in Class B with 43—52—95 and F. H. Leasure took the Class C prize with 45—54—99. Other winners:

Low net: class A—Frank Glassman, 93—18—74; class B—A. Cone, 96—26—70; class C—J. S. Jacobson, 104—30—74. Blind bogey—C. A. Lundberg, 84.

In the WAKE of the NEWS

INTERNATIONAL POLO.

NOT being an internationalist, in the matter of reporting polo games, like our co-worker, Tom Pettey, The Wake feels free in passing on to readers a few of the A-B-C's handed to us. The purpose was that we might the better appreciate and understand the play in the second match between Old Aiken and Santa Paula teams at Onwentsia today.

Polo fields are 300 by 160 yards with goal posts at each end eight yards apart. Boundary boards ten inches high extend the length of the field, which is supposed to be of springy turf of short grass and carefully leveled. There are four players on each side. They wear helmets as a head protection.

Balls usually are willow root covered with white paint, about 3½ inches in diameter, weighing 5½ ounces. They are slightly larger and lighter than a baseball. Mallets are bamboo shafts of cane or malacca set in ash, sycamore or willow heads with flat ends. The handle is wrapped. These mallets weigh from 15 to 13 ounces and are 48 to 52 inches in length. The ball is struck with the flat or long side of the mallet and not the ends.

Ponies are small horses, about 15 or 15.1 hands, weighing 900 to 1,200 pounds, 7 to 14 years old. The breeding generally is a thoroughbred stallion from a polo playing mare. Such ponies cost from $500 to fancy figures. The average might be $1,000 to $3,000, with $7,000 to $10,000 for the best.

A pony is supposed to be good for about two periods, or chukkers, so four, five or more mounts are required for each player. In international polo there are eight chukkers, of 7½ minutes, with three minutes' rest between, and ten minutes' rest between halves.

Goals are scored when the ball passes between the upright posts at the end or their upright prolongation. If the attackers hit the ball over the end line but not between the goal posts, the defenders hit it in. If the defenders hit it back of their posts it is a safety and allows the opposition a free shot. If the ball goes over the side boundary boards the referee throws it in.

There are fouls for unfair or rough play, but polo is no gentle game. It is thrilling and exciting, calling for both individual prowess and team play. The present series is the greatest ever held in the Chicago district. It warrants a trip to Onwentsia whether or not one appreciates all the technical niceties of the play.

Way Back When.

'Way back when boys and men
Smoked big cigars right in the cars
And drank good beer before the bars,
They had good times and lots of dimes.
We had tin pails but fewer jails
And not so many aches and ills,
'Way back when, 'way back when.

Yanks Split with Indians; Gehrig Hits 2

New York, July 14.—(AP)—The Cleveland Indians opened their eastern invasion by splitting a double header with the New York Yankees today, the locals winning the first, 19 to 3, and losing the second, 6 to 1.

Lou Gehrig hit his 24th and 25th home runs in the first game, in which the Yankees made nineteen hits for a total of thirty-five bases. Ben Chapman of the Yankees stole three bases, bringing his total to thirty-four.

Harder, Indian right hander, and Averill, slugging outfielder, contrived to lick the Yankees in the second. Harder allowed eight scattered hits, and Averill knocked in the winning runs with a home run in the sixth. He also hit a homer in the first game.

JOURNALIST OF SILK HAT ERA ENDS LIFE AT 80

A Figure in Chicago Night Life of '90s.

New York, July 14.—[Special.]—J. Harry Ballard, 80 years old, former editorial writer for the New York World-Telegram, committed suicide tonight by shooting himself through the temple in his apartment in Tudor City.

Ballard returned home at about 6 o'clock. His wife, Mrs. Anita Ballard, 76, was in the bathroom. He entered and, gesturing with a revolver, said:

"I'm going to take you with me."

Mrs. Ballard screamed and fainted. When she recovered consciousness, she heard a shot in the living room and found Ballard's body slumped on a couch.

Ballard's career began with a position on the London Echo. Later he joined the staff of the Montreal Gazette, which he left after a year and a half to become secretary of the British consulate at Singapore.

Twenty-two Years in Chicago.

Later he went to Chicago to work on the Inter Ocean, which he served for 22 years, 11 of them as city editor. He joined the New York Telegram thirty years ago, serving as columnist and later as editorial writer. Three months ago he was retired on a pension, but was unable to absent himself from the newspaper office and went to work daily, helping make up the paper.

Mrs. Ballard was unable to account for his suicide, but said he had been suffering from the effects of an automobile accident in December, 1928.

A SILK HATTED JOURNALIST.

Harry Ballard was a journalist of the good old days, the silk hatted, frock coated era of city editors. He held that position on the Chicago Inter Ocean when William Penn Nixon was its editor and publisher. City editors in those days of morning journalism finished their day's work by 5:30 or 6 of the evening and thereafter, properly and precisely groomed and attired, might be seen at places of popular resort—at the Richelieu hotel or Rector's for dinner and later on at the theater or the opera or the more democratic places of call.

When Mr. Ballard moved into New York he took his frock coat and tall hat along, and his Wade & Butcher razor, which each morning sheared his lean, ascetic face.

Connecting with the New York Evening Telegram, Ballard conducted an editorial page column, a pert and sophisticated commentary on the life and manners of Broadway—forerunner of the "colyums" which are found in the newspapers of this day.

SWINDLER WINS NEW DELAY IN PAROLE FIGHT

Another continuance was granted McKee Marshall, a former bucketshop operator, when efforts were made yesterday by Assistant Attorney General John E. Johnson, representing the warden of the state penitentiary, to have him returned to prison to serve out his term because of a parole violation. Marshall was represented by a new attorney, who argued that his client had already served his full term in prison for grand larceny and embezzlement. Judge Peter Schwaba said he would rule on the case tomorrow. Marshall has successfully resisted a return to prison since May and has obtained many continuances.

LEO BROTHERS PERFECTS HIGH COURT APPEAL

CRIMINAL COURT.

Paul Schwartz, larceny, sentenced to 1 to 10 years in Pontiac reformatory by Judge Joseph Burke.

Frank Wortham, manslaughter, sentenced to 1 to 14 years in the penitentiary; Charles A. Scott, Harry Hilson, and Stanley Witkowski, larceny, sentenced to 1 to 10 years in Pontiac reformatory by Judge John Prystalski.

Harold Woods, Everett Tolliver, and Alfonzo Hill, larceny, sentenced to 1 year each in Pontiac reformatory; Frank Andreas, James Uhler, Edward Koncel, and Joseph Koncel, robbery, sentenced to 1 to 10 years each in Pontiac reformatory; Eddie Macklin, assault to murder, sentenced to 1 to 14 years in the penitentiary by Judge Joseph Sabath.

Leo V. Brothers, convicted slayer of Alfred Lingle, perfected his appeal to the Supreme court yesterday and was automatically issued a writ of supersedeas by Justice Frederic De Young. The writ stays the removal of Brothers from the county jail to the penitentiary pending the review of the case by the Supreme court at the October term. Attorneys for Brothers raised the same points in their appeal to the Supreme court which were made at the motion for a new trial before Judge Joseph Sabath. Brothers is under a 14 year sentence.

MAN ACCIDENTALLY SHOT TO DEATH.

POLICEMAN GETS WARRANTS FOR PAROLE AGENT

His political offices—tax collector of Bloom township and state parole agent—did not prevent the issuance of warrants against Manuel Sultan yesterday. County Highway Policeman George Truesdale was the complaining witness and Justice of the Peace Frank Synakiewicz of Blue Island issued the warrants charging speeding and resisting an officer.

The action resulted from an incident Monday night when Truesdale, who joined the force only six weeks ago, tried to arrest the politician for driving 58 miles an hour along the Lincoln highway. Sultan stopped once, refused to be arrested, then drove to his home in Chicago Heights followed by the policeman. At his home Sultan forced Truesdale from the premises with a revolver, according to the officer. He threatened also to "get" Truesdale's job, the latter said.

Reports that no effort would be made to serve the warrants were denied by William Collins, chief of the highway force. "The warrants will be served," he said, "but I am having Truesdale and his lieutenant, Robert Seiter of the Homewood station, in my office tomorrow morning so that I can see if we are right before we go farther.

An attorney for Sultan said the latter probably would surrender today.

8 RUSSIANS DEAD IN AIR CRASH GET MILITARY RITES

MOSCOW, July 14.—(AP)—An impressive military and civil funeral was held today for the eight Russian army officers killed yesterday in the crash of a large observation airplane during a practice flight near Moscow.

More than 5,000 persons, about half of them soldiers, stood in the hall of the central house of the Red army while high soviet officials eulogized the dead. The victims were lying in state, watched over by a guard of honor.

After the ceremony there was a procession through the rain to the crematorium. In line were 20 armored tanks and three pieces of light artillery, which were preceded by a group of friends and relatives bearing life sized portraits of the victims. Brief tributes to the revolutionary careers of the aviators constituted the only services.

The victims included Assistant Chief Triands Filow of army headquarters; Assistant Chief Kolenovsky of the mechanization department, a headquarters officer, two senior officers, an observer and two technicians.

SOLDIER WHO ATE HIS FALSE TEETH DIES

Washington, D. C., July 14.—[Special.]—Despite all of the resources that the army could bring to bear, including a 2,200 mile airplane dash from Texas to Washington, Private Olaf Nelson, U. S. A., died today at Walter Reed hospital from an infection from two false teeth and bridgework that caught in his throat.

The bridgework and teeth were swallowed Sunday and four gold prongs, which held the teeth in place, caught in Nelson's throat. Surgeons at the Texas army camp, where Nelson was located, attempted to remove the impediment, but were unsuccessful. It was then decided to rush him by plane to Walter Reed hospital, where the best surgical talent in the army and the finest of equipment would be available.

Despite the efforts of surgeons and nurses he died there early this morning.

Heat Kills Chief Parachute Instructor at Rantoul

Rantoul, Ill., July 14.—[Special.]—Master Sergeant Berwin H. Nichols, 53, died today of heat prostration Nichols, chief instructor in parachute jumping at Chanute field and regarded in aviation circles as one of the most competent instructors in the army service, was preparing to signal a parachute jumper to make a leap from a plane when he fell dead.

Three Patients Escape from Dunning Hospital

Three patients in the Chicago state hospital for the insane at Dunning escaped yesterday by pushing out a screen and leaping one floor to the ground. Hospital authorities said none of the three are dangerous. They are Walter Fretag, 27 years old, who was wearing only a nightgown; Frank Gainer, 48 years old; and John Miner, colored, 33 years old.

REPORT CHICAGO GIRL IN COMA FOR 100 HOURS

Dispatches from Lansing, Mich., last night said that a young woman who has been unconscious for more than 100 hours in a Lansing hospital had been identified as Miss Winifred Russell, student technician in X-ray work at the Edgewater hospital.

Employes at the hospital said that a Miss Russell had completed a six months' X-ray course there in June. She was described as in her early twenties, but no other information concerning her was permitted to be given out by the hospital authorities.

The girl registered last week at a Lansing hotel, giving the name "W. Russell, Milwaukee." The dispatches said she swallowed three bottles of sleep producing drugs and is in a serious condition 100 hours after lapsing into a coma. The photograph of a young man in her possession was identified as a likeness of Ned Hess, a young chiropodist at whose parents' home in Detour, Mich., she was said to have spent the week-end of July 4-5. No man by that name could be found here.

Her father, it was said, is W. C. Russell, a newspaper man on the staff of the Daily Province, Vancouver, B. C. He had been notified of her condition. Mrs. W. Stevens of Oak Park is an aunt of the girl.

He Saves Drowning Girl; Finds He's Rescued Two

Staunton, Ill., July 14.—(AP)—Fred Miserny of Chicago rescued Anna Kreckneak, 16, from drowning yesterday, and when he pulled her to shore found Geneva Blaskowski, 12, clinging to her hand. He had effected a double rescue.

Miserny was attracted to the old Staunton reservoir by screaming of children, and jumped in without removing any clothes and grabbed a hand stretched above the water. He pulled the girl to land before he realized why she was so difficult to handle. She had gone to the rescue of the younger child and had been carried down with her.

W. S. Bullock, Ex-Mayor of Waukegan, Dies Here

W. S. Bullock, 57 years old, mayor of Waukegan from 1905 to 1908, and a retired bed spring manufacturer, died suddenly in his apartment at 4324 Lake Park avenue yesterday. He had been ill for some time. He is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Lucille Austin, Mrs. Helen Duffy, and Mrs. Vera Thompson.

Peter Doyle, Pioneer Teaming Contractor, Dies

Peter Doyle, pioneer teaming contractor, died yesterday in his home at 5069 West Monroe street. He was 85 years old, and at the time of the Chicago fire was one of the leaders in the trucking business in Chicago, doing much of the trucking for the old South Water street market. He is survived by six sons, two daughters, and ten grandchildren.

MILAN HULBERT, HONORED BY 8 COUNTRIES, DIES

Milan H. Hulbert, whom eight governments had decorated for his services at international expositions, died yesterday in his apartment in the Belden-Stratford hotel after an illness of four years. He was 64 years old.

Born in Brooklyn and educated at the Brooklyn Polytechnic institute, Mr. Hulbert was in the manufacturing business with his father until 1899. In 1900 he served as a member of the international jury of awards at the Paris exposition and director of the department of manufactures for the United States commission at the same exposition.

At the St. Louis exposition in 1904 he was chief of the department of manufactures and member of the jury of awards. Since that time he had been engaged in the real estate business with offices at 6 North Michigan avenue.

Surviving Mr. Hulbert are his widow, Olive Woodward Hulbert; four daughters, Olive, Helen, Ethel and Adele, and a son, Milan Jr. Funeral services will be private.

THE "BEAUTY" THAT MIGHT HAVE BEEN!

The poisons from constipation often cause pimples, sallow skin, dull eyes—headaches and even serious disease.

But every girl can banish the evils of constipation by eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN regularly. Its bulk sweeps the system clean.

Two tablespoonfuls daily are a wonderful health prescription. Try it with milk. Add fruits or honey. Delicious when combined with canned peaches. ALL-BRAN is non-fattening.

Ask for Kellogg's—the original ALL-BRAN. In the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

WORLD FLYERS, POST AND GATTY, TO BE AT CHICAGO AIR SHOW

William J. Smith, commander of the Chicago Aviation post of the American Legion, yesterday announced that he had received definite assurance from representatives of Wiley Post and Harold Gatty, round the world flyers, that they would fly to Chicago for the two day air show which the Legion will hold at Curtiss field on July 25 and 26.

The flyers are expected to come here in their famous plane Winnie Mae in which they circled the globe. They have been invited to take part in the demonstrations at the airport, where, a year ago, Post landed at the end of his prize winning record flight from Los Angeles to Chicago in the Pacific Air Derby.

An effort is being made to obtain the services of an army squadron to escort the flyers to Chicago. Arrangements are being made to entertain the visitors at banquets and public receptions during their two day stay.

Gale Uproots Historic Oak in Independence Square

Philadelphia, Pa., July 14.—(AP)—One of the historic old oaks in Independence square was blown down tonight by a 56 mile an hour gale. The Broad street subway was flooded, stranding hundreds of persons.

DEATH NOTICES

In Memoriam.

BALDWIN—Harry H. Baldwin. In loving memory of my dear husband and our darling dad, who died one year ago today, July 15, 1930. YOUR WIFE and DAUGHTERS, BLANCHE AND TRIO.

ISAACSON—Sholom Harry Isaacson. In loving memory of our adored father, who passed through the gate called death two years ago today.
O, how we miss him, words cannot tell.
His bright, happy face we loved so well.
God took him home; it was His will
But in our hearts he is with us still.
Time may heal, but it never can mend.
Our hearts will be broken until the end.
And of the load he helped us carry,
Always patient, true and kind.
But everything shall be, for God's will must be done.
What a beautiful memory he left behind.

A. T. & T. EARNS MORE IN 6 MOS. THAN LAST YEAR

BY O. A. MATHER.

Although no great business enterprise is proof against the adverse effects of periods of depression, it would seem that the public utilities have suffered the least in the last year or two. This is particularly true of those companies which have broad ramifications and consequent diversified outlets.

WALTER S. GIFFORD.

The American Telephone and Telegraph company, largest of American industrial corporations, affords apt illustration. In addition to being the parent of the Bell system, it also has the Western Electric company and has holdings in other big industrial concerns. Due to larger returns received from subsidiaries, American Telephone earnings were larger for the first half of this year than for the corresponding period in 1930. It received nearly $7,000,000 more from its subsidiaries, which more than offset a decline of somewhat less than $2,000,000 in its own telephone operating income.

Small Service Shrinkage.

President Walter S. Gifford, in his semi-annual report, issued yesterday, says that the Bell system had a net gain of about 100,000 telephones during the first half of this year. But this was only two-thirds of 1 per cent of the total number of telephones in service. Moreover, total telephone conversations were only about 1 per cent below last year's level. Long distance calls declined about 8 per cent.

Total earnings for the first half of 1931 were $150,376,270, compared with $204,616 last year. Expenses were reduced more than $1,500,000. Net income was $89,109,842, equal to $4.89 a share on the average shares outstanding. This was 29 cents more than dividend requirements. Dividends totaling $79,883,088 and $9,227,757 was carried to surplus. Net income for the first half of 1930 was $81,796,812, or $4.49 a share on a smaller amount of stock, while dividends totaled $64,000,000, and $17,406,153 was carried to surplus.

Net income for the second quarter of this year was $43,924,430, or $2.38 a share, compared with $41,179,873, or $2.27 a share, a year ago. The company now has approximately 600,000 stockholders, an increase of 33,000 since the beginning of this year.

TRADE NEWS MIXED

General news of trade and industry was conflicting yesterday. Some encouragement lay in data on the movement of commodities by railroad. Loading of revenue freight for the week ended July 4 totaled 607,879 cars. This marked a decrease of 21,411 cars from the preceding week, due to the holiday and while the total fell 91,000 cars below a year ago, this recession was much narrower than the comparative decline of 177,000 cars reported in the preceding week. Miscellaneous freight totaled 264,818 cars, a decline of 41,091 from the previous week and also 85,581 below a year ago.

Some pickup in steel production following the Fourth of July shutdowns is reported by the American Metal Market, which says that "no increase has occurred in the sum total demand for steel, but production is up a couple of points from last week." The report continues: "No increase of consequence over the present rate is expected by the trade in the next few weeks and perhaps no great increase until Labor day has closed the vacation period, but it remains probable that August will make a slightly better showing than July." Steel ingot output in the Chicago district remains nearly this week between 30 and 35 per cent of capacity.

Oil Output Rises.

Another large increase in petroleum production occurred last week in spite of united efforts to curtail output and successive cuts in crude oil prices. The daily average gross crude oil production totaled 2,544,650 barrels, an increase of 62,150 barrels a day over the previous week, according to the American Petroleum institute. Refiners used more crude oil and operated at 69.5 per cent of capacity, compared with 69.8 per cent in the preceding week. However, gasoline stocks declined 3,356,000 barrels to a total of 60,000,000 barrels.

Export Copper Sold at 7⅛c; Equals Low Level

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, July 14.—Small sales of copper on first hand for 7⅛ cents a pound were reported in the metal market today. Similar sales are said to have been made yesterday, and they establish the current market at that price level, equaling the lowest on record. The price of copper for export still held at 8.25 cents a pound, unchanged. As that price was out of line with the domestic market, no sales of any account was transacted.

Large producers of copper and some of the custom smelters were reported holding copper for 8 cents a pound for domestic delivery, but with metal available ⅛ of a cent cheaper no sales were made at the higher level.

I. C. C. Starts Rate Hearing; Will Probe Ry. Management

Washington, D. C., July 14.—(AP)—The interstate commerce commission tomorrow will open a series of hearings that may result in sweeping investigation of the management of the nation's railroads.

The carriers will begin submitting evidence to support their claim that a 15 per cent freight rate increase is needed.

The commission has ordered a companion inquiry into certain management practices of the roads.

Prices paid for coal, methods of handling lake cargo coal, and of handling fuel at tidewater points, private freight cars, spotting cars for industries and placing and maintaining switches for industrial plants are to be the first subjects of investigation.

The management inquiry will be prosecuted independently of the rate case, and at the commission offices today the belief was expressed that no final decision would be announced until long after the rate case is closed.

Regarded as Important.

The proceedings are regarded by the commission as so important that commissioners have been assigned to hold hearings instead of turning the cases over to examiners. Three examiners, however, have been assigned to assist in the rate case and others are expected to be assigned to help with the management inquiry.

Commissioners Lewis, Lee, and Mayer aided by Examiners Disque, Hosmer, and Mattingly will sit at tomorrow's hearings and throughout the rate case. Commissioners Eastman, Lee, and McManamy will have charge of the management inquiry.

The railroads will have their say in hearings starting tomorrow. They are expected to last a week or ten days. The opposition led by agriculture and other shipping interests is to have its inning Aug. 31. There also will be hearings in various parts of the country.

The carriers in making their plea for a rate increase told the commission their earnings had fallen off until they were making far less than the fair return the transportation act provides the commission shall allow them.

Securities Seen Endangered.

They point to the fact their securities are in danger of being taken off the list of legal investments for savings banks and insurance companies because net earnings are beginning to fall below 1½ times fixed charges.

Proposals by railroads to reduce rates on food products in glass containers were characterized today by two interstate commerce commission examiners as a "weak yielding" on the part of the lines to a well organized group of shippers. The examiners recommended the suggested cuts on less than carload ratings in official and Illinois classification districts be disapproved with two exceptions. They found that peanut oil and cooking oil were too high in the Illinois classification and should be lowered one class.

Citrus Growers Protest.

Meanwhile, orange and lemon growers in California and Arizona filed with the commission a protest against any increase in the rates on their products.

The basis of the protest, presented by the California Citrus league, was the contention that "the citrus fruit traffic cannot bear any increase in its freight burden, due to the fact that growers are now failing to meet costs of production and market conditions do not permit any increase in prices."

Against Long Delay.

New York, July 14.—(AP)—Representative James M. Beck [Rep.] of Pennsylvania attacked the interstate commerce commission today for mapping what he called a "long and tortuous hearing" on the railroads' application for a 15 per cent increase in freight rates.

"If the commission delays this vital matter until the snow flies," said Mr. Beck, "I shall ask my colleagues of the house interstate commerce committee to consider earnestly whether the commission has not outlived its usefulness and whether all necessary regulatory power could not be wisely concentrated in a smaller and more speedy governmental agency."

OPPOSE RATE BOOST

Opposition to the petition of railroads that they be allowed a 15 per cent increase in rates and formal notice that the body desires to have representatives appear before the interstate commerce commission at Washington was announced yesterday by the American Farm Bureau federation through its Chicago offices.

The federation, through O. W. Sandberg, director of transportation, indicated it has compiled evidence that the increase in rates should not be allowed. As part of the petition, the federation asks that a Chicago hearing be scheduled about Oct. 15, when farm bureau directors will be in session, so that they might appear in a body before the commerce commission.

Directors of the Illinois Manufacturers' association met yesterday and discussed the railroads' plea for higher rates. They decided to take no stand until the railroads present their testimony, but instructed the association's counsel to attend all hearings and enter the appearance of the association as a party to the proceedings.

An involuntary bankruptcy petition was filed yesterday against Albert Pick & Co. and the Albert Pick-Barth company, an affiliated concern, which are among the largest hotel supply concerns in the United States.

Attorney Samuel Dulsky, who filed the petition in behalf of three creditors, declared that assets, if liquidated, would total $10,000,000, while he estimated liabilities of the companies at $15,000,000.

"The company got into trouble because it furnished supplies to a number of New York hotels, taking mortgages on the property in payment," Attorney Dulsky said. "When the hotels went broke the company found itself without funds."

LASKER, HERTZ AMONG NEW DIRECTORS OF FIRST NATIONAL BANK

Frederick H. Rawson, chairman of the board of the First National bank, yesterday announced the election of four new directors. They are Albert D. Lasker, chairman of the board of Lord & Thomas and Logan; John N. Dole, chairman of the board of H. M. Hooker Glass and Paint Manufacturing company; John D. Hertz, chairman of the board of the Omnibus corporation, and Charles A. McCulloch, chairman of the board of John R. Thompson company.

All were formerly directors of the Foreman-State National bank and Foreman-State Trust and Savings banks, the deposit liabilities of which were assumed by the First National and its affiliate, the First Union Trust and Savings bank, on June 8.

Emil O. Brickman, president of the Illinois Meat company, and James G. Hedgkinson, both of Chicago, yesterday were elected to membership on the Chicago Board of Trade at a meeting of the directors.

July Wheat Nears Lowest Price in History of Board

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

July wheat on the Chicago Board of Trade sold yesterday at 50½c, a new low for the season and, with the exception of the low quotation of 50⅝c made on July 26, 1894, was the lowest in the history of the local exchange since it was organized on April 18, 1848. The finish, however, was below the closing quotations in 1894, final sales being 50⅝@50⅝c, showing a net loss of 1c for the day. In January, 1895, cash wheat sold as low as 48⅞c, or somewhat below what has been paid for contract grades so far this season in the local sample market.

Hedging pressure was largely responsible for the decline in wheat prices yesterday, as the market showed fair strength early, advancing ⅛@1c on the more favorable news from Germany and relative firmness in Liverpool. The selling against the cash grain, however, was too persistent to be readily absorbed and prices gradually eased, with the lowest figures of the day made in the last few minutes of trading. Deferred deliveries were ⅛@⅛c lower, with September closing at 51⅛c after selling at 51⅛c, a new low for the season and December was 56⅛@56⅝c.

Winnipeg Wheat Strong.

A sellers' strike is reported as developing in the southwest as the result of the low prices obtainable for cash wheat, farmers being offered as low as 24c per bu at Dighton, Kas., on Monday, with the result that every bushel possible is being held back on farms. However, since June 29 the various markets have received around 75,000,000 bu of new winter wheat, the shipments from many interior points being the largest known. There was no change in the price of the July at Kansas City, which finished at 41⅜c and failed to get as low as on Monday.

Spreading operations between Chicago and Winnipeg had considerable influence during the day, the Canadian market turning strong toward the last and closing ½c higher, with the July 55⅝c and October at 58⅛c. Liverpool was ⅛@⅜d higher, with July, 57¼c, and October, 60⅝c. The Searle Grain company, Winnipeg, in its weekly report made the condition in the three Canadian provinces 57, or the same as the previous week. The report on the basis of average yield indicated a harvest of around 210,000,000 bu or 164,000,000 bu less than last year's harvest.

Lower for Six Days.

July wheat in Chicago has closed lower for six straight days, while the final quotations on the September and December have been lower than the previous close for nine straight days, a condition that has seldom been witnessed in speculative markets.

Nearby deliveries of corn, representing the old crop, acted tight and advanced 1⅝c early on short covering and commission house buying, only to ease later with wheat and finish with net gains of ⅛@⅜c, with the July showing the most strength, closing at 57⅛@57⅜c while the September was 50⅝c. December after an early upturn of 1c weakened despite reports that rain was needed over part of the main belt, and closed ⅛c lower at 44⅝@44⅜c.

Shipping Demand Slow.

Selling against offers was a factor in checking the upturn in corn, but the market was easily influenced a good part of the day. Shipping demand was slow and country offerings to arrive small.

Commission house buying and short covering lifted oats futures ⅜c in the early trading, but the finish was about the bottom due to profit taking, final trades being unchanged to ⅛c higher, with July, 24⅝c; September, 25⅛@25, and December, 28⅛c.

North Dakota has an indicated rye crop of around 6 bu per acre, and local men figure that the net return to the producer this season will be around 60c per acre after allowing for threshing, freight and other charges, owing to the prevailing low prices. Futures were firmer early but eased and closed ⅛@⅛c lower in sympathy with wheat. July finished at 32¾c; September, 35c, and December, 38¾c.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, July 14.—With all eyes focused on the German situation the stock market was rather overlooked again today. Only about 1,100,000 shares were traded in, which just about duplicates the year's record for dullness so far.

Prices moved in the narrowest range seen in weeks, changes of more than 2 points being rare. Nobody seemed willing either to buy or sell shares of any kind. Apparently the professional element has decided to follow the suit of the rank and file, taking things easy until the European financial skies clear up once more.

Undoubtedly the prevailing sentiment in the street is bearish, due primarily to the fact that business has not shown the improvement that many had anticipated, but the possibility of a brisk rally on the announcement of the anticipated loan to Germany deters them from getting out on any short sales limb for the moment no matter how attractive the venture might appear.

No Attention to News.

No attention at all is being paid to the daily grist of industrial news so far as the record shows. Today's budget contained several items that ordinarily might have influenced some activity, including several dividend re-

TO ANY INVESTMENT ACCOUNT

AGGREGATING $100,000,000, these two bond issues, recently purchased by Halsey, Stuart & Co., offer investors of all classes—private and institutional—an opportunity for conservative investment in public utility bonds of the highest quality. Both companies serve Chicago's 3,375,000 people with practically no competition. The Commonwealth Edison Company is one of the largest electricity supply companies in the world. The Peoples Gas Light and Coke Company has served Chicago continuously for almost 81 years. Their steady progress and increased earnings reflect the experienced and far-sighted public utility management of the Insull interests.

Year's Largest Advance Is Made in June.

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

An eye opener for those who have been waiting for stock market prices to reflect a change in the industrial trend is found in the figures on June electrical power output furnished yesterday by the Middle West Utilities system.

The company, largest of the Insull holding concerns, had an increase in June power output of 5.3 per cent over the corresponding month of 1930. The output has shown consistent gains every month this year, but the increase reported for June was the largest recorded so far in 1931. The figures do not include the output of new companies acquired during the last year, it was explained.

Over Wide Area.

Serving 1,727,445 customers the operations of the company are spread over an area reaching from the southwestern states to New England, taking in 4,741 communities in thirty states. Thus the business of the company should furnish a fairly comprehensive index on the state of business in the territories serviced.

The output for June approximated 367,362,000 kilowatt hours, which compares with an output of 349,022,000 kilowatt hours in the same month last year. The increase of 5.3 per cent compares with a gain of 1.3 per cent in January of this year.

Stress Significance.

The significance of statistics on electrical power consumption has been stressed on several occasions in the last year. About six weeks ago Charles G. Dawes, Chicago financier and at the present time ambassador to England, said: "For the first evidence of the existence of that general better feeling of the masses from which springs increased mass activity in business, we must look to statistics which really measure a mass movement, say in electrical power consumption—not in the prices at which a few discouraged holders are selling stocks to a few wise buyers on the stock exchange."

STOCK TRADING DULL

Security prices on the Chicago exchange again fluctuated with a narrow area yesterday resulting in few significant changes. Speculative interest was at low ebb throughout the trading period. Professionals were wary of making important commitments with the result that only about 64,000 shares were traded in.

Despite the uncertainty of the foreign outlook there was no important liquidation. Scattered offerings depressed prices moderately in all sections of the list, but caused no serious recessions.

A few trades in Lincoln Printing shares were made following the issuance of the company's earnings report for the six months ended June 30. The statement showed net profit of $425,873, which was equivalent after dividends on the outstanding preferred stock to $2.15 a share on the common stock. This compares with net of $425,408 or $2.12 a share on common in the corresponding period of 1930.

MONEY AND EXCHANGE

Money rates are quoted by Chicago banks as follows: Customers' commercial loans, 4@5 per cent, collateral loans, 4½@5 per cent; brokers' loans, 4 per cent; commercial papers, 3¼@3¾ per cent; bankers' acceptances, ¾@1 per cent on thirty to ninety day maturities. Chicago bank clearings yesterday were $84,400,000, compared with $62,600,000 a week ago and $109,300,000 a year ago.

NEW YORK MONEY MARKET.

NEW YORK, July 14.—(AP)—Call money steady: 1¼ per cent all day. Time loans steady: 2-4 months, 1¼@1½ per cent; 5-6 months, 1½@3 per cent. Prime commercial paper, 1½@3 per cent. Bankers' acceptances unchanged. Bar silver, 28c.

FINANCIAL NOTES

The Harris Trust and Savings bank, H. M. Byllesby & Co., W. C. Langley & Co., A. C. Allyn & Co., J. Henry Schroder Banking corporation, and Chase Harris Forbes corporation are offering $4,000,000 Wisconsin Valley Electric company 4½ per cent gold notes. The notes are due July 1, 1932, and are being offered at 99½ and interest, yielding over 5 per cent. The same group is offering $2,500,000 Wisconsin Public Service corporation 4 per cent gold notes. These notes mature July 1, 1932, and are being offered at 99½ and interest, yielding over 4.5 per cent.

Detroit Trust company announces that all the outstanding first mortgage 6½ per cent bonds of the O'Connor Properties corporation, amounting to $17,500, will be redeemed on Aug. 15, 1931, at 103 and accrued interest.

Minneapolis, St. Paul and Sault Ste. Marie railroad asked the interstate commerce commission for authority to issue $12,500,000 first mortgage 5½ per cent series B in lieu of an equal amount of series A 6 per cent bonds now issued in the form of a temporary bond.

Hallgarten & Co. and Kissel, Kinnicutt & Co., fiscal agents for the province of Buenos Aires, Argentine Republic, 6 per cent refunding external sinking fund bonds, due March 1, 1961, have received from the province of Buenos Aires funds sufficient to meet the Sept. 1, 1931, loan interest requirements.

The interstate commerce commission has authorized the New Orleans, Texas and Mexico railroad to acquire the Rio Grande and Eagle Pass by purchase of its capital stock.

June quarter shipments of Cutler-Hammer, Inc., of Milwaukee, manufacturer of motor control wiring devices, meters and allied electrical items, showed an increase to $1,684,000 over $1,667,000 reported in the March quarter this year. Shipments for the first six months this year, however, totaled $3,351,000, well below the $5,205,000 for the corresponding period last year.

At a meeting of the National Electric Light association in Brainerd, Minn., the Woonsocket, S. D., district of Central West Public Service company was awarded the N. E. L. A. cup for the greatest percentage increase in domestic consumption of electricity per meter for 1930 over 1929.

Our entire building in the heart of Chicago's financial district is devoted exclusively to serving the financial and property needs of our customers

Eleven practices applied to every estate in our charge

TRUSTEESHIP is a great responsibility, ethically, legally. To properly discharge it, more thoughtful care is sometimes required than the owner of property himself would exercise. This company's position as an executor and trustee has been built up through a long period of years, by strict adherence to principles and practices which gauge the moral and legal responsibility it feels in the protection of dependent heirs and of property left for their support.

1 This company does not permit the purchase from or sale to its Bond Department of any securities for trust estates in its charge.

2 No commission or profit from any transaction for the account of an estate is ever retained by this company for itself. The sole remuneration received is the fee for its service. The fee has been standardized for each class of service and is very moderate.

3 In the investment of trust funds no single judgment prevails. Our investment methods are such that each transaction has the benefit of the judgment of a committee of trust officers experienced in investment matters. In addition, the recommendations of these officers are reviewed and approved by a committee of our Board of Directors. This assures for each trust the judgment of the best minds in the organization.

4 Investments are periodically subjected to a careful review to determine the desirability of holding or reinvesting.

5 When authorized to hold advantageous investments made by a testator, it is the policy of this company to do so as long as the best interests of the estate do not demand reinvestment.

6 Every estate is under the personal direction of an officer or senior employe—a man of seasoned experience who has at his command all the departmental resources of the institution and the counsel of directors and fellow officers.

7 Trust funds are kept separate and distinct from the assets of the bank and from each other.

8 Periodic reports are rendered to beneficiaries of the income and outgo of their accounts, in the form of actual photographs of the ledger pages.

9 The investments of small trusts receive the same conscientious, painstaking attention as that given to the investment of large estates.

10 Thoughtful attention is given to the personal welfare of beneficiaries, especially women and dependent children. The officers consider it their duty and privilege to become helpful advisers whenever permitted to do so.

Write for copy of booklet "Our Principles and Practice in Managing Estates"

These by no means exhaust provisions made for the protection of property in our care; they rather illustrate the diligence exercised in the discharge of our duties. We believe that a conference with one of our trust officers would profit anyone having property to bequeath.

COLGATE SHOWS GAIN IN HALF YEAR INCOME

Earnings of the Colgate-Palmolive-Peet company for the first half of this year exceeded those in the corresponding periods of both last year and 1929. While dollar sales receded slightly, unit sales increased and all major advertised items showed gains. Net income was $4,003,694, equivalent after preferred dividends to $1.69 a share on 1,999,970 common shares. Net income for the first half of 1930 was $3,760,625, or $1.66 a share, while earnings for the first half of 1929 were equivalent to $1.37 a share.

President Charles S. Pearce announced that advertising expenditures for the first half of 1931 exceeded those of a year ago and to this he attributed the increased unit sales and earnings. All plants have been operating virtually at capacity this year, with no salary cuts or personal reductions either in the factory or office divisions.

Master Bedding Makers Plan Large Ad Campaign

Holland, Mich., July 14.—The Master Bedding Makers of America in convention here today voted to spend $175,000 in a newspaper advertising campaign featuring the spring air mattress. The campaign will start in September and will run in forty cities from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast, according to Charles Karr, president of the Charles Karr company, Holland, who presided.

SEIBERLING TIRE REPORTS GAIN IN JUNE PROFIT

Akron, O., July 14.—(AP)—An upward trend in the tire industry was seen today after the Seiberling Rubber company had announced a net profit of $223,000 for June and the General Tire and Rubber company declared a 50 cent quarterly dividend on common stock.

Seiberling's net profit was made on sales of $1,089,000 it was learned from official sources. The rise in profit during recent months has been rapid. During March the net was $4,700, in April $65,000 and in May $95,000.

W. F. O'Neil, president of General, said the "tire business is getting better steadily," adding that "a recent survey of our principal distributors leads us to look forward to better business in the last half of 1931."

OIL FIRM WILL STOP INSTALLING STATION GADGETS

Effective Aug. 1 the Standard Oil Company of Indiana will discontinue installing, loaning, or leasing service station equipment to resellers.

Officials explained that under competitive conditions it has become customary for oil companies or other wholesalers to provide to retailers most of the equipment needed for dispensing gasoline or servicing motor cars. This practice has long been regarded in the oil industry as unsound economically, in that it has encouraged multiplicity of outlets far beyond consumer needs, with consequent waste in marketing costs.

To the Holders of
First Mortgage 4½% Gold Bonds, Series A, and 6% Gold Bonds, Series B, of Florida Public Service Company

The General Finance Corporation, by letters dated July 1, 1931, and June 29, 1931 (copies of which will be furnished upon request), has offered to the above mentioned holders the opportunity, subject to certain conditions stated in such letters, of exchanging their holdings for securities of Associated Gas and Electric Company.

The offers are as follows:

For the 6½% Series A Bonds, due 1940, in denomination of $1,0000, there will be delivered a like principal amount of Associated Gas and Electric Company 5½% Convertible Gold Debentures, due 1977, and for such bonds in denominations less than $1,000 there will be delivered $1150 principal amount of Associated Gas and Electric Company Gold Debenture Bonds, Consolidated Refunding 5% Series due 1948, for each $100 of Series A Bonds deposited;

For the 6% Series B Bonds, due 1955, there will be delivered, on a par for par basis, Associated Gas and Electric Company Gold Debenture Bonds, Consolidated Refunding 5% Series due 1968.

Interest on these exchanges will be adjusted so as to be continuous but not overlapping.

Holders will deposit their bonds with The Public National Bank and Trust Company, 70 William Street, New York City, Depositary. The Series A Bonds should bear February 1, 1932, and the Series B Bonds should have the October 1, 1931, and subsequent coupons attached.

Hogs were erratic on yesterday's session, while lightweight cattle and native lambs scored additional advances. Top steers reached the $9.00 line and western range lambs sold at $8.85. Top hogs stopped at $7.60. A year ago top cattle sold at $11.25, hogs at $9.75, and lambs at $11.50.

Best grades of light and medium weight hogs are scarce and in good demand at prevailing quotations, but extreme weights are penalized severely. The price range is at the widest point of the season. The top and average prices yesterday showed a spread of $1.30. However, a year ago at this time the range was almost as wide, with the top and average $1.15 apart.

Outside demand continues good. During the first two days of this week shippers have purchased 21 per cent of receipts, against 19 per cent a year ago and 15 per cent two years ago. Receipts are running larger than a week ago, but show a decrease of 25 per cent compared with 1930. Despite the unevenness in the hog market, the general average held steady again yesterday at $6.30.

Hog Futures Dull.

Trading in hog futures was extremely slow and quotations were unchanged. September light and medium weights were offered at $8.00, while heavy grades for September were offered at $7.50. December lights and mediums were offered at $7.50 and heavies for that month were offered at $7.00. On the "to arrive" market lightweights for today's delivery were bid $7.60, but no offers were made.

Mixed yearling steers and heifers of outstanding quality carried the top quotation to $9.00 yesterday, highest since May 20 and 50 cents above a week ago. Buyers scrambled for lightest weight stock directly after the opening. Medium and heavy stock sold slowly and some extreme weights were barely steady at the finish. Best baby beef heifers were steady, while cows ruled weak to 25 cents lower. Calves lost another 50 cents, selling $1.00 under the close of last week.

Stockers and feeders were scarce and in fair demand at strong prices. There has been a rather substantial decrease in cattle receipts compared with a week ago, but offerings are running below any corresponding period in recent years. While receipts at Chicago so far this month are smaller than a year ago, shipments from here show an increase.

Sheep Receipts Decrease.

Sheep receipts at leading markets were small yesterday. In fact, only two Tuesday totals have been smaller since early last February. Outside demand was brisk and, with local packers active competitors for the dwindling supply of top kinds, the clearance was good at steady to 25 cents higher prices.

Natives showed most strength, although top westerns moved up 10 cents at $8.85, city butchers and shippers buying at that price, while bulk went to packers at $8.75. Most natives were sorted at $8.25, with top at $8.50 for several lots. Aged sheep were firm, light ewes going at $3.50 and heavy ewes at $3.00. Yearlings were strong and feeding lambs scarce and steady.

CASH-GRAIN NEWS

Foreigners were reported as showing more interest in North American cash wheat yesterday and moderate amounts of old and new crop winters and also Manitobas were said to have been sold abroad, but the quantities were not given. There was no material change in the basis at the Gulf with No. 2 hard around ½c under Chicago September.

Chicago handlers sold 2,000 bu wheat, 79,000 bu corn, 57,000 bu oats and 2,000 bu barley to the domestic trade with 112,000 bu wheat, 38,000 bu corn and 9,000 bu oats booked to arrive. Deliveries on July contracts aggregated 51,000 bu wheat and 190,000 bu corn.

No material change was shown in the basis on cash wheat in the leading markets, although there were reports of a material falling off in sales by farmers in the southwest and Illinois due to the low prices, 24c being claimed at one point in Kansas. No. 1 red here was July price to ½c under; No. 2 red, ¼@1c under; No. 3 red, 1¼@2c under; No. 1 hard, ¼@¾c over; No. 2 hard, ½@1c under and No. 3 hard 1¼@2c under July; No. 1 yellow hard was ¾@1c under and No. 2 yellow hard 1@1¼c under July. At Kansas City ordinary No. 1 hard was 2½@3c under September.

Offerings of cash corn were not large and sold at the following premiums as compared with the July: No. 1 mixed, ¾@1c; yellow, 1¼@1½c; white, 3c; No. 2 mixed, ½@¾c; yellow, 1@1¼c; white, 2½c; No. 3 yellow, ½@¾c; white, 1@1¼c. No. 3 mixed brought July price.

Demand for cash oats was fair with the basis steady. No. 2 white was ¾@1¼c over September and No. 3 white, ¾@¾c over the future. No. 2 rye was nominally July price to 5c over.

Official receipts of grain at Chicago Tuesday; Wheat, 310 cars; corn, 56 cars; oats, 10 cars; rye, 1 car; barley 8 cars.

BUTTER AND EGGS RALLY

Early declines in butter and egg futures on the Chicago Mercantile exchange were swept aside yesterday in a steady buying movement which carried prices of both commodities up 4c at the close. Potato futures were quiet. Idaho Rods, 7c, while round whites unchanged and Green Mountains were up 1c. Pressure developed at the opening in November butter and eggs as a result of the monthly storage reports which were construed as bearish. Losses of ¼ to 4c were recorded. Later, the daily and weekly storage reports were bullish and buying developed quickly. The daily egg report showed a net outward movement from storage, said to be the first time in history that such a movement has recorded at this time of year. There were 12,000 cases less eggs stored than on the same date last year. Sales: Butter, 42 cars; eggs, 96 cars; potatoes, 10 cars. Deliveries: Butter, 1 car. Prices follow:

SHORTS BUY LARD

Shorts were good buyers of lard, with packers the principal sellers, hedging their product. There was a good advance early, followed by a recession and a close 7½@10c net higher for the day. Unsettled conditions in grains, stocks and foreign finances tended to reduce commitments. Liverpool lard was 3d lower. Export clearances were 260,000 lbs of lard and 121,000 lbs of bacon. NEWS OF CROPS

The Searle Grain company of Winnipeg in its weekly crop summary shows deterioration checked as a result of the rains of the last three weeks, but no improvement, the weighted average of the three provinces being 57 per cent, unchanged from the preceding two weeks. The plant averages 17 inches high in Alberta; 14 inches in Saskatchewan, and 15 inches in Manitoba, with generally 50 per cent headed averaging slightly over 2 inches.

A report from Sanborn county, South Dakota, to Bartlett-Frazier company says spring wheat, while having made plenty of straw, is almost a total failure as far as grain is concerned, and that both wheat and oats are showing the damage done by the excessive heat of two weeks ago and many fields are a total failure.

Small grains are two-thirds cut in the vicinity of Storm Lake, Ia., according to reports to J. E. Bennett & Co. Yields and quality spotted. Wheat yielding from 8 to 12 bu, testing 54 to 57 lbs. Barley testing 33 to 43 lbs. A bumper crop of corn is in prospect if there is a continuation of timely showers. Oats are thrashing out 20 bu per acre near Maxwell, Ia. Their representative at Sioux City says:

"No oats thrashed as yet, but looks like around 40 to 50 bu per acre. Prospects for corn were never better. It is from 5 to 7 feet tall, perfect stand and good color. A few fields have started to tassel and shoot ears.

WORLD'S GRAIN MARKET NEWS

It is the impression of most grain traders that until the foreign financial situation is clarified, bulges are to be short lived, especially as long as hedging pressure continues probably the largest known at this season. There has never been a time when there was so much winter wheat to be hedged in the southwest and with middle west hedging assuming larger proportions daily, the trade is carrying an immense load, especially considering the moderate volume of speculation, large receipts, and poor export demand.

Leaders in the grain trade say that the value of trading in grain futures has been worth millions of dollars to the farming interests of the country, as the speculative element has taken upwards of 100,000,000 bu of hedges within the last few weeks during the record movement of new wheat from the southwest. That these millions of bushels should be absorbed within a range of about 3 cents indicates that the future market is the best and most economical system for handling an immense volume of business at a minimum of cost that has been used.

The break of Monday, putting wheat at 35 to 37 cents in the country around Danville, Ill., dried up offerings completely. The price went to 24 cents at Dighton, Kas.

Private London cables report that Russia fixed an additional 70,000 tons July to December. This makes total Russia charterings 1,000,000 tons, which is equal to approximately 37,300,000 bu.

Although prices are the lowest of the season and stocks of wheat the largest known, there is a fair amount of confidence among the pit traders, who come in on every weak spot and help to support the market.

In a review of the wheat situation, S. C. Harris says that he cannot avoid the conclusion that prices in North America are relatively too high and, accordingly, to those who are friendly to investment in wheat at these levels, he suggests the outright ownership of Liverpool October wheat at 60 cents. September wheat in Chicago closed yesterday at 51⅞ cents.

While the big movement of winter wheat is on traders are inclined to overlook the fact that the spring wheat crop in the American and Canadian northwest is the smallest in years and it has to undergo many vicissitudes before it is harvested.

A Kansas City holder of corn sold 15,000 bu to a Chicago industry yesterday. July corn in Chicago yesterday was strong and gained ¼ cent, being almost 7 cents over September and 6¾ cents over July wheat. It is regarded as one of the most peculiar situations that the trade has known and is taken as an indication that the market is in good hands.

RUST IN MANITOBA

Rust has developed in spring wheat in southern Manitoba, but its appearance is later than usual, according to the weekly telegraphic crop summary issued by the Canadian government. Harvesting is under way in Ontario with good yields reported. Good rains were received during the last week in southeastern Manitoba and northeastern Saskatchewan, and there was continued improvement in the outlook for the wheat crop, but it is becoming more and more evident that the moisture was received too late to help the crop in the large central areas. Heavy hail damage was experienced in parts of Saskatchewan.

AVAILABLE GRAIN STOCKS

World's available supply of wheat, as compiled by Bradstreets, decreased 16,000 bu last week. Corn in the United States and Canada increased 392,000 bu and oats increased 238,000 bu. Details follow:

LET OTHER FOLKS' VACATIONS
PAY FOR YOURS!

Maybe fishing has lost its lure for you. Maybe you've given up the idea of a motor tour for your vacation. Or maybe you've decided not to return to your summer home this year.

How would you like to make money out of your change in preference? You can do it. Hundreds of families would enjoy exactly the kind of vacation you enjoyed last year, and would gladly pay for the opportunity. Right now they are buying automobiles for their tours, tackle for their fishing expeditions, cottages for their rest and relaxation.

These facts actually enable you to make money out of your last year's vacation. Sell the car you won't use to people who will need it. Sell the camping, fishing and boating equipment that will otherwise lie idle. Make an asset out of your summer home by selling or renting it now. The proceeds can help pay for whatever you want to do this year!

Tribune want ads can find interested parties for you. People who want exactly the things you have to sell constantly refer to the Tribune Want Ad section. This is the place for you to catch their eyes!

MORE COTTON CONSUMED; MILLS ARE GOOD BUYERS

Consumption of cotton in the United States in June was 455,338 bales against 465,770 bales in May and 405,230 in June, 1930. Consumption as given by the Census bureau for 11 months ended June 30, were 4,820,430 bales, against 5,726,818 bales in the previous season.

Local traders were heavy sellers early, with the mills the principal buyers. Presumably based on the consumptive figures. The bullish considerations, however, were overlooked owing to the unsettled financial condition in Europe and the weakness in stocks and the late decline in grains. The day's range was the smallest of late and the closed unchanged to 8 points net lower on futures in Chicago and 2@5 points off in other markets. Spots were unchanged in New York at 9.10c. New Orleans 5 points off at 8.90c, Galveston was 9.05c and Houston 8.90c. Liverpool was strong and closed 3@9 points net higher with spot sales 4,000 bales.

Stocks of cotton in consumers' hands June 30 were 853,338 bales against 231,560 bales last year. There were 27,796,910 spindles active in June, compared with 27,659,808 spindles in the year previous. Prices follow:

STUDEBAKER USED CARS AT WHOLESALE PRICES!

EXCEPTIONALLY LIBERAL TIME PAYMENT PLAN

Studebaker's prices are so low that out of town dealers would find it profitable to purchase cars from us and then resell them at higher figures. If you want to make a substantial saving, investigate our values at once. Every used car is backed by five days' free driving trial.

STUDEBAKER PHAETON. Sport model with glass sides, snubbers, bumpers, spare tire, etc. Has a sweet running motor and attractive appearance. Reduced to $145.

CADILLAC SEDAN. Model 314 seven pass. that was owned by a wealthy family and given expert attention by the chauffeur. The appearance is very attractive and the motor performs smoothly and quietly. Very fully equipped. Reduced to $295.

LINCOLN SEDAN-LIMOUSINE. Seven pass. that was owned by a wealthy family and given careful attention. Like every piece of the interior and exterior is like new. Has a smooth, powerful motor. $345.

ESSEX SPORT COUPE. 1930 with wire wheels and every essential extra. This Essex is equal in construction with the Pierce-Arrow and a Studebaker and result is it was given very little use. Now it's topnotch in every respect. Reduced to $385.

NASH SEDAN, '29 mdv. 6. The finish has not a mar on it and the upholstery is luxurious. Has a number of extras. Nash was traded in at a very favorable price, so we'll pass on the saving to you. Now $345. Also a 1928 6 wire wheel job, Nash Ambassador sedan that's A-1 in every particular, for $485.

CHRYSLER SEDAN. 1929 model 65 that looks and runs as though it had never been driven a mile. This Chrysler will satisfy the most exacting buyer, and we will not remain long at our reduced price of $495.

BUICK COUPE. 1930 std. 6. Here is a car that will satisfy the most exacting buyer. The inside appointments are beautiful and the finish flawless. Like new dollar. Motor is smooth and powerful. Reduced to $645.

STUDEBAKER ROADSTER. 1929 President str. 8 with roomy rumble seat. Duoed a handsome chocolate brown. Fine leather upholstery. Has every one of the many extras. This roadster has low slung lines and a world of power and pep. $695. Also a 1928 STUDEBAKER PRES. 8 VICTORIA, 4 pass., with wire wheels, side mounts, etc. Like new in every respect. Special for $695.

PACKARD 6 SEDAN. '28 model that's equipped with many extras. The finish sparkles like new dollar and the motor is very distinguished. Motor could not be improved. Will not remain long at our price of $695.

HUDSON 8 COUPE. 1931 with aluminum wire wheels, side mounts, and many valuable extras. Actually driven only a few hundred miles. It certainly is 100% in all details. Special for $785.
